Charlotte has scanned documents that had any plausible connection with the Jackson investigation, specifically, those documents that referred to Buford Posey. These images are on the enclosed compact disc. More documents exist than were included, however most were related to general KKK activity during the period in North Carolina. If Jackson determines that more of these records are needed for review, they can be provided in a similar format.

EDGAR RAY KILLEN,
Kleagle (Recruiter),
WHITE KNIGHTS OF KU KLUX KLAN;
JAMES EARL CHANEY-VICTIM;
MICHAEL HENRY SCHWERNER-VICTIM;
ANDREW GOODMAN-VICTIM;
Character: RACIAL DISCRIMINATION-VIOLENCE

Synopsis:

In June 1964, James Chaney, Michael Schwerner and Andrew Goodman, three young civil rights workers, disappeared outside Philadelphia, Mississippi, where they had been involved in registering African-American voters. Given the racial climate in Mississippi during the 1960s, President Lyndon B. Johnson ordered the Department of Justice to intervene in the investigation, causing approximately one hundred and fifty FBI Special Agents to converge on Mississippi. This immediate response was followed by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover flying to Jackson, on Air Force One, to officially dedicate the opening of the Jackson FBI Field Office. Prior to this opening, FBI investigative matters in northern Mississippi were managed by the Memphis FBI Field Office while investigative matters in southern Mississippi were managed by the New Orleans FBI Field Office.

This investigation was code named MIBURN an acronym for "Mississippi Burning" and became one of the largest investigations ever conducted in the State of Mississippi. As a result, in August 1964, the bodies of the three civil rights workers were found buried in an earthen dam near Philadelphia, Mississippi. Ultimately, seven men were convicted of federal conspiracy charges and sentenced to prison terms ranging from three to ten years.

ADMINISTRATIVE

This investigation was re-opened to provide investigative assistance to the Mississippi Attorney General's Office and the Neshoba County District Attorney's Office. KILLEN could not be charged with a Civil Rights (CR) statute under Title 18 of the Federal Criminal Code due to the expiration of the statute of limitations. Although the Department of Justice (DOJ) did not have jurisdiction in the matter, KILLEN could and was charged with three counts of murder in state court. Given the FBI conducted the original CR investigation, all evidence related to KILLEN's involvement was in the custody and control of the FBI. This information was provided to local prosecutors as well as the FBI conducting a supplemental investigation. Inasmuch as the DOJ did not have jurisdiction in the prosecution of KILLEN, the Jackson Division of the FBI is considered this matter closed.

MIBURN Facts

In 1964, the FBI investigated the disappearance of three civil rights workers and found the bodies of Michael Henry Schwerner, Andrew Goodman, and James Earl Chaney buried in the vicinity of Philadelphia, Neshoba County, Mississippi. Subsequent to several arrests and indictments being dismissed by the United States District Court (USDC) for the Southern District of Mississippi (SDM), the charges were re-instated by United States Supreme Court, and again dismissed by USDC, SDMS, on February 28, 1967. Eventually, nineteen subjects were indicted by a Federal Grand Jury and, after trial by jury beginning on Monday, October 9, 1967, seven subjects were convicted of civil rights violations. There was no state criminal homicide prosecution of persons responsible for the murders.

KILLEN's Involvement in 1964 Murders

A review of the MIBURN case file and confidential informant files revealed that EDGAR RAY KILLEN, a thirty eight year old, ordained Baptist minister, actively recruited members into the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan thereby giving him the title of Klan Kleagle. KILLEN, the owner of a local sawmill and a former unsuccessful candidate for sheriff, was a "marginal character" until Sam Bowers, Imperial Wizard of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, appointed him "Kleagle," or Klavern recruiter and organizer, for the Neshoba and Lauderdale County Klan. KILLEN was successful in these duties, as evidenced by the seventy men who met, on June 16, 1964, in Meridian to plan a trip to Mount Zion Church in Longdale, Mississippi where they hoped to find and kill Michael Schwerner. Instead of encountering Schwerner, they found only local African-Americans, who were badly beaten before the Klan burned their church.

During 1964, members of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) were leading a massive voter registration campaign in Mississippi called "Freedom Summer." Prior to June 21, 1964, Michael Schwerner, despised by the Klan and known as "Goatee," had traveled to Mississippi and spoken with the African-American community concerning their rights to register as voters. On one such occasion, because Schwerner spoke to an African-American church congregation, the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan appeared at the church and intimidated the congregation. Based on this incident, KILLEN became knowledgeable of Schwerner's identity and activities. After this initial trip to Mississippi, Schwerner returned to New York. During this time frame, KILLEN received authorization from Sam Bowers to "eliminate" Schwerner. In an effort to lure Schwerner back to Mississippi, KILLEN organized the burning of the church where this meeting was held. KILLEN also participated in organizing the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan to confront Schwerner when he returned to Mississippi.

Multiple witnesses provided the FBI with information that detailed KILLEN's "planning and orchestration" of the civil rights worker's murders. This information included, but is not limited to, KILLEN's carefully planned alibi wherein he attended a wake in Meridian on the night of the murders and later attempted to dispose of the weapons allegedly used to murder the workers. On the day of the murders, KILLEN contacted Cecil Price, a Neshoba County sheriff's deputy, to advise local Klansmen that Price was holding the three civil rights workers for their later "disposal." After KILLEN received word from Price that Schwerner and the other two civil rights workers were being held in jail, he traveled to Meridian, Mississippi where he met with other Klan members at the Longhorn Drive-In. Telephone calls were made and a group was assembled for a trip that evening to Neshoba County. A larger group of the Klan met at Akin's Mobile Homes in Meridian, Mississippi, where KILLEN informed them of the plan he had devised with Price for the three men's release shortly after sundown. He told Klan members participating in the murders to get rubber gloves and to meet near the courthouse in Philadelphia at 8:15 p.m. When the Klan arrived in Philadelphia, KILLEN took them on a drive-by of the jail that held the civil rights workers, then left to establish his alibi by attending a wake for an uncle at a local funeral home. KILLEN was later arrested with eighteen other Klansmen, on December 4, 1964. During the trial in 1967, KILLEN created a disturbance in the courtroom by passing a question to his defense attorney for a prosecution witness, Reverend Charles Johnson, that was asked during cross-examination. The question was, "Is it true that you and Michael Schwerner had tried to get young Negro males to sign statements that they would rape one white woman a week during the hot summer of 1964 here in Mississippi?" The all white jury convicted Bowers and six others, but deadlocked eleven to one in favor of KILLEN's guilt with one lone holdout who stated "she could never convict a preacher."

Recent Developments

In 1989, the FBI released approximately six hundred pages of redacted material pursuant to a request made by the Mississippi Attorney General's Office. In December 1999, pursuant to a second request from Mike Moore, then Mississippi Attorney General, forty thousand pages of the FBI's file, code named MIBURN, were released to the Mississippi Attorney General's Office in support of their homicide investigation. In 2000, this initial request was followed by the FBI releasing copies of exhibits and the current location of FBI Agents who investigated the original case. Since these two initial requests for information or investigative assistance there were no subsequent requests until 2004.

Between 1999 and 2004 several newspaper articles appearing in the Clarion-Ledger written by reporter Jerry Mitchell sought criminal prosecution of the subjects by the State of Mississippi. In two of these articles, dated March 2, 2003 and March 4, 2003, the Clarion-Ledger called for the FBI to produce its informant files and electronic surveillance material associated with MIBURN. Substantive information provided by FBI informants was contained in the forty thousand pages of the MIBURN case file previously released to the Mississippi Attorney General's Office; however, the identity of these informants have never been disclosed. [REDACTED]

On May 26, 2004, United States Attorney Dunn Lampton, Southern District of Mississippi, advised the Jackson Field Office of the FBI that Jim Hood, Mississippi Attorney General (Mike Moore's successor), would request, by letter, the MIBURN investigation be re-opened to pursue possible murder indictment(s). This request was in response to a Clarion-Ledger newspaper article dated May 25, 2004 titled Philadelphia Residents Seek Justice, '64 slayings still haunt city. Jim Hood's letter, made an official request for FBI assistance by his re-opening of this investigation.

On August 19, 2004, Robert J. Garrity, Jr., Special Agent in Charge, Jackson FBI Field Office, attended a meeting at the office of United States Attorney Dunn Lampton. Also present during this meeting were Mississippi Attorney General (MAG) Jim Hood, Assistant Attorney General [REDACTED] Attorney General [REDACTED] Assistant United States Attorney [REDACTED] Executive Assistant United States Attorney [REDACTED] and Neshoba County District Attorney [REDACTED]

On September 28, 2004, a confidential informant who was currently providing information to the FBI and who has requested his/her identity remain anonymous advised that EDGAR RAY KILLEN still resided in the Neshoba County, Mississippi area. The informant characterized KILLEN as "getting up in age, but still gets around quite a bit." The confidential informant further advised that KILLEN is known throughout Neshoba County as one of the subjects in the 1964 murder of three civil rights workers, who often jokes that he "never got caught" and claims that he thinks all of attention in the media on the issue is "funny."

On September 29, 2004, the Jackson Division of the FBI conducted a surveillance in Neshoba County, Mississippi to verify KILLEN's current residence. Through this surveillance, a white Mercury, bearing Mississippi license 502-NEA and registered to EDGAR RAY KILLEN was associated with 10561 Road 515, Union, Mississippi, 39365. A white male, wearing khaki overalls was observed standing in the front yard and is believed to be [REDACTED]

On October 4, 2004, the FBI contacted [redacted] under the guise of verifying KILLEN's attendance at the Mississippi State Fair, to determine KILLEN's health condition. [redacted] advised the FBI agents that she resides at the aforementioned address [redacted] EDGAR RAY KILLEN, and [redacted] whose name she did not provide. She verified that EDGAR RAY was inside the residence, but was "unavailable" and could not speak with the interviewing agents. When questioned concerning [redacted] appearance at the Mississippi State Fair, [redacted] confirmed that EDGAR RAY would not be making an appearance.

[redacted] was further questioned concerning EDGAR RAY's well-being and general health condition. She informed the interviewing agents that EDGAR RAY still "works" his cows, operates a sawmill that is on their property and occasionally preaches when called upon. With the exception of a breathing problem mentioned by [redacted] her general characterization of EDGAR RAY, indicated he was in good health.

On October 4, 2004, the FBI contacted [redacted] to establish KILLEN's health condition. He informed the interviewing agents that he does not associate with EDGAR RAY on a frequent basis and does not share in the care of cattle on the family property. EDGAR RAY owns a few head of cows that he works on his own without [redacted] assistance. EDGAR RAY does not currently work at the sawmill, but does involve himself in a logging operation. In addition to this activity, EDGAR RAY preaches periodically and, according to [redacted] "gets around okay." EDGAR RAY lives [redacted] and [redacted] and was characterized as "a good family man." [redacted] described EDGAR RAY as someone who will do anything to help people, including African-Americans. Finally, [redacted] believed EDGAR RAY "talked too much" and that he was not guilty of any involvement in the 1964 murders of the three civil rights workers.

On October 4, 2004, [redacted] were located and interviewed at their residences. Two attempts were made to locate and interview [redacted] at her residence with negative results. Likewise, an attempt was made to locate and interview [redacted] at his residence with negative results.

On October 5, 2004, through contacts with the United States Attorney's Office for the Southern District of Mississippi, it was determined that William Cox (presiding judge in the 1967 trial) is deceased. Through contacts with former FBI agents it was determined that John Proctor (FBI agent assigned to the Meridian office in 1964), Frank Watts, John B. "Jack" Rucker (FBI agents assigned to the Jackson office in 1964) and John Sullivan (FBI inspector sent to Mississippi by J. Edgar Hoover) were all deceased. These four agents were considered to be the most knowledgeable of the investigation. As an added note, Gene Hackman's character in the 1988 movie Mississippi Burning was loosely based on Proctor's role in the investigation while Willem Dafoe's character was loosely based on Sullivan's role in the investigation. James Tucker, former United States Attorney for the Southern District of Mississippi, provided contact information for John Doar (prosecuting attorney in the 1967 trial) as a partner in the law firm of Doar Rieck & Mack, 217 Broadway, Suite 707, New York, New York, telephone number (212) 619-3730.

On or about October 8, 2004, Billy Ray Posey's [REDACTED] was contacted to arrange an interview with Posey; however, [REDACTED] speaking on behalf of Posey declined the interview.

On October 12, 2004, [REDACTED] [REDACTED] Public Integrity Division, Office of the Attorney General, State of Mississippi requested the FBI's assistance in resolving two issues.

1. Locate and provide [REDACTED] with a copy of the trial transcript from 1967.
2. Locate and provide [REDACTED] with a copy of the warrant used to search the Olen Burgess Farm (location of buried bodies).

In response to [REDACTED] request, a copy of the aforementioned warrant and transcript were released to the Mississippi Attorney General's Office.

During November 2004, Jim Ingram, former FBI supervisor assigned to the MIBURN investigation, was contacted concerning this matter. Ingram informed the FBI that former FBI agents [REDACTED] [REDACTED] were directly involved in the MIBURN investigation. [REDACTED] was present when the bodies were exhumed and had compiled a historical record containing persons, places and events that would be made available to the FBI. In February 2005, Ingram entered into a contractual agreement with the FBI to assist with the investigation.

A review of FBI files revealed the following witnesses provide direct testimony in reference to KILLEN's involvement:

Informants

In order to better evaluate this matter for prosecution, Hood requested the precise number of informants who had assisted the FBI in this investigation, which informants are still living and the amount each was paid by the FBI. During October and November of 2004, the Jackson Field Office of the FBI reviewed the MIBURN case file and identified one hundred and sixty confidential informants who could be associated with the case file but not necessarily having provided information directly related to the investigation. From this list, each individual was fully identified and searched in various public domain databases to determine current whereabouts and whether or not they were deceased. From the original list of one hundred and sixty confidential informants, it was determined that ninety five are deceased and sixty five are still alive or there was insufficient information to determine their current status. Each individual file for the remaining sixty five was reviewed to determine the nature of information provided to the FBI. This review revealed that most of the files contained Klan activity throughout Mississippi during the period beginning in January 1959 and ending in December 1973 with some information directly related to the MIBURN investigation; however, the majority of the information was not directly related to the investigation. In general, the information provided by the confidential informants related to bombings, church burnings and identities of Ku Klux Klan members.

One confidential informant was identified as "anonymous" [redacted] [redacted] A common thread that runs through the case file and many confidential informant files is KILLEN's efforts to identify the confidential informant [redacted]

[redacted] The Klan maintained several theories concerning the identity of the confidential informant and at one point left a dead chicken on an individual's front porch as a warning that he/she had been identified by the Klan as the "FBI snitch." A thorough review of the MIBURN case file and informant files revealed the person identified by the Klan was never a confidential informant. Other theories among Klan membership included KILLEN as the "FBI informant" who was paid $30,000 for his information. The anonymous informant's identity was only known to [redacted] and to date has never been identified by the FBI.

Two FBI confidential informants who provided the best information and did not testify in the 1967 trial were identified; however, the FBI agents that "handled" these informants are deceased. Indictment and Trial

On January 6, 2005, EDGAR RAY KILLEN was indicted by a Neshoba County grand jury on three counts of murder with trial set for April 2005. On March 10, 2005, KILLEN sustained two broken legs in a logging accident delaying his trial. On June 21, 2005, KILLEN was convicted by a Neshoba County jury for three counts of man slaughter and sentenced to serve sixty years. The jury deadlocked on first degree murder charges alleged in the indictment. During post trial media coverage, the Clarion-Ledger reported that jurors would have voted to convict KILLEN on murder charges but the prosecution had not presented sufficient evidence.

Prosecution witnesses called to testify during KILLEN's trial were as follows:

Details: Based on a recent request by the United States Attorney's Office for the Southern District of Mississippi, the Sixth Circuit Court District for the State of Mississippi and the Mississippi Attorney General (MAG), the Jackson Division re-opened captioned investigations. These investigations focus on requests made by the aforementioned prosecutors and the examination of all informant files associated with the original investigations.

Furthermore, the Jackson Division of the FBI

Based on this new development and complexity of information produced during the original MIBURN and GLOVER investigations, the Jackson Division has solicited the assistance of Special Agent Jim Ingram (retired) to identify potential witnesses. Ingram acted as the Supervisory Special Agent for civil rights matters investigated by the Jackson Division during the both investigations and subsequent prosecutions. This involvement has provided Ingram with a unique knowledge of agents' participation in the investigation and their current whereabouts, personal knowledge of informants who provided information to the FBI and knowledge of witnesses. It is anticipated that, upon preliminary approval of funding, the Jackson Division will prepare a "Scope of Work Contractual Agreement" designating Ingram as a sole source that will be submitted to FBIHQ for approval. After conferring with Ingram

RE: Edgar Ray Killen Conviction

Dear Sirs:

On June 21, 2005, Edgar Ray Killen, a Ku Klux Klan member, was convicted by a Neshoba County, Mississippi, court jury of Manslaughter for the 1964 deaths of Michael Schwerner, James Chaney and Andrew Goodman.

In 1964, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), in response to the disappearance of these three civil rights workers who were engaged in African-American voter registration in Mississippi, launched an investigation into their disappearance. Hundreds of FBI Special Agents were sent to Mississippi to participate in the investigation that acquired the now historic title, MISSISSIPPI BURNING. The investigation located the bodies of Schwerner, Chaney and Goodman and resulted in the 1967 indictment of 19 persons for violation of the constitutionally protected civil rights of the murdered victims. This indictment resulted in the conviction of seven persons, the acquittal of eight, and a mistrial concerning three persons, including Killen. There was no state prosecution of any person for the murders of Schwerner, Chaney and Goodman until 2005.

In 1999, in response to a request from the Mississippi Attorney General's Office, the FBI produced copies of over 40,000 pages of investigative file information, photographs, exhibits, and forensic evidence from the original case file, to prepare for a state investigation of the three murders. The FBI also reviewed its informant data base and provided information to assist the state investigation. It was this documentation and assistance that were the core of the state's investigation and caused the Neshoba County Grand Jury to indict Killen on January 6, 2005, for the murders of Schwerner, Chaney and Goodman. The Neshoba County District Attorney used the documentation and the 1967 trial testimony of deceased to convict Killen of three counts of Manslaughter on June 21, 2005; the only conspirator, to date, convicted in the deaths of Schwerner, Chaney and Goodman.

The 2005 conviction of Killen is a testament to the professional law enforcement performance of all FBI Agents who participated in the 1964 investigation. A review of the case file disclosed a thorough investigation and documentation of detailed investigative reports of persons and the crime scene, which vividly and accurately captured and recorded information that led to Killen's conviction. The 2005 investigation was assisted by former Special Agent James Ingram, who, as a participant in the 1964 investigation, brought history to life and provided guidance and background information concerning the original investigation that assisted and advanced both the investigative and prosecutive teams in the 2005 investigation.

It is my privilege to commend all the former agents of the FBI who participated in the 1964 investigation and who are now members of the Mississippi Chapter of the Society of Former Special Agents of the FBI for their performance of duty during that investigation. It was their legacy that caused Killen's conviction and provided closure to this historical American civil rights era crime.

With respect,

Robert S. Mueller III

Whether an investigation pertains to a current event or activity, or a "cold-case" requiring investigation or "reinvestigation" (i.e., Emmett Till; Charles Eddie Moore; Henry Hezekiah Dee, Et Al), they all require time consuming, pain staking detail. The current organization of the CRP is not only unfair to the division's program coordinator and the individual SAs assigned to work CR matters, it is

Dear [redacted]

In 1964, the FBI launched a large-scale investigation into the disappearance in Mississippi of civil rights workers Michael Schwerner, James Chaney, and Andrew Goodman, who were engaged in African-American voter registration in that state. Acquiring the memorable and now-historic title, MISSISSIPPI BURNING, the investigation resulted in the location of the bodies of the three murdered men and the 1967 indictment in federal court of 19 persons for violating their constitutionally protected civil rights. This indictment resulted in the convictions of seven defendants, the acquittal of eight more, and a mistrial concerning three of those charged, including Ku Klux Klan member Edgar Ray Killen. Then, thirty years later, the FBI provided invaluable assistance to the State of Mississippi when it initiated an investigation and, ultimately, a prosecution of Killen for the murders.

In response to a 1999 request by the Mississippi Attorney General's Office, which was overseeing the newly constituted state investigation of the three murders, the FBI furnished over 40,000 pages of investigative information, photographs, exhibits, and forensic evidence from the original case file, along with current FBI database material. This information and evidence were at the core of the state's investigation and led to Killen's indictment in January 2005 for the murders of Schwerner, Chaney, and Goodman. At trial, the Neshoba County District Attorney used this documentation and the 1967 trial testimony of deceased witnesses to gain a conviction of Killen on June 21, 2005, on three counts of Manslaughter. To date, Killen is the only individual believed to be a conspirator who has been convicted in state court in the deaths of the men.

The 2005 conviction of Killen serves as a testament to the professionalism of the FBI Special Agents who participated in the MISSISSIPPI BURNING investigation. A review of the case file disclosed a thorough investigation and documentation of detailed investigative reports regarding persons and the crime scene, which vividly and accurately captured information that led ultimately to Killen's conviction. Of special note regarding the State of Mississippi's investigation was the assistance provided by former FBI Special Agent James Ingram. Mr. Ingram, a participant in the 1964 investigation, provided guidance and background information concerning those original efforts which helped significantly to advance the work of the Mississippi authorities.

It is my privilege to commend all of the former Special Agents of the FBI who participated in the Bureau's 1964 MISSISSIPPI BURNING probe for their fine performance of duty throughout that investigation. The ability of the State of Mississippi to ultimately bring Killen to justice remains largely their legacy, and they can forever be proud of their efforts.

MIBURN AND EMMETT LOUIS TILL
CIVIL RIGHTS MATTERS

Introduction

In June 1964, James Chaney, Michael Schwerner, and Andrew Goodman, three young civil rights workers, disappeared outside Philadelphia, Mississippi, where they had been involved in registering African-American voters. Given the racial climate in Mississippi during the 1960s, President Lyndon B. Johnson ordered the Department of Justice to intervene in the investigation, causing approximately one hundred and fifty FBI Special Agents to converge on Mississippi. This immediate response was followed by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover flying to Jackson on Air Force One and officially dedicating the opening of Jackson's FBI Field Office.

This investigation was code named MIBURN, an acronym for "Mississippi Burning," and became one of the largest investigations ever conducted in the State of Mississippi. As a result, in August 1964, the bodies of the three civil rights workers were found buried in an earthen dam near Philadelphia, Mississippi. Ultimately, seven men were convicted of federal conspiracy charges and sentenced to prison terms ranging from three to ten years.

On August 24, 1955, Emmett Louis Till, a fourteen-year-old black male from Chicago, Illinois, visiting relatives in Leflore County, Mississippi, entered the Bryant Grocery & Meat Market in the town of Money, Mississippi. Till exited the store; shortly thereafter, Carolyn Bryant, the store owner's wife, exited as well. Upon Carolyn Bryant's exit, Till whistled at Bryant. The relatives accompanying him knew his whistle would cause trouble and they left in haste, taking Till with them.

On August 28, 1955, at approximately 2:30 a.m., Roy Bryant (Carolyn Bryant's husband), J.W. Milam, and at least one other person appeared at the home of Mose Wright, Till's great uncle, looking for the boy who had "done the talking" in Money, and abducted Till from the home. Following Till's abduction, Roy Bryant and J.W. Milam were arrested by the Leflore County Sheriff's Department and charged with kidnaping.

On August 31, 1955, a naked body presumed to be Till's, was found floating in a section of the Tallahatchie River, running along the border between Tallahatchie and Leflore Counties. A seventy-five pound cotton gin fan was tied with barbed wire to the neck of the floating body and there was extensive trauma to the head. Upon discovery of the body and its subsequent identification as Emmett Till, Roy Bryant and J. W. Milam were indicted on charges of murder in Tallahatchie County.

From September 19, 1955, through September 23, 1955, Roy Bryant and J.W. Milam were tried for Till's murder in the Circuit Court, Second Judicial District of Tallahatchie County, Seventeenth Judicial District of Mississippi, and acquitted.

On November 8, 1955, a Grand Jury in Leflore County met to consider kidnaping charges against Milam and Bryant. The Grand Jury returned a No Bill; no other charges, to date, have been filed on Milam, Bryant, or any other person in connection with Till's kidnaping and murder.

Milam and Bryant later confessed to William Bradford Huie, a reporter, that they had kidnaped and murdered Till, and the account was published in Look magazine on January 24, 1956.

J.W. Milam died in 1981; Roy Bryant died in 1994. The trial judge, Curtis M. Swango, Jr., the Court Reporter, James T. O'Day, prosecuting attorneys, Gerald Chatam, Robert B. Smith, III, and Hamilton Caldwell, defense attorneys J. J. Breland, C. Sidney Carlton, J.W. Kellum, and John W. Whitten are deceased. Defense attorney Harvey Henderson is the sole surviving court officer who participated in the trial. Additionally, the original court, District Attorney, and investigative records related to the 1955 investigation have apparently been lost.

To date, with the exception of the original 1955 investigation, no further investigation into this matter has been conducted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Mississippi Bureau of Investigation, or any other law enforcement agency.

The instant investigation was opened on May 7, 2004, at the request of the District Attorney, 4th Judicial District, Greenwood, Mississippi, in an effort to determine if other individuals were involved in these crimes, thus bringing forth state indictments against these individuals if it is deemed appropriate.

MIBURN Facts

In 1964, the FBI investigated the disappearance of three civil rights workers and found the bodies of Michael Henry Schwerner, Andrew Goodman, and James Earl Chaney buried in the vicinity of Philadelphia, Neshoba County, Mississippi. Subsequent to several arrests and indictments being dismissed by the United States District Court (USDC) for the Southern District of Mississippi (SDM), the charges were re-instated by United States Supreme Court and again dismissed by USDC, SDMS, on February 28, 1967. Eventually, nineteen subjects were indicted by a Federal Grand Jury and, after trial by jury beginning on Monday, October 9, 1967, seven subjects were convicted of civil rights violations. There was no state criminal homicide prosecution of persons responsible for the murders.

A review of the MIBURN case file and confidential informant files revealed EDGAR RAY KILLEN, a thirty-eight year old ordained Baptist minister, actively recruited members into the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, thereby giving him the title of Klan Kleagle. KILLEN, the owner of a local sawmill and former unsuccessful candidate for sheriff, was a "marginal character" until Sam Bowers, Imperial Wizard of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, appointed him "Kleagle," or Klavern recruiter and organizer, for the Neshoba and Lauderdale County Klan. KILLEN was successful in these duties, as evidenced by the seventy men who attended a June 16, 1964, meeting in Meridian, planning a trip to Mount Zion Church in Longdale, Mississippi, where they hoped to kill Michael Schwerner. Instead of encountering Schwerner, they found only local African-Americans, who were badly beaten before the Klan burned their church.

During 1964, members of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) were leading a massive voter registration campaign in Mississippi called "Freedom Summer." Prior to June 21, 1964, Michael Schwerner, despised by the Klan and known as "Goatee," had traveled to Mississippi and spoken with the African-American community concerning their rights to register as voters. On one such occasion, because Schwerner spoke to an African-American church congregation, the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan appeared at the church and intimidated the congregation. Based on this incident, KILLEN became knowledgeable of Schwerner's identity and activities. After this initial trip to Mississippi, Schwerner returned to New York. During this timeframe, KILLEN received authorization from Sam Bowers to "eliminate" Schwerner. In an effort to lure Schwerner back to Mississippi, KILLEN organized the burning of a church where Schwerner had recruited voters.

Multiple witnesses provided the FBI with information that detailed KILLEN's "planning and orchestration" of the civil rights workers' murders. This information included, but is not limited to, KILLEN's carefully planned alibi wherein he attended a wake in Meridian on the night of the murders and later attempted to dispose of the weapons allegedly used to murder the workers. On the day of the murders, KILLEN contacted Cecil Price, a Neshoba County sheriff's deputy, to advise local Klansmen that Price was holding the three civil rights workers for their later "disposal." After KILLEN received word from Price that Schwerner and the other two civil rights workers were being held in jail, he traveled to

CIVIL RIGHTS MATTERS

Meridian, Mississippi, where he met with other Klan members at the Longhorn Drive-In. Telephone calls were made, and a group was assembled for a trip that evening to Neshoba County. A larger group of the Klan met at Akin's Mobile Homes in Meridian, Mississippi, where KILLEN informed them of the plan he had devised with Price for the three men's release shortly after sundown. He told Klan members participating in the murders to get rubber gloves and to meet near the courthouse in Philadelphia at 8:15 p.m. When the Klan arrived in Philadelphia, KILLEN took them on a drive-by of the jail that held the civil rights workers, then left to establish his alibi by attending a wake for an uncle at a local funeral home. On December 4, 1964, KILLEN was later arrested with eighteen other Klansmen. During the trial in 1967, KILLEN created a disturbance in the courtroom by passing a question to his defense attorney to be asked to a prosecution witness. Prosecution witness Reverend Charles Johnson was asked during cross-examination: "Is it true that you and Michael Schwerner had tried to get young Negro males to sign statements that they would rape one white woman a week during the hot summer of 1964 here in Mississippi?" The all-white jury convicted Bowers and six others, but deadlocked eleven to one in favor of KILLEN's guilt with one lone holdout, who stated "she could never convict a preacher."

TILL Facts

Fifty years have passed since the events under investigation. Persons alleged to have been involved in the kidnaping and murder of Emmett Louis Till were born, raised, lived and worked in the Mississippi Delta. At the time of these events in 1955, the Mississippi Delta was a place where racial attitudes, now considered abhorrent, were the norm for a significant segment of society. "Jim Crow" laws were a framework through which the races interacted; "Negro Justice," an unwritten, de facto, separate legal system, served as the foundation for jurisprudence between blacks and whites. The sweeping reforms of the civil rights movement which occurred in the decades following these events caused vast changes, leading to the integration of the black community into main stream society.

J. W. Milam operated an agriculture service business in addition to a store in Glendora, Mississippi, and had interest in at least two other stores, one owned by his half-brother Roy Bryant, and the other by [REDACTED] [REDACTED] At least one other brother, Leslie Milam, managed a farm.

MIBURN AND EMMETT LOUIS TILL
CIVIL RIGHTS MATTERS

In 1955, the State of Mississippi was a segregated society, as was most of the South. After the Civil War, many states had enacted laws termed: "Jim Crow" or "Black Code," to maintain a separation of blacks and whites in the use of certain public facilities. By 1907, the list of public places where segregation was mandatory included theaters, water fountains, street cars, boarding houses and other public institutions. By 1955, segregation of the races was a core concept that permeated almost every aspect of Mississippi Delta society.

In the Mississippi Delta, a de facto institution of separate justice was in place for whites and blacks. The white population could rely on the normal vestments of government and call on the local sheriff's department for assistance in criminal matters. This was not the case for blacks. The black population was dealt with in a manner which some historians have called "Negro Law," a system where the gravity of the crime was determined in large part by its impact on whites.

On July 11, 1954, the Indianola Citizens Council was formed to promote segregation. The Indianola Citizens Council's plan for organization served as a model, and soon other similar segregationist groups were formed throughout Mississippi.

On October 12, 1954, the Association of Citizens Councils of Mississippi (ACCM) was formed. ACCM headquarters were initially located in Winona, Mississippi, then in 1955 moved to Greenwood, Mississippi. The Councils openly promoted the cause of segregation through legal means and did not officially advocate violence; however, at least one Council flyer of the time reflects the organization's use of intimidation and the fact that the threat of violence was sanctioned.

The Councils attempted to have an effect on the Till matter. During [redacted] research in 1963, he interviewed the jurors who rendered the acquittal of Bryant and Milam in Till's death and learned that every juror had been visited by members of the Council to make sure they (the jurors) voted "the right way."

b7c

The societal issues and realities noted above set the stage for the kidnaping of Till which occurred on August 28, 1955. The white citizens of Mississippi were bombarded daily with news surrounding the end of segregated schools, efforts by blacks to register to vote, and the heated calls for the defense of their segregated way of life. Senators, Congressmen, the State Assembly, the Governor, and most public officials were calling on the population to defend the status quo, to defy the Supreme Court implementation ruling, oppose federal efforts to enforce segregated schools, and to continue poll practices which disenfranchised blacks. The fear that they would lose control of their way of life permeated the lower socioeconomic segments of the white community. This segment of the community, in particular, believed they had the most to lose if the black community truly became equal.

Reason for developing the Killen investigation

In 1989, the FBI released approximately six hundred pages of redacted material pursuant to a request made by the Mississippi Attorney General's Office. In December 1999, pursuant to a second request from Mike Moore, then Mississippi Attorney General, forty thousand pages of the FBI's file were released to the Mississippi Attorney General's Office in support of their homicide investigation. In 2000, this initial request was followed by the FBI releasing copies of exhibits as well as the current location of FBI Agents who investigated the original case. After these two initial requests for information or investigative assistance, there were no subsequent requests until 2004.

Between 1999 and 2004, several newspaper articles appeared in the Clarion-Ledger, the largest newspaper in Mississippi, written by reporter Jerry Mitchell, wherein the newspaper sought criminal prosecution of the subjects by the State of Mississippi. In two articles, one dated March 2, 2003, and one dated March 4, 2003, the Clarion-Ledger called for the FBI to produce its informant files and electronic surveillance material associated with MIBURN. Substantive information provided by FBI informants was contained in the forty thousand pages of the MIBURN case file previously released to the Mississippi Attorney General's Office; however, the identity of these informants had never been disclosed.

On May 26, 2004, United States Attorney Dunn Lampton, Southern District of Mississippi, advised the FBI Jackson Field Office that Jim Hood, Mississippi Attorney General (Mike Moore's successor), would request, by letter, the MIBURN investigation be re-opened to pursue possible murder indictment(s). This request was in response to a Clarion-Ledger newspaper article dated May 25, 2004, titled

CIVIL RIGHTS MATTERS

Philadelphia Residents Seek Justice, '64 slayings still haunt city. Jim Hood's letter made an official request for FBI assistance by his re-opening of this investigation.

Likewise, at the request of a local district attorney, the Jackson Division of the FBI re-opened the EMMETT TILL matter to determine if there were other living persons who were involved in EMMETT TILLS' murder.

A summary of the factors considered and individuals consulted

In order to more efficiently locate and interview potential witnesses, the Jackson Division of the FBI retained the services of James O. Ingram, a retired Special Agent in Charge (SAC), who supervised the MIBURN investigation during the mid-1960s. SAC Ingram's prior knowledge of the investigation gave Jackson Division agents insight that would not have been available through any other source. SAC Ingram's involvement in the investigation was a perfect marriage between "old school" methods of investigation and "new school" technology used by agents assigned to the Jackson Division. Furthermore, SAC Ingram, following his retirement from the FBI, had served as the Director of Public Safety for the State of Mississippi, affording him the perfect background to act as a liaison between the FBI and local officials involved in the investigation. Basically, SAC Ingram and Jackson agents were given the task of recreating a 1964 investigation from forty year old file documents, court testimony, evidence, and conducting current interviews. In a similar fashion, Jackson Division agents began locating witnesses from fifty years prior to re-create the events that lead to EMMETT TILLS' murder.

While SAC Ingram began locating agents involved in the original investigation, Jackson Division agents began using state-of-the-art computer technology to catalog all written material associated with the case as well as evidence that had been retained for forty years. A database was created that contained over forty thousand pages of investigative material and three hundred volumes of informant information that had been collected by agents of the era. This database was searched and reviewed with SAC Ingram to identify informants who were still alive and could provide information pertinent to the investigation.

Through SAC Ingram's efforts, it was determined William Cox (presiding judge in the 1967 trial) was deceased, and the original prosecutor, John Doar, was living in New York, New York. SAC Ingram, through the Society of Former FBI

CIVIL RIGHTS MATTERS

Agents, determined John Proctor (FBI agent assigned to the Meridian office in 1964), Frank Watts, John B. "Jack" Rucker (FBI agents assigned to the Jackson office in 1964), and John Sullivan (FBI inspector sent to Mississippi by J. Edgar Hoover) were all deceased. These four agents were considered to be the most knowledgeable of the investigation. As an added note, Gene Hackman's character in the 1988 movie Mississippi Burning was loosely based on Proctor's role in the investigation, while Willem Dafoe's character was loosely based on Sullivan's role in the investigation. SAC Ingram identified and located [redacted] and [redacted] retired FBI agents, who were directly involved in the MIBURN investigation and testified in the 2005 trial of KILLEN. [redacted] was present when the bodies were exhumed and had compiled a historical record containing persons, places and events that was made available to the FBI, while [redacted] performed all the forensic analysis of evidence collected during the 1964 investigation.

Informants

In order to better evaluate testimony that would be used to prosecute KILLEN, Hood requested the precise number of informants who had assisted the FBI in this investigation, and which informants were still alive. During October and November of 2004, SAC Ingram and Jackson agents reviewed the MIBURN case file by loading all the information into a computer database and thereafter identifying one hundred and sixty confidential informants who could be associated with the case file, but not necessarily having provided information directly related to the investigation. The database was designed to search for names and places in order to focus attention on those informants who were directly connected to the investigation. From those informants who were identified, each one was fully searched in various public domain databases to determine current whereabouts and whether or not they were still alive. From the original list of one hundred and sixty confidential informants, it was determined that ninety five are deceased and sixty five are still alive, or there was insufficient information to determine their current status. Each individual file for the remaining sixty five was reviewed to determine the nature of information provided to the FBI. This review revealed that most of the files contained Klan activity throughout Mississippi during the period beginning in January 1959 and ending in December 1973, with some information directly related to the MIBURN investigation. In general, the information provided by the confidential informants related to bombings, church burnings, and identities of Ku Klux Klan members.

One confidential informant, identified as "anonymous," [redacted] A common thread that runs through the case file and many confidential informant files was KILLEN's efforts to identify the confidential informant [redacted]

The Klan maintained several theories concerning the identity of the confidential informant and, at one point, left a dead chicken on an individual's front porch as a warning that he/she had been identified by the Klan as the "FBI snitch." A thorough review of the MIBURN case file and informant files revealed the person identified by the Klan was never a confidential informant. Other theories among Klan membership included KILLEN as the "FBI informant" who was paid $30,000 for his information. The anonymous informant's identity was only known to Inspector Sullivan and, to date, has never been identified by the FBI.

SAC Ingram's and Jackson Division agents' painstaking review of the informant files lead to the identification of two FBI confidential informants who provided the best information and did not testify in the 1967 trial; however, one of the FBI agents that "handled" these informants was deceased. Both informants were contacted; one, [redacted] refused to assist the FBI, and the other, [redacted] agreed to cooperate and [redacted]

During interviews with the FBI in April and May of 2005, this cooperating witness stated that [redacted]

MIBURN Indictment and Trial

On January 6, 2005, EDGAR RAY KILLEN was indicted by a Neshoba County grand jury on three counts of murder with trial set for April 2005. On March 10, 2005, KILLEN sustained two broken legs in a logging accident, delaying his trial. On June 21, 2005, KILLEN was convicted by a Neshoba County jury for three counts of manslaughter and was sentenced to serve sixty years. The jury deadlocked on first degree murder charges alleged in the indictment. During posttrial media coverage, the Clarion-Ledger reported that jurors would have voted to convict KILLEN on murder charges, but the prosecution had not presented sufficient evidence.

Prosecution witnesses called to testify during KILLEN's trial were as follows:

EMMETT TILL Investigation

Jackson Division agents have completed a two-year investigation and prepared a ninety-five page report that has been forwarded to the Department of Justice and local district attorney for review.

Conclusion

Through SAC Ingram's and the Jackson Division's exhaustive investigation, sufficient evidence was presented to the Mississippi Attorney General (MAG) that lead to the successful prosecution of EDGAR RAY KILLEN after forty years. Moreover, SAC Ingram acted as a consultant to the MAG during the trial and to local law enforcement, who were charged maintaining the integrity of court proceedings.

Based on the successes of SAC Ingram and the Jackson Division, the two have teamed together and initiated an investigation into the murder of three African-Americans who were murdered by the Klan in 1965 and 1967 near Natchez, Mississippi. This investigation will be followed by more investigations of unresolved murders perpetrated by the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan that occurred between 1955 and 1967 in south Mississippi.

Newspaper articles have been attached hereto that chronicle the investigation.

Dear [Redacted]

In 1964, the FBI launched a large-scale investigation into the disappearance in Mississippi of civil rights workers Michael Schwerner, James Chaney, and Andrew Goodman, who were engaged in African-American voter registration in that state. Acquiring the memorable and now-historic title, MISSISSIPPI BURNING, the investigation resulted in the location of the bodies of the three murdered men and the 1967 indictment in federal court of 19 persons for violating their constitutionally protected civil rights. This indictment resulted in the convictions of seven defendants, the acquittal of eight more, and a mistrial concerning three of those charged, including Ku Klux Klan member Edgar Ray Killen. Then, thirty years later, the FBI provided invaluable assistance to the State of Mississippi when it initiated an investigation and, ultimately, a prosecution of Killen for the murders.

In response to a 1999 request by the Mississippi Attorney General's Office, which was overseeing the newly constituted state investigation of the three murders, the FBI furnished over 40,000 pages of investigative information, photographs, exhibits, and forensic evidence from the original case file, along with current FBI database material. This information and evidence were at the core of the state's investigation and led to Killen's indictment in January 2005 for the murders of Schwerner, Chaney, and Goodman. At trial, the Neshoba County District Attorney used this documentation and the 1967 trial testimony of deceased witnesses to gain a conviction of Killen on June 21, 2005, on three counts of Manslaughter. To date, Killen is the only individual believed to be a conspirator who has been convicted in state court in the deaths of the men.

The 2005 conviction of Killen serves as a testament to the professionalism of the FBI Special Agents who participated in the MISSISSIPPI BURNING investigation. A review of the case file disclosed a thorough investigation and documentation of detailed investigative reports regarding persons and the crime scene, which vividly and accurately captured information that led ultimately to Killen's conviction. Of special note regarding the State of Mississippi's investigation was the assistance provided by former FBI Special Agent James Ingram. Mr. Ingram, a participant in the 1964 investigation, provided guidance and background information concerning those original efforts which helped significantly to advance the work of the Mississippi authorities.

It is my privilege to commend all of the former Special Agents of the FBI who participated in the Bureau's 1964 MISSISSIPPI BURNING probe for their fine performance of duty throughout that investigation. The ability of the State of Mississippi to ultimately bring Killen to justice remains largely their legacy, and they can forever be proud of their efforts.

Sincerely yours,

v.

STATE of Mississippi.
No. 2005-KA-01393-SCT.

April 12, 2007.

Background: Defendant was convicted in the Circuit Court, Neshoba County, Marcus D. Gordon, J., of three counts of manslaughter as a lesser-included offense of murder. Defendant appealed.

Holdings: The Supreme Court, Dickinson, J., held that:

(1) state was entitled to jury instructions on manslaughter, and

(2) forty-one year delay bringing indictment for murder did not violate defendant's due process rights.

Affirmed.

Evidence was sufficient to support finding in murder trial that victims were killed during course of a kidnapping that defendant planned and participated in, and thus state was entitled to jury instructions on lesser-included offense of manslaughter; evidence showed that defendant instructed certain individuals to follow victims upon their release from jail and "tear their butts up," that defendant informed individuals that a highway patrol car would stop victims on outskirts of town, that defendant showed such individuals where to park to wait for victim, and that such individuals were present when victims were stopped, placed in patrol car, and taken to a secluded place where they were then killed. West's A.M.C. § 97-3-53.

*1 ¶ 1. During the night of June 21, 1964, several members of the Neshoba County and Lauderdale County chapters of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan (the "Klan") kidnaped and killed Michael Schwerner, James Chaney, and Andrew Goodman, and buried their bodies in an earthen dam in rural Neshoba County, Mississippi. Although the State of Mississippi prosecuted no one during that period of time for the deaths, the federal government brought charges against Edgar Ray Killen ("Killen") and seventeen others for conspiracy to violate the civil rights of Schwerner, Chaney, and Goodman. At the conclusion of the trial in October, 1967, a federal jury found seven of the defendants guilty and eight not guilty, but it was unable to agree on a verdict as to Killen and two others.^{FNI} The federal government did not retry Killen, and he remained free for thirty-eight years.

¶ 2. In January, 2005, the Grand Jury of Neshoba County indicted Killen for the deaths, and on June 21, 2005-exactly forty-one years from the date of the deaths-a Neshoba County jury found him guilty of three counts of manslaughter. Killen was sentenced to serve twenty years for each count, with the three sentences to run consecutively, for a total sentence of sixty years. Killen appeals. We affirm.

I.

[1] ¶ 3. Killen was indicted and prosecuted forty years following the deaths. We therefore think it is important to set forth in detail the facts received into evidence at the trial. Bearing in mind that our authority to interfere with a jury's verdict is limited, we must view the evidence in the light most consistent with the verdict, and we must give the prosecution "the benefit of all favorable inferences that may reasonably be drawn from the evidence." Wilson v. State, 904 So.2d 987, 995 (Miss.2004) (citing McFee v. State, 511 So.2d 130, 133 (Miss.1987)). Consistent with this standard of review, we shall set forth the facts received into evidence ^{FN2} in the light most consistent with the jury verdict, and shall include facts inconsistent with the verdict only to the extent necessary to analyze Killen's assignments of error.

The civil rights struggle in Mississippi

¶ 4. During the years leading up to 1964, racial discrimination in Mississippi was rampant and largely unchecked. It was practiced at all levels of state government, and by many citizens, in varying degrees. Most were non-violent, with some silently supporting segregation in the public schools, while others actively and publicly worked through state and local government to keep the races separated in Mississippi's public schools and public accommodations. The White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, however, was a violent and radical organization, whose members passionately believed that the white race was superior to other races; that integration of the races violated the laws of God and nature; and that educational and social mingling of the races was to be prevented at all costs.

*2 ¶ 5. The Klan was highly structured, with numerous levels of state and local officers who bore curious titles such as "Imperial Wizard," "Kleagle," and "Province Titan." It was also a secret organization whose applicants for membership were required to swear an oath of loyalty, and whose members often donned white robes and placed hoods over their heads with eye holes cut out so they could see while concealing their identity.

¶ 6. Although the Klan professed lofty principles such as good government, love for America, and allegiance to God, it practiced hatred and violence, and enforced its will through decisions made in secret meetings. The Klan's official policy, which was openly discussed at Klan meetings, was to use whatever force necessary-including harassment, intimidation, physical abuse, and even murder-to maintain racial and social segregation in Mississippi.

¶ 7. In 1870, the Fifteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution established that the right of male citizens to vote could not be denied "on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude," and in 1920, the Nineteenth Amendment extended the same right to women. In 1954, the United States Supreme Court held that African-American children could not be turned away from white schools because of their race.^{FN3} Nevertheless, in the years leading up to the 1964 murders, Mississippi public schools remained essentially segregated. Few African-Americans registered to vote, resulting in all-white juries^{FN4} and the complete domination by whites of state and local government, including law enforcement. As a result, the Klan experienced virtually no serious opposition. Indeed, the Klan included among its members and sympathizers several law enforcement officers who provided both protection against prosecution and the appearance that Klan activities-to some extent-were conducted under color of state law.^{FN5}

¶ 8. In the early 1960s, racial tensions were high in Mississippi. In 1962, James Meredith became the first African-American to register for and attend classes at the University of Mississippi. The FBI actively investigated numerous civil rights cases in Mississippi, including church burnings in several cities. Many white citizens, however, were unwilling to assist the FBI with civil rights investigations. Special Agent Dean Lytle, who testified at the 2005 trial, described some of the people in Neshoba County in 1964 as "hostile to the federal agents," adding, "they were unhappy we were here...."

¶ 9. A movement to end the discrimination also emerged during those years. This movement became known as the civil rights movement and, despite the threat of harassment and harm to themselves, many persons-black and white-traveled to Mississippi from around the country to help organize and encourage African-Americans and assist them in registering to vote. These persons-known as civil rights workers-were viewed and labeled by many white Mississippians, including the Klan, as "outsiders" and "troublemakers" who had no business in Mississippi. Some even felt that, should any of the civil rights workers fall victim to the Klan's violence, they had brought it upon themselves.

Schwerner and Chaney in early 1964

¶ 11. In January of 1964, Schwerner, who was twenty-four years old, and his twenty-two year old wife, Rita, traveled from their home in New York to Mississippi to work in the civil rights movement. When the Schwerners, who were white, arrived in Meridian, they befriended Chaney, a young African-American, and together they set out to establish a community center to provide African-American teens a safe place to meet and visit, and also to provide African-American children access to books. The public library facilities were segregated and, according to Rita, "the idea was to have a library with books that weren't available in the black library at the time ... to help children with reading." The Schwerners solicited and received thousands of books for the library, while Chaney built bookshelves and established reading hours for the children.

--- So.2d ---

--- So.2d ---, 2007 WL 1080391 (Miss.)
 (Cite as: --- So.2d ---)

¶ 12. While in Meridian, the Schwerners lived in a variety of places. They would move in as guests of an African-American family, but then be forced to leave when the family received threats. After this process repeated several times, the Schwerners moved into an upstairs apartment which had no running water. Each day, they went to Young's Hotel to shower, but were forced to sneak in the back door because the hotel was owned by an African-American named Young ^{FN6} and, according to Rita, they were afraid of what would happen to Young if word got out that he was "allowing whites to use the facilities." In March, a man named George Raymond from Canton, Mississippi, provided the Schwerners a 1963 blue Ford station wagon, bearing license plate number H-25503.

¶ 13. The Schwerners were increasingly subjected to threats. Rita received calls telling her she better "watch out" or her husband would be killed. Sometimes the caller would tell her that her husband had already been killed. Despite the threats, the Schwerners continued their work. Rita primarily worked in the community center in Meridian, while her husband and Chaney worked in various places outside Meridian, including Neshoba County.

The Meridian Klan

¶ 14. Killen, who was the Kleagle ^{FN7} for both the Neshoba and Lauderdale County Klaverns, began to recruit new members for the Lauderdale Klavern. One of his recruits was a Methodist pastor in Meridian named Delmar Dennis. ^{FN8} In March, Dennis attended his first Klan meeting. In later describing the meeting, Dennis testified that Killen assured him the Klan was a fine, Christian organization, which stood for the American Constitution. Dennis also testified that Killen said the Klan "was for the purpose of segregation and preservation of the white race." Dennis testified that, upon his agreement to join the Klan, Killen administered the Klan oath, and then told him the Klan "was an organization of action, no Boy Scout group, that we were here to do business." Killen further explained that "there would be things the Klan would need to do, and among those would be the burning [of] crosses, people would need to be beaten, and occasionally there would have to be elimination," which Dennis testified meant killing a person.

*4 ¶ 15. Killen also recruited Carlton Miller, a Meridian police officer, who testified that Killen asked him if he was interested in joining a "strong organization" to "help keep the colored people from integrating [the] schools." Miller told Killen he was "definitely interested." Killen returned to the police station that night when Miller got off work, and they went to Miller's home to discuss what Killen referred to as the "organization." Miller asked if Killen was referring to the Klan. Miller testified that Killen said he was referring to the Klan, and that the Klan "was a very patriotic, political organization, and it was a Christian organization, and in order [sic] that better men and better businessmen and better citizens, officers, doctors, lawyers, and peace officers belonged to it." Killen asked Miller if he was still interested in joining, and Miller said he was. Killen then "read some papers" to him, asked him some questions, and administered the Klan oath, and Miller became a Klansman.

¶ 16. The following weekend, Killen and Miller went to the Longhorn Drive-In restaurant (the "Longhorn") in Meridian, to recruit its owner, Frank Herndon, ^{FN9} and James Jordan, to join the Klan. After Herndon and Jordan agreed to join, the four men went to a place Miller testified was called "the mountain," where Killen administered the Klan oath.

¶ 17. Miller later recruited Meridian police officer Joseph M. Hatcher, who described his first Klan meeting at an old army barracks at the Meridian airport, as follows:

Sat there, and after a while, here comes somebody, ^{FN10} and I thought, oh, my God. He had on this hood and all of that. Of course, I had heard about the Klan back in the old days wearing sheets and this and that and the other, and I done forgot what all was said. You know, told some things about white supremacy and stuff like that, and being a good citizen, and what we was fixing to get into, and I don't remember who took over.

--- So.2d ---, 2007 WL 1080391 (Miss.)
 (Cite as: --- So.2d ---)

¶ 18. Miller said he attended several other Klan meetings at the airport in Meridian. Other Klan members were present, including "Mr. Barnette" who Miller identified as the ex-sheriff and sheriff-elect of Neshoba County. At one of those meetings, Miller testified that Killen explained the Klan's methods of "controlling Negro citizens in the State of Mississippi." Killen said pressure was to be applied at various levels, starting with threatening telephone calls and other threats "on their jobs and things of that nature." If the Klan didn't get the desired response, they resorted to the next level, which was physical pressure, such as whippings and beatings. This level of pressure required a vote by the lodge. Killen told Miller that, if the threats, pressure, whippings, and beatings didn't work, the Klan would implement the third level, which was "elimination." When asked what elimination meant in the Klan, Miller testified, "Murder." Any request for an elimination was presented to the lodge for approval and, if approved, was turned over to the Kleagle who, at that time, was Killen. The Kleagle would then seek approval for the proposed elimination from the Imperial Wizard,^{FN11} who Miller said was Sam Holloway Bowers.^{FN12}

The Klan targets Schwerner

¶ 20. Schwerner, who was referred to by the Klan as "Goatee," became the subject of discussions at Klan meetings. Dennis testified that, at an early April Klan meeting, someone suggested the elimination of "Goatee," and Killen responded that they were "not yet organized as a Klavern and it would not be necessary for a local Klavern to approve that project..." Killen further stated "that [the elimination] had already been approved by the state officers of the Klan and had been made a part of their program, and it would be taken care of."

¶ 21. Later, Killen and Herndon were in charge of another Klan meeting in Meridian where several members discussed whipping Schwerner. Miller testified that Killen "told us to leave him alone, that another unit was going to take care of him, that his elimination had been approved" by the Imperial Wizard.

The burning of the Mt. Zion Church

¶ 22. Around Memorial Day of 1964, Schwerner and Chaney met with the members of Mount Zion Church in Neshoba County to seek permission to use the church facilities that summer for a school similar to the community center in Meridian. They also wanted to use the church facilities for training persons to help African-Americans register to vote.

¶ 23. A few weeks later, in mid-June, the Schwerners traveled to Oxford, Ohio, to attend a training session for workers and volunteers in the civil rights movement. It was there that the Schwerners met Goodman, who was a volunteer worker. Goodman would later decide to join the Schwerners and Chaney in their work in Mississippi.

¶ 24. At approximately eight o'clock p.m. on June 16, Killen and several other members from Meridian attended a Klan meeting in an abandoned gym in Neshoba County. Approximately seventy-five Klansmen were present. Dennis testified that, after the meeting was called to order, Klansman Hop Barnett ^{FN15} interrupted to say that, on his way to the meeting, "he had passed Mt. Zion Church, and there was a meeting being held, [which] must be an important meeting, because the Church was heavily guarded." Barnett said "he wanted to present what he had found to the group and see what they wanted to do about it." Dennis testified that, when Killen asked if the group thought that anything should be done about it, "[s]omeone suggested that there were probably some civil rights workers in the church, or it would not have been heavily guarded, and it was agreed that something would be done." Killen asked for volunteers to go to the church. Several men volunteered and left. When the men returned about an hour later, Klansman Billy Birdsong from

--- So.2d ---, 2007 WL 1080391 (Miss.)
 (Cite as: --- So.2d ---)

Meridian reported to the group that the Meridian Klansmen had guarded one of the Church's exits while the Neshoba County Klansmen guarded the other. Birdsong angrily reported that all of the persons who came out of the exit guarded by the Meridian Klansmen were beaten, while those who came out the exit guarded by the Neshoba County Klansmen were not. Dennis said Birdsong "stated very heatedly that he disapproved of this, that he didn't like it at all. He thought that they should have been beaten." That night, the Mt. Zion Church was burned.

*6 ¶ 25. Two days later, on June 18, the Schwerners, Chaney, and Goodman received word in Ohio of what had happened at the Mt. Zion Church. They decided that Rita would remain in Ohio, and Schwerner, Chaney and Goodman would travel back to Mississippi to meet with the church members. On Saturday, June 20, Schwerner got up early, dressed, kissed Rita goodbye, and left with Chaney and Goodman in the blue station wagon for Mississippi. This was the last time Rita would see her husband alive.

¶ 26. That evening, Schwerner called to tell Rita that they had arrived in Meridian and were planning to go to Philadelphia, in Neshoba County the next day. Goodman-either unaware of the pending danger, or in an attempt to allay his parents' fears-sent a postcard home which stated,
 Dear Mom and Dad,
 I have arrived safely in Meridian, Mississippi. This is a wonderful town and the weather is fine. I wish you were here. The people in this city are wonderful and our reception was very good.
 All my love,
 Andy

The murders-June 21, 1964

¶ 27. In the early afternoon on the day of the killings, Mississippi Highway Patrolman Earl Robert Poe went on duty in Neshoba County. At approximately three o'clock, he parked his patrol car under a tree about four miles east of Philadelphia on Highway 16. Deputy Sheriff Price, who was traveling east on Highway 16 in a blue, 1957 Chevrolet, passed Poe's vehicle. About fifteen minutes later, Price called Poe on the radio and said "he had a good one or [was] chasing a good one." Poe later learned that Price was chasing civil rights worker George Raymond. Poe (who was still parked under the same tree) later observed Price traveling west on Highway 16 behind a blue station wagon. Four or five minutes later, Price radioed Poe and requested assistance in arresting the occupants of the station wagon. Poe proceeded east on Highway 16, and met Price and the station wagon at the intersection of Beacon and Main Streets in Philadelphia. Schwerner, Chaney and Goodman were changing a flat tire on the station wagon. Price told Poe he had arrested Chaney for speeding and requested assistance in transporting the three to jail. Poe's partner, patrolman Wiggs, took Chaney in the station wagon and Poe took Schwerner and Goodman. Price took charge of the three men at the jail and had them locked up between three-thirty and four o'clock. Poe testified that he did not learn until later at the Philadelphia police station that the three men they had just arrested were the three civil rights workers-Schwerner, Chaney and Goodman. Poe said Price asked him to check the tag number of the station wagon and get a registration. Poe ran the license plate number, which was H-25503, and learned the station wagon belonged to the Congress of Racial Equality.

¶ 28. Minnie Lee Herring and her husband operated the Neshoba County Jail, where they also lived. She remembered that Price brought Schwerner, Chaney, and Goodman to the jail at around four o'clock.

*7 ¶ 29. Killen received word on June 21, 1964, that Schwerner, Chaney and Goodman had been arrested. Killen went to Meridian and met with Herndon at the Longhorn where they made several calls on the pay phone. Killen told Miller that they then "got some boys together and went to Philadelphia."

¶ 30. At around six o'clock, James Jordan went to the Longhorn to pick up his wife, who was working there at the time. When he arrived, several Klan members were there including Herndon, who had administered the Klan oath to Jordan. Later, Killen arrived at the Longhorn and went in to talk with Herndon. Jordan testified that, when Killen came out from his meeting, he said "he had a job he needed some help on over in Neshoba County, and he needed some men to go with him." Killen also informed them that "three of those civil rights workers were locked up, and they needed their rear-ends tore up." Killen identified one of the civil rights workers as "Goatee," who Jordan testified he knew to be Schwerner. Some of the men began using the phone at the Longhorn to recruit help, and while others went down the street to Akin Mobile Homes to use the phone there.

--- So.2d ---

¶ 31. As the men were preparing to leave for Neshoba County, Killen instructed Jordan to get some of the men they had not been able to reach by telephone. Jordan was able to recruit Wayne Roberts,^{FN16} and they left to join the men who had gathered at Akin's Mobile Homes. Jordan testified that, when they arrived, "Mr. Akin^{FN17} was there, Pete Harris, myself, Wayne at that time. Then he said there would be some more boys on their way, [and] they arrived in just a few minutes." They were joined by Travis and Doyle Barnette, Jimmy Snowden, and Jimmy Arledge.^{FN18} Jordan testified that Killen, who was also there, said to the men that "they had three of the civil rights workers locked up, and we had to hurry and get over there, and we were to pick them up and tear their butts up." Killen also said that "a Highway Patrol car would stop [the three civil rights workers] on the outskirts of town."

¶ 32. Killen then sent Jordan, Sharp and Wayne Roberts to get some gloves. They returned with the gloves and gassed up their cars. Then, according to Jordan's testimony, Killen "said he would go ahead, as he had to get on back there as fast as he could and make the arrangements, there were several cars coming in, and these guys couldn't be held much longer." Killen then left with Sharpe and Wayne Roberts. Jordan testified he "left with Doyle and Travis, Jimmy Arledge, and Jimmy Snowden," and headed for the "far side of the courthouse" in Philadelphia, where Killen had told them to park and wait for further instructions." When they arrived, Barnette "was standing out there beside his pickup truck." Barnette said he had to leave, but they were to wait for further instructions. Jordan testified that, after Barnette left, Killen "came from around the corner, told us that he would take us by and show us the jail, and then we would be told where to wait until [Schwerner, Chaney and Goodman] were released." Killen then took them by to show them the jail, and had them drive to a spot behind an old warehouse where he told them they were to wait. After he showed them the place they were to wait, Killen then instructed the men to take him to a funeral home in Philadelphia. According to Jordan, Killen explained to the men that he needed to be seen at the funeral home "because if anything happened, he would be the first one questioned." After delivering Killen to the funeral home, Jordan and the other men returned to the spot behind the warehouse to wait.

*8 ¶ 33. Mrs. Herring testified that the following events took place at approximately ten-thirty that night:

Well, Price came into the jail and up in the hall to our quarters at ten-thirty and said, "Mr. Herring, Chaney wants to pay off," and he said, "We'll let him pay off, and we'll release them all." Well, my husband opened the door, and he walked around. The white boys were in the front cell, and the colored boy was on the back, so he walked around the bars and asked the colored boy if he wanted to pay off, and Chaney asked him how much it was, and he told him it would be twenty dollars. Well, he didn't have the twenty dollars on him, so he borrowed it from Schwerner and paid the fine, and, so, my husband wrote the receipt, and Cecil went back and unlocked the combination and let them out and walked on out in the little hall. He had their belongings in a little box, and I had their driver's license, so each one of them reached in and got their billfolds and put their driver's license in their billfolds, and my husband gave them the receipt, and Price told them, "See how quick you all can get out of Neshoba County," and they thanked him and went on out.

¶ 34. The men waiting behind the warehouse learned that Schwerner, Chaney and Goodman had been released from jail when, according to Jordan's

--- So.2d ---, 2007 WL 1080391 (Miss.)
 (Cite as: --- So.2d ---)

testimony, "a city police car [sic] came up and said, 'they're going on Highway 19 toward Meridian. Follow them.' " The men drove out Highway 19 toward Meridian behind a red Chevrolet driven by Billy Wayne Posey.^{FN19}

¶ 35. When they reached the outskirts of Philadelphia, Posey pulled over beside a Highway Patrol car, and the car in which Jordan was riding pulled up behind. Jordan testified that Posey got out and talked with the driver of the Highway Patrol car, and then "he walked back to our car and said, 'Never mind. They will be stopped by the Deputy Sheriff. These men are not going to stop them.' " About that time, Deputy Price came by, said something to Posey (which Jordan couldn't hear), and then drove off. Deputy Price was followed by Posey, and the car Jordan was in "took off to follow them." When Posey's car broke down, he got in the car with Jordan, and they proceeded at a high rate of speed to catch up with Deputy Price. When they caught up with him, he had "a little wagon" pulled over to the side of the road. Jordan testified that Price "got out and went up and told the three men that were in the car to get out." Price ordered the three men into the back seat of his patrol car, and they drove back toward Philadelphia.

¶ 36. They turned left onto a graded clay road. Jordan testified that he got out of the car "to watch and see if anything was happening. The other cars proceeded on up this road." Jordan then testified, "Well, I heard a car door slamming, and some loud talking. I couldn't understand or distinguish anyone's voice or anything, and then I heard several shots." Jordan walked up the road and saw Schwerner, Chaney and Goodman lying dead beside the road.^{FN20} The men put the three bodies into the back of the station wagon and drove to the site of a dam construction where the men waited for a bulldozer operator named "Herman" to arrive. When Herman arrived, he cranked up the bulldozer and buried Schwerner, Chaney and Goodman in the dam.

*9 ¶ 37. The men then drove back to Philadelphia to a warehouse. Everyone gave Jordan their gloves and told him to get rid of them. They then went to a parking lot in Philadelphia where they met up with

Deputy Price and some other men. Posey got out and went over to talk, and then returned and told the men in the car to go home, "that everything would be taken care of."

¶ 38. About midnight, Rita (who was still in Oxford, Ohio) was awakened by a knock at her door. She was asked to go to the office, where she was told that her husband, Chaney and Schwerner had not returned to Meridian from their trip to Philadelphia.

June 22, 1964-Killen admits his participation

¶ 39. The next day, Hatcher was at City Court in Meridian, when he got word to go to an automotive repair shop where he worked part time because someone wanted to see him. When he arrived, he was told that Killen was outside and wanted to see him. Killen asked him to deliver a gun to someone, and Hatcher agreed. Then, Hatcher testified that Killen said "we got rid of those Civil Rights workers, and you won't have no more trouble out of Goatee." Hatcher then testified that Killen said that they was stopped on Highway 19, and they had some trouble. One of the people who was supposed to be in on it, car broke down, and two Highway Patrol was supposed to be involved in it. I don't remember what their names was. But they backed out, and they ended up shooting them and killing them and buried them in the middle of a pond dam out here off of Highway 21 where a pond dam was being built. They were buried in a shallow grave, and that the bulldozer operator, who I believe he told me was a Tucker,^{FN21} got there the next morning to cover them up, and then two workers showed up early and found some blood there or something, and they had to get out there and get them other two people swore in and sworn to secrecy and threatened, so they wouldn't tell, and they covered them up under that pond dam. He told me the car was supposed to have been covered up too, but the trouble they had or something with it, and he was worried about them finding it, and he told me that he was at the funeral home, signed the book, made sure he talked to people in front and rear of him, and that was his alibi, and I told him, well, good.

¶ 40. When asked what he did as a result of receiving this information, given that he was a Meridian police officer, Hatcher testified, "Well, I thought about it, wasn't really worried about it, and then later on, I took the firing pin out of the gun." Hatcher later heard that various people were giving information to the FBI. He testified:

I was told by the Police Department it's time for you to go tell what you know, cooperate with the FBI before you get in an embarrassing situation and you lose your job, which I didn't want to do. So, then I went and started telling the FBI, and I believe this was after the bodies had been found before I did that, talked to the FBI.

*10 Hatcher testified he neither asked for, nor received, any pay for his cooperation with the FBI.

¶ 41. Miller testified that, sometime in June after the deaths of the civil rights workers, Killen came to his home and said that "they had been shot, that they were dead, and that they were buried in a dam about fifteen feet deep, and [Killen] told me that Deputy Price told the FBI the truth about what time [Deputy Price] turned them out." Miller also testified that, in that same meeting, Killen told him that "they burned the [Mount Zion] Church to get the Civil Rights workers up there, referring to Schwerner."

The investigation

¶ 42. Because of the difficulty in obtaining information from the public and the lack of cooperation from local law enforcement, the FBI hired numerous informants in Mississippi, some of whom were in the Klan. One of the informants provided information about the location of the Schwerners' station wagon. On June 23, John Proctor, who was the resident agent in Meridian, met Special Agent Dean Lytel ^{FN22} and several other Special Agents in Philadelphia. Proctor took the agents out Highway 21 to a place called Bogue Chitto Creek, in Neshoba County, where they found the badly burned blue Ford station wagon hidden about seventy-five to a hundred feet off the road. The agents searched the area, but were unable to locate any clues. When they returned to Philadelphia, they met in the Neshoba County Courthouse with Sheriff Rainey and a Captain from the State Police. When the agents left the meeting at approximately ten o'clock that night, a crowd had gathered. Special Agent Lytel described the scene as follows:

We went out the front door of the Courthouse, and the square was filled with people. The people were shoulder to shoulder on two sides of the Courthouse, and the crowd was a very hostile crowd, with catcalls and boos, and Inspector Sullivan at that time told us that we should all get in our cars and stay close together, and we would leave town as a caravan, because he was concerned about the safety of the agents.

¶ 43. On July 31, FBI Special Agent Jay Cochran, Jr., was informed that the FBI had received information that "the three civil rights workers were buried in an earthen dam under twelve to fourteen feet of earth on a farm known as the Old Jolly Farm in Neshoba County." The Old Jolly Farm was located southwest of Philadelphia off Highway 21. The FBI had very specific information about where the bodies were buried. They hired a construction crew to dig where they had been told the bodies were buried, and at approximately three o'clock that afternoon, they uncovered Schwerner's body. Over the course of the next few hours, the bodies of Goodman and Chaney were also uncovered. The parties stipulated that Schwerner died as a result of a gunshot wound to the chest; Chaney died as a result of a gunshot to the head; and Goodman died as a result of a gunshot wound to the chest.

Killen's second admission of his participation

*11 ¶ 44. During 1967, Odell Rush regularly took his grandson, Mike Winstead, to church at the Pine Grove Baptist Church, where Rush was a Sunday School teacher. The church was located in the House community, on Highway 19, between Philadelphia and Meridian. Winstead knew who Killen was "just from living around the community" and because "his brother was married to one of [Winstead's] cousins." One Sunday morning after Sunday School ended and Church was beginning, people in the congregation turned around to watch Killen come in the Church and sit on the back pew. Even though Winstead was only ten years old at the time, he testified ^{FN23} his memory of the events that day was vivid. Winstead stated:

--- So.2d ---

 (Cite as: --- So.2d ---)

to me it was just like somebody would say Matt Dillon just walked in, because, you know, I had heard the name around. I had heard the adults talking around all this that had went on. You know, I was a kid, curious about, you know, this name, this person. People said that Edgar Ray just came in, and people were turning around looking, and I looked to the back and seen him sitting on the back pew.

¶ 45. Later that afternoon, Killen went to Rush's house. They were sitting on the front porch talking, and Winstead overheard part of the conversation. When asked what he heard, Winstead testified:

The only thing I remember about the conversation that struck my mind, that stayed in it, I don't know if I just wasn't paying attention [to] the conversation at the time, my grandfather asked Edgar Ray if he had anything to do with those boys being killed, and he told my grandfather, yes, and he was proud of it.

¶ 46. In October, 2004, while serving a prison term ^{FN24} in Jefferson County, Winstead came forward with the information about Killen's conversation with his grandfather. Winstead testified he neither asked for, nor received, anything for his testimony.

¶ 47. On January 4, 2005, a Neshoba County Grand Jury returned a three-count indictment charging Killen with the three murders. Killen's trial began on June 13, and on June 21, 2005, the Neshoba County jury found him guilty on three counts of manslaughter. On June 23, Circuit Judge Marcus Gordon sentenced Killen to serve twenty years for each count, with the three sentences to run consecutively, for a total sentence of sixty years.

¶ 48. Following the trial, Killen filed post-trial motions which were denied on June 27. He now appeals, claiming that the pre-indictment delay in bringing him to trial denied him due process of law and that the circuit court committed reversible error by allowing the jury to consider manslaughter as a lesser-included offense of the murders for which he was indicted.

II.

¶ 49. Killen's first assignment of error is that the trial court erred in granting the State's request for jury instructions on manslaughter. The State offered three instructions related to a lesser-included offense of manslaughter, and Killen's counsel objected to all three. The first of these three was Jury Instruction S-6, which stated:

*12 If the State has failed to prove all of the essential elements of the crime of Murder, you may consider the lesser charge of Manslaughter. However, it is your duty to accept the law given to you by the Court; and if the facts and the law warrant a conviction of the crime of Murder, then it is your duty to make such finding uninfluenced by your power to find a lesser offense. This provision is not designed to relieve you from the performance of an unpleasant duty. It is included to prevent failure of justice if the evidence fails to prove the original charge but does justify a verdict for the crime of manslaughter.

Killen's counsel objected to this instruction, stating: Now, they are charging in here that he committed the act of kidnapping. I am going to object to this one right now because the proof does not show that he was doing anything else, either guilty of murder or not guilty of murder, and they charge in another instruction here, saying he would be guilty of kidnapping. Now kidnapping, under Section 97-3-51, that's removal of a child aged fourteen by a non-custodial parent. I couldn't find anything else on kidnapping.

Secondly, there's a statute of limitations on kidnapping. There's a two year statute of limitations on it, and I'm going to cite the Code section if I may, Your Honor. That's Section 99-1-5. Now, 99-1-5 states the limitations on prosecution, and it names several of them in there, and includes murder and manslaughter and arson and a lot more other crimes there's a time limitation. All others are two years, and they never name kidnapping in that statute, Judge. So, the statute of limitations is two years on kidnaping.

In other words, they are going to have to show there is a kidnaping and that when he kidnaped him, he accidentally killed him, killed these three Civil Rights workers, but they can't get kidnaping in because the statute of limitations has run on it, and, number two-

Secondly [sic], Your Honor, there is no definition of manslaughter in the Code.

We feel like the jury may compromise. Get up there and say, well, he's not guilty of murder and then they come together and compromise. We feel like our defense is stronger than the prosecution.

¶ 50. After hearing these objections to Jury Instruction S-6, the trial judge stated: "All right. S-6 is given. What do you say to S-7? Jury Instruction S-7 stated:

Every killing of a human being without authority of law is either murder or manslaughter. It is murder when done with a deliberate design to cause the death of the person killed, and it is manslaughter when the killing is done in the heat of passion, without malice and without any premeditation.

Killen's counsel responded to this instruction by stating: Well, manslaughter is done with killing in the heat of passion. There's been no testimony whatsoever that he was even there and put him there at the scene. He could not have killed anybody in the heat of passion, because you've got to be there to do it.

*13 ¶ 51. The trial judge stated he would give S-7, and then asked about S-8, which read:
If the State has failed to prove all of the essential elements of the crime of Murder, you may consider the lesser charge of Manslaughter. The Court instructs the jury that as to Count One of the indictment, if you find from all the evidence in this case beyond a reasonable doubt that:

1. the deceased, Michael Schwerner, was a living person;
2. Edgar Ray Killen on or about June 21, 1964, in Neshoba County, Mississippi, did willfully, unlawfully, feloniously and without malice kill Michael Schwerner while the defendant was engaged in the commission of, or the attempt to commit, the felony crime of kidnaping; and
3. the killing was without authority of law and not in necessary self defense.

Then you shall find the defendant guilty of manslaughter in Count One. After addressing counts two and three similarly, the instruction went on to state:

Now for you to find that the defendant was engaged in or attempting to commit the offense of kidnaping, you must find from all the evidence in this case beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant:

1. in Neshoba County, Mississippi, on or about June 21, 1964, did willfully and without lawful authority, forcibly seize and confine the said Michael Schwerner, James Chaney and Andrew Goodman against their will; and
2. did then and there unlawfully remove the said Michael Schwerner, James Chaney and Andrew Goodman from a place where they had a lawful right to be, to another place, with the intent to cause such persons to be secretly confined against their will, or to be deprived of their liberty.

¶ 52. Killen's counsel objected to this instruction by stating, "That's the kidnaping statute on manslaughter. My same arguments." The trial judge then stated, "It's given."

¶ 53. No other instructions related to manslaughter were given. After the trial court instructed the jury and counsel made their closing arguments, the jury retired, deliberated, and returned a verdict of "guilty" on all three counts of manslaughter.

Lesser-included offense argument.

--- So.2d ---

--- So.2d ---, 2007 WL 1080391 (Miss.)
(Cite as: --- So.2d ---)

[2] ¶ 54. On appeal, Killen first raises an argument not raised to the trial court prior to submission of the instructions to the jury. Killen says that "any lesser offense not 'included' in the greater, charged offense, is not one which was 'presented' by a grand jury, and hence may not be the subject of a conviction, or consequently, of a jury instruction as to the conviction in the case subjudice."

¶ 55. The State responds that Killen is procedurally barred from arguing on appeal that manslaughter is not a lesser-included offense of murder. The State supports its argument by pointing out that Killen made two specific objections to the giving of the manslaughter instruction, and that he is limited here to the grounds he asserted to the trial court. Upon review of the record, however, we find that Killen's counsel actually made three objections ^{FN25} to the manslaughter instructions: (i) that kidnapping required "removal of a child aged fourteen by a non-custodial parent," (ii) that the statute of limitations on kidnapping had run, and (iii) that no kidnapping occurred.

*14 [3] ¶ 56. This Court has strictly enforced the rule that, in order to preserve a jury instruction issue for appellate purposes, a defendant must make specific, on-the-record objections to proposed instructions. In Morgan v. State, 741 So.2d 246 (Miss.1999), this Court held:

In order to preserve a jury instruction issue on appeal, a party must make a specific objection to the proposed instruction in order to allow the lower court to consider the issue. (internal citation omitted). Further, "[a]n objection on one or more specific grounds constitutes a waiver of all other grounds." Stringer v. State, 279 So.2d 156, 158 (Miss.1973). See also McGarrh v. State, 249 Miss. 247, 276, 148 So.2d 494, 506 (1963) (objection cannot be enlarged in reviewing court to embrace omission not complained of at trial).

741 So.2d at 253. See also Rubenstein v. State, 941 So.2d 735, 801 (Miss.2006); Harris v. State, 861 So.2d 1003, 1017 (Miss.2003); Ballenger v. State, 667 So.2d 1242, 1256 (Miss.1995). We see nothing that distinguishes this case from our holding in Morgan. Thus Killen's argument that the manslaughter instruction was not a lesser-included offense of murder, is procedurally barred.

Evidence supporting manslaughter.

[4] ¶ 57. Next, Killen argues that the manslaughter instruction should not have been given because (1) there was no evidence of a kidnapping, (2) there was no proof that Killen participated in the killing "in the heat of passion, without malice and without premeditation," and (3) the statute of limitations had run on kidnapping.

[5] ¶ 58. It is well established that jury instructions must be supported by the evidence, Smith v. State, 835 So.2d 927, 937 (Miss.2002), and we find the record replete with evidence that there was a kidnapping, and that Killen planned and participated in it.

¶ 59. Under the statute in effect in 1967, kidnapping was defined as the seizure or confinement of another person against his or her will, without lawful authority with the intent to deprive such person of his or her liberty. See Miss.Code Ann. § 2238 (1942) (now codified as Miss.Code Ann. § 97-3-53 (Rev.2006)). Jordan testified that, after Schwerner, Chaney and Goodman were locked up in the jail in Philadelphia, Killen met with Herndon and others at the Longhorn in Meridian at around six o'clock, and told them that "he [Killen] had a job and he needed some help over in Neshoba County, and he needed some men to go with him." Killen also informed them that "three of those civil rights workers were locked up, and they needed their rear-ends tore up." Killen identified one of the civil rights workers as "Goatee," who Jordan testified he knew to be Schwerner. Jordan also testified that Killen later said, "they had three of the civil rights workers locked up, and we had to hurry and get over there, and we were to pick them up and tear their butts up." Killen also said that "a Highway Patrol car would stop [the three civil rights workers] on the outskirts of town."

*15 ¶ 60. Furthermore, Jordan testified that it was Killen who sent Jordan, Sharp and Wayne Roberts to get some gloves, after which Killen said "he would go ahead, as he had to get on back there as

--- So.2d ---, 2007 WL 1080391 (Miss.)
(Cite as: --- So.2d ---)

fast as he could and make the arrangements, there were several cars coming in, and these guys couldn't be held much longer." According to Jordan, Killen showed him and the other men where to park and "wait until [Schwerner, Chaney and Goodman] were released." Jordan and the men waited, as instructed by Killen, until Schwerner, Chaney and Goodman were released from jail and drove away in the station wagon. They then fell in behind the station wagon and were present as Price placed them in his patrol car and took them to a secluded area. Jordan stood watch as the three men were killed.

¶ 61. In the face of this testimony, Killen's argument that there was no evidence he participated in a kidnapping is completely lacking in merit.

Heat of passion without malice.

[6] ¶ 62. Killen also argues that there was no evidence that Schwerner, Chaney and Goodman were killed in the heat of passion without malice. However, the record reflects that Killen's instruction to the Klan members who were to assist in grabbing Schwerner, Chaney and Goodman was to "pick them up and tear their butts up." Further, testimony indicated that Killen asked to be dropped off at the funeral home because if anything happened, he knew that he would be the first person questioned by authorities. The jury could certainly have found that Killen planned the abduction of the three men and that he intended that they be whipped or beaten, but that he did not intend for them to be killed. Thus, this argument has no merit.

Statute of limitations.

[7] ¶ 63. The third reason Killen argues we should reverse based upon the manslaughter instruction is that the statute of limitations had run as to the underlying crime of kidnapping. Killen's counsel repeatedly argued to the trial judge that the State was "charging [Killen] with kidnapping." In response, the trial judge appropriately pointed out that Killen was not being "charged" with kidnapping, but the state was merely attempting to "define" kidnapping as the underlying crime to the lesser-included offense of manslaughter.^{FN26}

¶ 64. Killen cites authority that stands for the proposition that a conviction of a lesser-included offense is not permitted where the statute of limitations has run on the lesser-included offense. See Riggs v. State, 30 Miss. 635, 647 (1856) (simply stating that the jury could not convict the defendant of a lesser-included offense where the statute of limitations had run on the lesser-included offense). However, kidnapping was not the lesser-included offense in this case, but was used only to establish an element of the lesser-included offense, which was manslaughter. Since the statute of limitations had not run on manslaughter, the statute of limitations had not run on the lesser-included offense, and Riggs is therefore inapposite. See also McGowan v. State, 200 Miss. 270, 25 So.2d 131 (1946) (finding indictment for a second-offense crime does not cause the charge to be barred by the statute of limitations by referring to former offense which was barred by the statute of limitations).

*16 ¶ 65. Killen was convicted of the lesser-included offense of manslaughter. There is no statute of limitations on manslaughter in Mississippi; therefore, the statute of limitations could not have run. Thus, Killen's argument is without merit.

III.

[8] ¶ 66. The second issue presented by Killen is whether the delay of forty-one years in bringing the indictment denied him due process of law. Killen first attempted to persuade the trial court to quash the indictment by arguing that the State violated his Sixth Amendment right to a speedy trial. However, upon being reminded by the State at the motion hearing that the delay of which he complained was pre-indictment, and that the trial took place only five months following the indictment, Killen conceded that his claim was not a violation of the Sixth Amendment, but rather of the Fifth Amendment.

¶ 67. The State of Mississippi did not bring

--- So.2d ---

--- So.2d ---, 2007 WL 1080391 (Miss.)

charges against Killen until 2005, some forty-one years following the deaths of Schwerner, Chaney, and Goodman. Killen argues that the State's delay was intentional and resulted in actual prejudice to him. Specifically, Killen claims that the State intentionally used delay to obtain a tactical advantage, pointing to the change of the political climate in Mississippi in 2005 as compared to 1964, so that a jury was much more likely to convict him in 2005. Killen argues that he suffered actual prejudice by the forty-one year delay, in that he was eighty years old at the time of the trial, in poor health and many witnesses had died or their memories had failed. The State responds that the delay was not intentional and that the delay failed to result in actual prejudice to Killen.

¶ 68. The United States Supreme Court noted in United States v. Lovasco, 431 U.S. 783, 790, 97 S.Ct. 2044, 52 L.Ed.2d 752 (1977), that, in making the determination as to whether a defendant's due process rights have been violated, courts "are not free ... to impose on law enforcement officials our 'personal and private notions' of fairness and to disregard the limits that bind judges in their judicial function." 431 U.S. at 790, 97 S.Ct. 2044 (quoting Rochin v. California, 342 U.S. 165, 173, 72 S.Ct. 205, 96 L.Ed. 183 (1952)). The Court further stated that courts "are to determine only whether the action complained of ... violates those 'fundamental conceptions of justice which lie at the base of our civil and political institutions,' Mooney v. Holohan, 294 U.S. 103, 112, 55 S.Ct. 340, 79 L.Ed. 791 (1935), and which define 'the community's sense of fair play and decency'." Lovasco, 431 U.S. at 790, 97 S.Ct. 2044 (quoting Rochin, 342 U.S. at 173, 72 S.Ct. 205).

¶ 69. This Court has previously stated "in a pre-indictment analysis of due process violations that the burden of persuasion is on the defendant." Stack v. State, 860 So.2d 687, 700 (2003) (citing Hooker v. State, 516 So.2d 1349, 1351 (Miss.1987)). In order to analyze claims of due process violations for pre-indictment delay in bringing prosecutions, the United States Supreme Court set forth the two-prong test in United States v. Marion, 404 U.S. 307, 324, 92 S.Ct. 455, 30 L.Ed.2d 468 (1971), and Lovasco, 431 U.S. at 795-96, 97 S.Ct.

2044. This Court adopted the two-prong test in Hooker, which held that in order for a defendant to prevail on such a claim there must be a showing that (1) the pre-indictment delay prejudiced that defendant, and (2) the delay was an intentional device used by the government to obtain a tactical advantage over the accused. Hooker, 516 So.2d at 1351.

Prejudice.

*17 ¶ 70. Killen argues that the following factors have caused him actual prejudice due to the forty-one-year, pre-indictment delay: (1) he is now eighty years of age and has deteriorated in mind and body; (2) he was sick and in severe pain from injuries received from a falling tree; (3) witnesses had died and memories had failed; (4) he could not be judged by his peers as they had long passed away or were too old to serve on juries; and (5) he suffered from high blood pressure and was on blood pressure medication.

¶ 71. With regard to Killen's claims that the pre-indictment delay caused him actual prejudice due to his old age, ill health and inability to be judged by a jury of his peers, Killen cites no legal authority for these claims in his brief. Killen merely asserts that at the time of the 2005 trial, he was eighty years old, in poor health, suffered from high blood pressure ^{FN27} and could not be judged by his peers. Because Killen cites no authority that these factors are sufficient to constitute actual prejudice, we hold that these factors warrant no consideration. See Cleveland v. Mann, 942 So.2d 108, 115 (Miss.2006) (citing Ferrell v. River City Roofing, Inc., 912 So.2d 448, 456 (Miss.2005)) (this Court's obligation to review the issue ceases upon party's failure to cite relevant authority).

¶ 72. Killen also claims that he suffered actual prejudice due to deceased witnesses and deteriorated memories. In a case very similar to the case at bar, this Court analyzed whether a twenty-one year, pre-indictment delay violated the due process rights of defendant Byron De La Beckwith ("Beckwith"). Beckwith was initially charged for the murder of Medgar Evers, first Field

--- So.2d ---, 2007 WL 1080391 (Miss.)
 (Cite as: --- So.2d ---)

Secretary for the NAACP in Mississippi, who was shot in the back on the front steps of his family home in Jackson, Mississippi. Beckwith v. State, 707 So.2d 547, 555 (Miss.1997). Beckwith was tried twice for the murder in 1964, but both trials ended in mistrials. Id. at 568. Following the mistrials, a nolle prosequi was entered in 1969. Id. No further action was taken against Beckwith until some twenty-one years later, when the State of Mississippi re-indicted him in 1990. Id. Beckwith was tried and convicted in 1994 and sentenced to a life term. Id. Beckwith appealed his conviction. A due process violation claim for the twenty-one-year, pre-indictment delay was among the many issues on appeal before this Court. Id.

¶ 73. Beckwith asserted similar claims of “deceased witnesses” and “faded memories” as a basis for his due process argument. Id. at 570. This Court stated, “[w]itnesses for both the state and the defense [have] died in the interim between the trials, but testimony from previous trials was available and was read to the jury.” Id. This Court further noted that “Beckwith did not put into the record any facts he could have proved by these deceased witnesses that did not go to the jury through their prior testimony.” Id.

*18 ¶ 74. Similarly, Killen has failed to show how he was prejudiced in this regard. All six of Killen's witnesses testified live at his 2005 trial, and he has not suggested any witness he was unable to call on his behalf as a result of the forty-one-year delay. Further, the testimony in the record does not indicate that Killen's witnesses failed to remember the events of 1964. In fact, Killen's sister testified in detail about the events that took place on June 21, 1964, when she and her siblings, including Killen, gathered at their parent's home for Sunday dinner. Killen's brother also testified in detail about the family gathering at the Killen home on the afternoon of June 21, 1964. He also testified that Killen was present at the funeral home around seven or eight o'clock on the evening of June 21, 1964. Killen's other witnesses similarly had no problems recalling the events that took place in 1964.

¶ 75. Of the State's fourteen witnesses at the 2005 trial, six were called by transcript and eight testified live. Killen, through his counsel, had the opportunity to cross-examine all of the State's witnesses at both trials. This Court has stated that “[v]ague assertions of lost witnesses, faded memories, or misplaced documents are insufficient to establish a due process violation from preindictment delay.” Beckwith, 707 So.2d at 570 (citing United States v. Harrison, 918 F.2d 469, 474 (5th Cir.1990)); United States v. Ballard, 779 F.2d 287, 294 (5th Cir.1986). Accordingly, we find that Killen has failed to meet his burden of proving actual prejudice and hold that the trial court did not err in finding Killen suffered no actual prejudice as a result of the forty-one-year delay.

Intentional Delay Used to Obtain a Tactical Advantage.

¶ 76. Having found no actual prejudice, we need not address the reasons for the delay, as a due process violation requires both a showing of actual prejudice and intentional delay. Hooker, 516 So.2d at 1351. In other words, where a defendant fails to show actual prejudice resulting from a claimed due process violation, the inquiry ends, and the reason for the delay need not be addressed. However, in the interest of completeness, we shall address Killen's argument that the State's delay was an intentional device used to obtain a tactical advantage.

¶ 77. Killen argues that the State intentionally delayed prosecution to obtain a tactical advantage. Specifically, Killen tells us in his brief: This Court could take judicial notice that jurors and jury duty has materially changed since the sixties; that the political climate in Mississippi had completely reversed in 2005 from the sixties. It would be foolish to argue that the attitude of the general public has not changed from the sixties all to the advantage of the State and to actual prejudice against the Appellant.

¶ 78. As we understand this argument, Killen would like us to take judicial notice that, had he been prosecuted in the 1960s, he likely would have drawn an all-white jury, the members of which

--- So.2d ----

--- So.2d ----, 2007 WL 1080391 (Miss.)
(Cite as: --- So.2d ----)

would probably have been reluctant to convict a white man whose only crime was doing harm to a black man (Chaney) and two white civil rights workers (Schwerner and Goodman). Stated another way, Killen argues that-because of the low regard for the civil rights of African-Americans held by white juries and politicians in 1964-he was far less likely to have been convicted in a 1964 trial.

*19 ¶ 79. We cannot say Killen's premise is inaccurate, that is, that "jurors and jury duty has materially changed since the sixties; that the political climate in Mississippi had completely reversed in 2005 from the sixties," and that "the attitude of the general public" has "changed from the sixties." That said, however, Killen cites no authority for the proposition that he may satisfy Hooker's actual prejudice requirement by demonstrating he was denied a trial in a prejudiced "political atmosphere" before a prejudiced "jury" selected from the virtually all-white voter rolls used to select persons for "jury duty." We shall say no more than to add that we find this argument has no merit, and we are surprised it is made.

¶ 80. In summary, we note that this Court has previously stated "where there [is] no bar to prosecution by an applicable statute of limitations, 'the constitution places a heavy burden on the defendant to show that the pre-indictment delay has offended due process.'" Beckwith, 707 So.2d at 570 (quoting Stoner v. Graddick, 751 F.2d 1535, 1540 (11th Cir.1985)) (court rejecting defendant's due process claim despite no reason given by the state for the revival of the 19-year-old case). Killen has not met this burden. Therefore, the trial court did not err in denying Killen's motion to quash the indictment based on a due process violation.

¶ 81. Finding no merit to either of the assignments of error, we affirm the judgment of the Circuit Court of Neshoba County, both as to Edgar Ray Killen's conviction of three counts of manslaughter, and the trial court's sentence of twenty years for each count, with the sentences to run consecutively.

FN22. Special Agent Lytle worked out of the New Orleans office of the FBI, but during 1963 and 1964, he was assigned to numerous cases in Mississippi investigating civil rights cases, including church burnings.

FN23. Winstead was called by the State to testify live at Killen's 2006 trial.

FN24. The crime which led to Winstead's imprisonment was unrelated to Killen.

FN25. Killen also suggested that only he had the right to seek an instruction on a lesser-included offense. However, this Court has stated that Mississippi law "allows the prosecution to request and obtain lesser-included offense instructions, as it does the defense." Harveston v. State, 493 So.2d 365, 375 (Miss.1986).

FN26. The State offered the instruction based upon the felony manslaughter statute that was in existence in 1964 which defined manslaughter as the "killing of a human being without malice by the act, procurement or culpable negligence of another, while engaged in a perpetration of any felony, except rape, burglary, arson, or robbery, or while such other is attempting to commit any felony....” The State used kidnaping as the underlying felony. Miss.Code Ann. § 2220 (1942).

FN27. The record reflects that Killen was physically present throughout his trial. In fact, during one point of the trial, Killen was taken to the hospital due to high blood pressure. When the judge indicated that, in Killen's absence, he would like to proceed with the trial with the reading of transcript testimony, Killen's attorney stated that he did not feel comfortable without first getting his client's permission because Killen “tries to run the defense.” Because Killen refused to consent, the trial judge recessed the trial until the next morning when Killen could be present. Thus, we find no merit to Killen's argument that he was too ill or deteriorated to assist in his defense.

reportedly writes that Rucker turned Killen against any Agent being honest. Killen states FBI had volumes of evidence against Gordon they could have used (this is in reference to Judge Gordon who was the Judge who heard evidence against Killen in the June 2005 murder matter). The written material appears to be pure Killen as Rucker was one of the best Agents who worked MIBURN.

For information, James Ingram supervised Rucker and the Resident Agency (RA) and Rucker was an outstanding Special Agent (SA). He died about two years ago in Alabama.

SA [] and James Ingram used Rucker's informant [] the past three years. SA [] discovered [] when he began to review MIBURN file.

Per instructions from SA [] James Ingram contacted former SA [] telephonically in Tennessee. He was told the FBI appreciates his efforts but [] did not furnish through Killen any pertinent data. He advised if he received additional data he would forward to the FBI.

The news media knew this.

This is over 50 years ago starting dates
Do you remember in history reading about the alger Hiss and Chambers case about the pumpkin paper discovery of Internal security being on microfilm and hidden in a pumpkin in the field Chambers was conducted & sent to Federal prison I forget about this He testified against his comrade Chambers. They were selling these films to Communist Russia as both of them were members of the Communist Party U.S.A. - They were from California but made business trips for the party to N.Y. city where they spent their time with the Guener & Gooding family in their home - They all were Communist Jews - U.S.A. party. Richard Nixon was a young Congressman from Calif and booked the boat until the Justice Dept. had to do something and this is where they never forgave Nixon & finally got him out of office - Not every Jew belongs to the Party but have a feeling for it - The Communist Jews ruin Hollywood even the news. Plus most financial institutions of the world - This is the descendants of those who lived on gold only forgotten Jew - the Helling ~~and~~ MaB who said Kill Him Kill Him - The Spot - Spot on Him made Jew & kept killing Kill Him.
There were about 5 or 6 of them at my trial and Jim Hood used them as witnesses against me - The do not interpret too much just use the block to tear down the white race Ronald Reagan - John Wayne - Jimmy Stewart gave money to help fight this crowd.

10/28/07

Hey Neighbor - I am proud to have you as a white Christian Neighbor even in this hell hole.
We are trying to get me a public defender to keep us straight on our legal work. [redacted] Calls for me quite a bit. She wrote me and said tell you she believed your mom to be a fine nice Christian lady.
The warden wrote me that I was getting my junk call's and phone calls and that I would remain on Administration P.C. we are replying to her letter and my next step will be to Federal Court if she keeps lying - I know how to get out of here but might be moved a 1000 miles or more from home. [redacted] wrote me I got it today if it would help my condition she would come to see me wherever, she & [redacted] he has not missed a visiting day, well here is the start of why I am here today you may not believe my story but I will tell it under oath so if not true I would be committing perjury - Around 50 years ago I took my Bible along and spoke by invitation only at Community Centers - Court Houses - High School Auditoriums or any decent place to seat hundreds I got pretty good at it some people heard me that later on for Gov. or Lt Gov come to see me and ask for me to speak for them at Political Rallies.

b7c

Q Why did it get said that you decided who went to prison? And how + By who?

The last two I never heard about. The News media wrote many complete lies about me and the 64 case

They gave [redacted] money from been being arrested but he never knew enough to help them - He is Dead.

3. You said they came to you also; I think, who and did they threaten you. They had a question for me every time an agent saw me but the offer and threats were such They carried me to Truckee Base and in arrest and heavily guarded. The C.I.A. Mafia sharp shooter (assassin) came to my mill in Seale County and got caught at my mill. He was the only one I made a deal with (deal was) If I ever saw him again he would die on the spot. He got more nervous than I did. They even denied coming to see me, but he was with a F.B.I. Agent I knew & threatened as well. He is ~~still~~

DEAD.

b6
b7C

My $25,000 lawyer filed the weakest appeal I have ever read - The State Supreme Court never allowed a oral argument. Had did not want one and my lawyer did not ask.

My lawyer agreed when I hired him they would have the judge ~~for~~ my case - Never made any attempt. He would get my appeal bond reinstated. They gave a ~~case~~ ^{case} hearing on my bond - Lawyer would not go. He had the $25,000. He came to see me and ask $25,000 to file a Habeas Corpus. He mentioned my past conviction to the State court. The Federal Court would have refused my Habeas Corpus until I filed the past conviction and it is ruled on.

{ The Germans in Germany white papers have me listed as a P.O.W. also a Political Prisoner of which I am. They have me listed on the internet }

The lawyer who filed my appeal -

[redacted] and [redacted]
[redacted]

The put them out here at midnight and he ran away.

[redacted] He ran away.

I was here in lockdown.

[redacted] is trying to help me see if we can get some of my money back.

I have had 4 lawyers on this case.

They have broke me and I would not want them for free when they are on the other side.

10/28/67

Are we as if you going to your new source
I will have my stories - noticed at his library if need be to prove my telling the truth.

Hey [] Did you make canteen? Do you have any coffee? I did not order enough but will share with you my next order will be double this one I needed to be where I can talk to you. I want to (first step) see what the news media C.P. is fine I can write you unbelievable things between the judge & myself all our adult life I was very close to his family all but he himself we have always been crossed and he wanted for my injury to set & try me he let them use its in the transcript of which is being used now kidnapping of which the stature of limitation was expired 39 yrs before my trial,
I convicted his parents & several kids him oposing me being there. you need that story Remember the major & all news media is owned and dominated by Communist Jews or those who believe as the Communists do. and I am not an extremist when I say that they were the ones who got (Nixon out of office) I know that is not street or conduct talk I have seen the records from justice Dept. I will talk to you about Eastland but not the news Eastland has a family (children) one son in miss and I do not intend to give him them problems Jim had 2 or 3 daughters in Texas & miss. OK write me back

b6
b7c

Big Jim (Eastland) stayed by me long as he lived even after he retired I could tell some tall stories but have never done so.

He was known as the King Maker in Mississippi. He really named (quietly) about 708 Senators and I always got involved when Jim decided who he wanted O'Day? Mess Him - I could go almost anywhere in the Nation and give them FO E. phone number and tell them to call that number and let him identify me. Every time they would say no we know that number just tell us what you want it will be done. I am not ~~just~~ just popping off Jim was like family. Now you know why I went to his grave so often. I always told them I sure was missing him.

He told my mother he was a fool over me. He was family to me. He has a son [redacted] who is not the type of politician that Jim was. I went to the family when he died. I told Mrs. Eastland we called [redacted] - I told her I did not know a word I could say to her. [redacted] the son said preacher before you got word of his death we discussed you and I told mother we wondered how you would take his death. Mrs. Eastland is buried there beside him now.

He offered me jobs but I stayed with my preaching. I did not answer all ask me later.

I appreciate your friendship and help. Write me & I will answer any questions I can.

I'm sorry some how you misunderstood about hanging up no one hanging up on [redacted] after they hung up from her cell. which she enjoyed very much and was impressed with your folks. [redacted] was afraid they did not get your present address so she called b7C back and left the message you were at 740 7th she got it you were at MSU, she [redacted] thought that she talked to [redacted] they discussed how we met and all about our marriage also [redacted] (or) ever since she talked to told her a close friend had lost her husband and was getting married and she was going to the wedding might have been yesterday. I did not get the date of wedding - [redacted] is proud for you and I to be so close together (11/12) and for us to be friends we are of the old school we stand by our friends and especially the whites we hate no one because of their color. I have given away more food to Blacks than to whites - when they had reach me I put them off and tell them I am afraid of their gangs, question # 13 - [redacted] I would like to get the media before NOV 7 07. Several election day to argue some things for me against him. He thinks he is b6 above the law. He believes he is the law b7C

How Did Law Enforcement treat you back then? was

My home was never searched. The FBI tried to break in to buy the place we ran them off.

I was the pastor of the following County Sheriffs or Constables back then 1- Nashoba Co. 2 Newton Co.

Loake Co. 4 Lauderdale Co. 5 Kemper Co. and the other Counties around us had Sheriffs who were Great Friends of mine I had no problems

In 1964 the FBI carried me and others (separated) to the Naval Air Base out of Meridian. They Threatened to call a SWAT team to beat me up.

They put guns pointing at my head and said I would be killed within the hour. Then they offered me in excess of 8 millions Dollars in Colorado Ranch stocked with High Blooded Registered Horses and Keep my checking acct - about 1 million for the rest of my life - could carry all of my relatives

I wanted none of us would ever have to work again - all I had to do was tell them how to break the case and I would never hear any more about it.

9K early 64 LBJ called in Director of FBI - CIA both and ordered them to get something going in the South to draw the minds of the public off Vietnam that (Johnson's words) G.D. was was running them politically. The CIA were supposed to have Suerner and Spademan under 24 hours surveillance because of their long in the American Communist movement

They & family were Party workers

Why didn't I tell you? #1, I had only Hearsay no Evidence - all witnesses were given from $ to 6 thousand dollars to testify #2 Pres. Richard Milhouse Nixon had the Justice Dept. to ask the Federal Court to ~~dismiss~~ Dismiss all charges and they did in a morning session of Court at 8 AM. recessed before 9 and left the Court House before the news media arrived. This was never in the News.

How many marriages did you perform? what - where Churches - For years I kept Records then got too busy to keep up with everything so I do not have an accurate count. But Hundreds - I had wedding in most all the Churches I pastored most of my weddings were performed in my home or the homes of the Bride and Groom. Lots of these weddings were at the home of the Bride's Parents. I have performed weddings in my Hospital Room and even here at C M C F administration building.
For over 40 years none of the couples I had married divorced but finally times had changed and I thought I was going to lose them all - over 50 years ago I married some of the white Nurses

Parents

Before [redacted] fired those whites they kept me

you should have studied part of this in History and it kind of explains why I like and respect some people as I do. We are going to have to give account to God for every vote we cast, and I will face any false thing I write here or ever.
Some sixty odd years ago there was a young man named Richard Milhouse Nixon from Calif. He was Anti Communist - some of his people in Calif informed him of Communist Spies in Calif. He had trouble getting our Justice Dept. to act. He would not give up so they FBI found micro films in a pumpkin patch where the Russian Agent (KGB) could pick them up they sent the Russian Name tried. Chambers and used Alger Hiss as (turned supporter in crime) they convicted Chambers and sent him to prison. Both these Spys were Communist Jews as you are bound to know Communism began with a Russian Jew. ^{Kare Marx} was in N.Y. Chambers & Hiss never got hotel rooms they stayed in the Goodwin & Tavern Homes (Does those names register with you) A Swearer and a Goodman testified at my trial in ^{June} 2005 against me of course - This year Mrs Goodman and a Mrs Cheney both died - so they won't give me no more problems unless I go to Hell and they are running it. The CIA were supposed to have Swearer and Goodman under 24 hr surveillance. How could some kill them and the CIA watch (lots of questions there) The fact was our CIA had to ex where they were & why they did not see who did this

10/26/01

Mr. Ray, tell me about Communist + what was the CIA + F.B.I. trying to get you to tell them to break the case? Didnt they find bodies? - They claimed too. I am going to go back years + years ago when Russia was its strongest the cold war was raging. Bring you up to my trial + Oswald was alleged to have shot Kennedy I never believed He did. a mo Ruby shot + killed Oswald

I have never used his name for the news media to take after James O Eastland (Deceased ^{Now} w/ wife) Had it not been for Senator Eastland the sharpshooters would have assassinated me like Ruby Ridge mountain He ~~stayed~~ stayed at the top never talked to the Agents in the field. I could get Tapes and Transcripts of their investigations any where and any one name of agent. Questions answers and who they were Date + hour of interview so I did not guess about what they were doing. ^{For} even ask me how I know how much money they had paid witness to testify at 67 Federal Trial - Lyndon Johnson was the eviler turned out on the South - He lived most of his life not of the Klan but the Kennedy Mafia - He Johnson was up under John F Kennedy and his only hope to the President was to get Kennedy to Dallas. In LBJ's Home State In 1964 Jim Eastland said he really didn't believe Johnson had Kennedy killed until Johnson and I had a head out (No kidding) He almost had a heart attack and ordered FBI to put me in jail until He said I could be released the Director call Jim E. and told him ^{what} what Johnson ^{ordered} - On Thanksgiving Day of 1964 I told LBJ's agent that he was not going to get to go Deer Hunting (Why) Mrs Oswald would not let him have his rifle back. He went Crazy. Jim said he believed he had Kennedy killed after that incident - Ruby ~~did~~ did at Bonner - CIA to close his mouth

There were a minimum of a dozen Communist Jews at my trial I testified they were from N.Y. Oregon and Chicago Ill.

I don't call them Communist unless the Justice Dept.
lists them as such because of their work

The A.C.L.U. has been financed and started by Communist Jews

all major news media is owned (stock held) and controlled by Communist Jews

The largest Banks are owned & operated by Com. Jews
They control the wealth of the world.

The Communist Jews never forgave Nixon or me they got Nixon I am very familiar with that

They got me + I am very aware look what they did with the news media I am more than familiar with that I am expecting their hatred here

I wrote Nixon to come to Miss and we would elect him
Governor or Senators

The Communist are using the Blacks to whip the white race and doing a good job at it.

Dear Christian white Brother:

The warden told [redacted] that they were afraid^{b6 b7C} what the gangs would do if they let me out of lockdown - I told the warden that I was not afraid of her gangs (Talk is cheap) she said they knew there were enough white supremacists here to protect me but they might burn down the buildings here and in ~~the~~ Closs Ceter like Jackson. I ask her who was running this place her or the gangs - I told several of the little gang members I was not afraid of them. "Whitey" won't stand by his brother like a nigger will - there is white movements going on all over the world. but then they slow down and start giving up - I read your note I know most of the names I am filing A.P.R.'s and starting on them this is my first stop to Federal Court. I have been page & company on several issues with CID but I got different ones than you have listed. Walker cut off my medicine claiming having to order it I stayed out a month and would not have gotten it then but [redacted] sent the warden and [redacted] a registered letter explaining my medication problem mentioning my constestnal right to medical care and in 2 or 3 days they came after me from the clinic and the Dr. ask me if they could do more for me.

[redacted] has undermined all white employees and got [redacted] They had several older white nurses she fired I had married some of those nurses parents over 50 yrs ago. 50 days talked to me.

15 I talk too much. I told the warden the prison / Deal grape vine got me the message they had made a ~~deal~~ with A5- hood that they would lock me down and ignore me and I would be dead by Christmas 2005.
The old timers here got the message to me within a week she ask me if I believed them and oh boy I told her they were 99% more truthful ~~than~~ than anyone working here. I liked the old grape vine from 50 yrs ago it really was good then. I am for you - I am not a con man I live to make my word good. If I get my call in the morning I will know if [redacted] got to talk with [redacted] for ^{several} ~~some~~ times [redacted] had some one to mess me phone up at the computer she has a lots of nigger mean, cruel thinking if she can think she is a Lesbian as you have know. And that is all she is interested in. I can get out of here if I ask the Federal Courts for protection - fear of my life - but my luck is they would send ^{me} to Calif - too far for [redacted] to come see me every month or twice a month.

b6
b7C

The officials here are aware of my feelings - [redacted] ask me why I hated her race so bad - I ask her who said I hated them that was a lie - I just didn't like them because ~~of~~ of the way they lived and acted. - Couldn't trust them
I have never trusted the news media but do you suppose I might use them against this place.. Do you know any one might contact?

I could write you a more tender letter but next next time I just do not like these people and I am a political prisoner and the most hated by officers of all the Const. h...

They listed Jasey as a witness but had got afraid to bring him to Neshoba County.
He has been killed there since

Why did you become a suspect?
we had a native miss man who was a communist and the Communist (U S A party) sent him to lead demonstrations all over the South. He was caught in Florida & told if he ever came back he would be killed (He was white faced nigger heart). He went back to New York and months later the party ~~was~~ ordered him back to Florida & sent a Co worker to check on him - He told his comrade as they approached Wash DC Did they find bodies of people?

That he knew a Congressman that could help them so the comrade waited in the waiting room

He would have probably helped become a witness

The Congressman was my double 2nd cousin. He told him what I have written above & said the Communist would have him killed unless he went to Florida.
~~My~~ my cousin Congressman G. J. Thur instead called.
How were they killed?

Supposedly shot FBI claimed they were shot was one com.

He had a few in Neshoba
Co.

The FBI - They came in a private way from the other communist listened a few minutes. Had a heart attack & was carried out on a stretcher to save him used him as a pimp. He lost his Citizenship in Neshoba Co. court & he told the FBI that he had information I would kill him so they did not want me to bother their pimp. I had not talked or made any attempt or threat

Ray: Manslaughter means, To Kill! How did the State D.A. say to claim you killed those three men! How did he convince a jury, Beyond a doubt!

He did not convince them beyond a reasonable doubt
He told them Phila could not get any industry until they convicted 1920,

They kept the jury sequestered until last night
They were 6-6 Sent them home next morning
They came back 12-0 Guilty

What weapon did he say you used & where did it come from and go to? All he presented was 3 killed these 3 and he would prove it - He did not prove it

How did he say you did this to 3 men, all by yourself? I don't understand how anyone could do that?

That was left with out explaining Did Glen Burroughs get charged w/anything? Why or why not?

In 1964 Glen Burroughs was charged with conspiracy and plotted in Federal Court in 67-

Who says your most hated by media?

I got one says it.

Most of the Nigger officers of OMC F

What are the doctrines of the Communist Jew's that you speak of? They go by the doctrine that Karl Marx (Russian Jew) organizer of Com party the Chief point I hate. They teach there is no Supreme being God - you cannot believe in God and belong in party. This is not all ^{the} Jews, some Jews believe in God but not Christ.

Who/ or/ what is the Underworld? Who catered to you?

The under world is the common name for Mafia.

I don't write down nor record Names.

I do not wish to smear Sen. Eastland's name for media to lie about. He brought them to me when I ask for certain information.

(I had help from anon. source,) No name.

5.) If KKK Informant told where bodies were, ... 11/4/67 Knew who killed them & who kidnapped them & secretly told that to Mafia & FBI, why wouldn't the Feds prosecute the snitch or killers?

The FBI does not prosecute their informers. Initiales and they do not have to be truthful.

6. Is your Conviction Kidnapping or Conspiracy?

My conclusion was manslaughter after kidnapping the 3
They could not charge manslaughter with committing another felony at time so they used kidnapping statute of the 3rd degree.

7. Did you ever Confess to anyone? Why did the people in California say, "You were proud you did it in the play?" They were guessing the Confess (Child Rapist) who never heard me say anything.

Are they still Communist Jews in USA? They own & control all major news media and financial institutions world wide at least 5 or more were at my trial and 2 or 3 testified against me they knew nothing about me

Why did they want just you? I had exposed Communist Jews all my adult life - [redacted]

The tobacco buying man ~~gave~~ gave $100,000 for inf. to be called in to Hood's office. They would not let us have or see the information some $400-500 calls. Most were helping my innocence.

1. Did they testify you did not say something to show guilt? (I did "it"
Or do you know who the killer was, between us.
Instead the Rapist said he heard me tell Mrs. Granger witness [redacted] testified that I told him we got rid of them - Mrs. Granger was lying under oath.

Ray, heres questions that just came up, please try to answer them + my last page of questions

(1.) If F.B.I. paid a Mafia to snitch + he said he put they drilled 8 miles of new I 20 from La line to Ala line
They drilled 8 miles of new I 20 from La line to Ala line
Hundreds of Bodies. How did that KKK know where they were? I had access to the FBI files if I knew it to ask for they could not find anyone who knew - Agents had a helicopter and sent it down on any fresh earth they had a battery powered drill and drills - a W 45 II saw, sewing machine to find bodies

2. Why didnt FBI, Ask that KKK man who killed the. The best answer is that there were no KKK men sure, sounds like the FBI does a good job. They asked thousands + thousands of people if they did or if they knew who killed the 3.

3. Why didnt Feds or State use the KKK info, or informant at your trial? They just did not have anything - [redacted] Maynard King, Clayton Lewis divided the 30 thousand dollar reward. all 3 are Dead King was Inspector with Miss Highway Patrol - His heart explod
If State knew this, which they must have, do you realize they withheld vital information from you? your Defense lawyer? Why? my attorneys want nothing that would rock Prosecutors Boat.

How did you choose the lawyer to do your appeal? What did you pay him (Name + Address) What exactly did he do, what law firm, where? I knew [redacted] from about 50 years ago. He was one of the best and wisest lawyers in Jackson. He has for about 20 years had [redacted] I did not know when I hired [redacted] He had this [redacted] I agreed I could pay 10,000 and later pay 15,000 a total of 25,000. [redacted] objected wanted all the money I was in this lock down & wanted out [redacted] agreed to get my appeal bond re-instated and get the Judge off my case for cause also to file my appeal of [redacted] which he said he had no problem to get me a new trial. He never done any of above but filed a very weak appeal that the Supreme Court would not give any consideration. Just rejection and if you could tell Media anything, what would you say if you had 15 minutes. (Full answer please) Very important.

The News Media today is one of the most trusted of all people. I get letters from all over the world and none of them believe anything the News Media puts forth. All media is controlled by Liberal Communist believing Jews. They own controlling interest in most all News written or spoken. I have never at any time in my life advocated destroying the Nation & Jews nor a single Jew I have advocated that the white race take back the power of the News media by buying 51% of the stock in all media & clinical institutions. I would tell the media that each one of them must accept Jesus Christ for their souls salvation as there is no other way to be saved. They need to stop hating Christ and Trust Him - He will forgive them for the way their forefathers mistreated Gods only begotten Son.

Now, one of yours started communism a Russian Jew Karl Marx at one point in history you were the Chosen People. Not true today. He Jesus came unto his own and He's even received him not. Jesus said the first shall be last and the last shall be first - so here I am - me and mine on the front row.

3) What were those other convicted of in 1964 and if they were convicted because of 3 civil rights workers, then how & why were you convicted also 41 yrs. later - Wasn't the case closed then.

Conspiracy which carries a 10 yr. max. sentence

The case was closed then but since two of the three were members of The Communist Party and Jews the Jews and the NAACP has kept something going every day since they have raised millions and millions of dollars. Again a reminder that the news media is owned and controlled by Jews.

1) If they were shot, where's evidence, a gun? Surely modern Ballistics would prove weagen, etc.?

The FBI would not let Sheriff Rainey see what they called the bodies. They FBI claimed to do an autopsy and that each one was shot in the chest. They only had (paid testimony) and no evidence. They actually did not prove anything. No gun. No eye witnesses. Sheriff Rainey was the Chief law enforcement officer in the County. FBI never mentioned Guns shells nor bullets.

2) What is your view of how USA will be in 20-50 years?

If you are ~~foreigner~~ ^{Sanitar} familiar with old Rhodesia South Africa America with a turning back to God and Right. Well he just about as bad or worse before. The 50 years are here as of 2007 most plantations are occupied by Natives who murdered the original white owners raped and killed the women. Lawlessness rules the country seeds and their leaders have caused (5000%) Five thousand percent inflation and food is extremely scarce and almost unavailable. Mandela was a communist for most if not all his life. He went to prison and the Blacks made a martyr of him.

Mr. Ray, Please answer these!

1) Why was prayer taken from schools, 10 Commandments removed, etc. Will they remove "In God we trust off $'s hat? Who did this & why?

The organizations that go to Court are all Communist front orgs. financed with Jewish & about money you are not suppose to mention the name of Christ around the Jews nor in public places they are unbelievers in Christ they still as of today tell tall tales about who what and other lies about Jesus! - Take prayer out and you are on your way to centricity and conquering those people. The 10 Commandments were given to Moses and the children of Israel and all mankind. Jesus used them in his life here.

The Constitution guarantees that the State - Congress, will or cannot, order a state religion and am I proud, I do not want the Govt to write a prayer for me to read to God. Worship to the dictates of my own conscience. The Jews are 99% or more the ones causing all the problems in school & public places. They are already working on the new Fed we trust on money - also public buildings & a

2) What were the 3 civil rights workers doing in South, were they Jews or what? Did more come? Please explain!

Ginsner and Goodman were raised in N.Y. City their family were workers in the party helped Chambers and Hess during and after their Calif Federal conviction for betraying America selling Communist Russia our secret security info. found in the pumpkin patch by J.W.I.

The third was a black fellow from Meridian never heard of. The three (by news media) were portrayed as working to register black people to vote - But their main mission was to recruit young black males send him to a school on the Coast - Jackson County - buy their clothes Board and check all Govt money and they signed a pledge to rape a white woman once a week all summer long during the hot summer of 1964. George Wallace went to Wash DC to see LBJ with the literature they were putting out - as soon as Johnson saw what he had he ordered Wallace get your shirt & get out - Had you known what you had you

Wallace never got in

4.) How did you become so powerful, didn't the Newspaper say you was head of KKK; or some Mafia group. The newspapers & news media claimed I was Head of the most violent KKK group there had ever been - They news reporters were afraid of the mafia in those days and were afraid to print or say on the air that I belonged to mafia all the above I have denied for over 50 years even NOW

5.) How could it be Manslaughter, ain't that accidental death, why not murder? They tried me for 3 counts of murder - realized they had no case then gave it to jury as Kidnapping and Manslaughter I was not tried for kidnapping nor Manslaughter I was convicted of Manslaughter. They could not charge me according to the statute of manslaughter without I was in the act of another felony

6.) How do they think you got all three of the people all by yourself? They never proved I even saw one of the three all they had was transcripts from Dead people who said I was in the Klan. It was not against the law to belong to the Klan they had no proof of any crime

Yes of things continue - Tatoo has been the first to really try to help me - we have lost every V.R. and He helped me get 1500 pages of my transcript. They asked 3700.00, I got it for 470.00

7.) If Tatoo gets out are you letting him keep all your files and records? Cell # 7, is Best in Prison on Appeals. Ray, I was told no one did a Appeal - What did the lawyer do you paid $25,000 to? I do not know Cell 7 I wanted you to help me.

5) you mention Communist Jews, are they still in U.S.A. + what do they do now?

There were 3 or more ~~known~~ Communist Jews at my trial
They do not advertise the fact they are Communist but they teach the doctrine. Lots of Liberals in America are not card carrying members of Com. party but they teach + preach their doctrine

They control the news media (you will hear) both printed + spoken
They want complete control of world. They are very intelligent ^{word}

6) Why do you feel the Jews want to do Control newspapers/T.V. the media? What is their goal or intentions.

They have thought control over the American public through the T.V. and press. you need to hear 10 Commandments Judge tell how the liberals have control of our schools through what the teachers teach for K-12 to the universities. They want to control America

7) How is A.C.L.U./Jews/negroes connected, was it Jews who sent the 3 Civil Rights workers? Not only did they send them but

Severer and Goodman ^{sons} were raised in a Communist Jewish home ^{he went to Com. schools} - A.C.L.U. started and is financed by Communist Jews most of their first workers lawyers ^{etc.} were Jews
A Com. Jew called the Judge from Oregon and got my appeals bond revoked

8) The newspaper article this week said F.B.I. used Mafia to find bodies and had person who told where they were in damn who told, shouldn't he be charged, if he knew about bodies and F.B.I. didn't charge you but stated did 39 yrs. later. Why?

(41) yrs later for 41 years I just ignored what the news media said. I will not deny (you are forgetting I had access to the Wash. D.C. FBI tapes of interviews for years + years) the FBI made efforts to trade with the mafia

The mafia kept me under surveillance long as the FBI had. The mafia would bring me info. after I got the drop on Carson Italian Hit man. They talked to me + told me lots - I like the under world better than FBI. (I have no respect for mafia)

Question: I heard you saying something one day that the media said you were most hated, or something, please explain -

The officers here make me the most hated in the prison system

The falsehoods of the media is the cause

I am the most hated by the media,

12. If 6 guys went to prison for the killings back in the 60's, did any of them implicate you in any way - explain! It said they were K.K.K. None of the six implicated me what so ever

Bowers got 10 years & Wayne Roberts got 10 years Both are Dead Most of these were not guilty, the public in miss in 1964 claimed you a hero of the FBI accused you and most of these claimed to know something until they were arrested then they denied everything.

13. Whose property was the Bodies found on at dam?

Wm. Burroughs I believe the property was in Mrs. Burroughs name according to Land records at Court house

14. I didn't see movie "Mississippi Burning", did it Blame you, how did it show your involvement in the movie, Kidnapping or murder or what?

I have never seen this movie - it was made - written & Directed by a Communist who it was fiction all the way some one told me it showed the KKK having no members ~~except~~ except Moron Types spitting out racial hatred I understand they never used my name but had a ~~person~~ person called Prosser who owned a sawmill. it was fictional not the way

4. His speech that won Bel 'ace Prize (M.L.K.) was known by you before it was given. How? Was there any proof or evidence that M.L. King was homosexual? The FBI went to King's office and told him that they had evidence that his speech writer was a Com. and they wanted him to know. Of course King played dumb & was his phone was tapped and so was agents (2) left his office he grabbed the phone and said Hey-man the FBI has done found us out they told me you were Com but did not say they knew I was Com. so we will have to not be seen together for a while. By the way I have written the novel please give me my acceptance speech ready - if your sect. is not happy I will dictate it right now while she typed it so did you know what he would say. b6 b7C

From what you told me today, I've got these questions.

Who + why + when did they plan to come on Sen Eastland's property, were they against Mr. Eastland?

At Memphis Tenn. King said on Nat. TV that Eastland had rented some of his farm land to the Govt. & that he was going to march from Mem. Tenn. to Doddsville & build a tent city for his people. Eastland called Washington D.C. & told Justice to call up there to mem. & tell King that was private land & stay off. Justice told Jim E. that King was a private citizen & they could not tell him what to do. Eastland informed them he was Chairman of Judiciary and had access to the Records where they were paying King a Govt. check.

1) Did the Feds Kill the (3) to take public off Vietnam War? That is the mystery question. How could I have been kidnapped or shot & buried them with the CIA keeping them under 24 hour surveillance, could they not see - what were they doing not to stop - if they were doing their job - they sure got in a tight spot over that.

I am worn out & got to write Baby Doll will try to clear any points you don't understand -

Where the 3 C.R. workers Christian or proclaiming other faiths? Some where's you are missing my answers & The 2 New Yorkers were Communist Jews and religion nor Christianity was not a question according to their Morals and Teachings there was no God, their families were workers for the Com. Party USA - there was not a question of religion. Summer's wife had sex with 4 or 5 Black men in bed with no curtains on windows in broad day light and Summer sitting watching to show they believed in intergration and was not prejudice toward blacks, I did not see this but later some Policeman told me of seeing this & FBI kept them under surveillance and told the Cops to stay away they were civil rights workers, you like that story were others Killed, hurt, threatened - Blacks or White's for the Civil Rights actions.

all over America - I was not involved but in July 1964 spent a week in N.Y. the night I arrived the blacks not knowing I was there killed scores of people and burned over 200 stores in Harlem (not miss But in New York City - the liberal newspapers carried only back page stories of this - but every paper had huge headlines of Phila, miss there was 250,000 skinned there from North America - U.S. - Canada - Mexico of which I was one - Chaplain

yes King came to Phila, I never met him refused to do so. I had listened to tapes from phone calls & his office & motel rooms.

He had a com. speech writer attended com. schools for training for his marches, demonstrations, His Non violence story was a hoax every place he demonstrated had some one killed except Phila, miss I had access to his acceptance speech for Nobel Peace Prize before he did it was written by a com.

King was a queer ~~by~~ by his own admission on tapes.

To be politically correct you have to deny all this - But if it was true in the 60's it's still true today.

Question - When the 3 Civil rights workers came, what was their real mission. Did they go to your Church members?

To the best of my knowledge they were here only to recruit young blacks to sign up to take training withhout pay to rape a white woman once a week during hot summer of 1964. Again & again I never heard of these 3 until after they were missing. Then most everyone knew of them also again & again the movement even King was financed by 2 source the communists and the US Govt. (Don't laugh it's a fact.) When Eastland told Justice Dept. to tell King to not come on his property they said we cannot tell him what to do. Eastland replied I'm chairman of Jud. Committee and know you are giving him a check you can tell him. He never came. Who told you about them & what were you told?

Of course it was talked everywhere and people were wondering in really happened - I went to Wash. DC. Spent a week around the capitol lots of the time at the pentagon - where I have ~~no~~ connection now. Johnson had called in the FBI & CIA and told them that the Vietnam war was ruining him political cause & for them to get south and start something that would get the public's mind off the war and on that occurred. The CIA were supposed to have these 2 New Yorkers under 24 hr surveillance at the time they ~~disappeared~~ disappeared. I never know how they explained where they were when this happened.

How did the Sheriff & law enforcement treat & feel about them?
The Sheriff & Policemen (most of) knew about the Civil Rights workers (who ever they are) recruiting young blacks to rape a white woman once a week. This news sold lots of guns in Miss. I did not tell any I was pastoring about 4000 people and lots of them talked about the down ward movement and really were ready for war we had a better grade of moral whites in 1964 than we have today. Lots & lots of people are unhappy but they are too politically correct to stand tall and counted.

Are you having a good day? I have been reading or sleeping all day. I am kind of having a clean day - The brought mail early today. Mine has been mostly after dark. I heard from Germany, Australia and Ireland. I & miss. I got 3 letters from my Baby Doll.

If I go to the news media will it hurt my case in Federal Court (appeal)

Do you have any news ~~that~~ folks that will give us a fair deal so far the writers & T.V. have pronounced me guilty with out even knowing me. I can't get a miss. lawyer who will see them far far of the reactions & block. This is personal - so forgive me. Do you get along well or is there something wrong? I know nothing just asking. I love the painting and will mail it to tonight.

I hope your day is better than mine. However my day could be worse. God does not like for me to try to carry my burdens, but I am too stubborn to do that. I fight and leave it all to Him. Thanks for your friendship.

had written you back, Did you get one of the 506 RVR's passed out? I did. That B. is always terrifying me up and so far I have beat her every time. I got 1 of my Daily papers today it was dated the 16th I believe 8 days old. That paper came to Jackson the night of the 16th & I am just now getting it. I believe they are holding them down here in the mail room. You need not feel too bad you are not the only one who feels to be alone I am having a bad day myself of course it could be worse. I do not have my transcripts Walter has them and is writing my post conviction to send to the State Supreme Court
My lawyers just absolutely did me no good.
I am a political prisoner - The Germans have me listed as a P.O.W. I am anti communist from day one - They through the Com. Jews control the Money of the world They Dominate and own the News Media - In my speeches over 50 yrs ago I told the people of America who owned the news media and suggested we get some one all right and get the conservative Christians of the South to send $1.00 or what ever each payday they would receive stock from which ever Net work we bought and sooner or later we would have control at 51%

I was injured March 18-2005
I was in Court in June - 05 (3 months) was not able physically or mentally my brain damage keeps me even now from being able to help file those papers.

Here's the Shocker for you - I worked in the Lumber business for a living - I pastored a lot of Churches for over 50 years
I practiced Law for 10 or 12 years I just lost trust Lawyers and that's why I quit. I was 2 weeks from the Bar Exam. and I went and bought me a new sawmill and never went back to Court a day that was in the late 60's

Jan. 17-1925 I was born in Neshoba Co, Miss
I am now 82 years and 10 months almost.

Hello [redacted] Thanks for writing - I really enjoy talking to you or reading your letters

[redacted] cell 10 [redacted] is working on lots of things for me my head injury has done me lots of damage on March 10, 2005 a small tree about 6" hit me directly on top of my head it knocked my skull in about two inches at least and my head about doubled in size. They thought my neck was broken and I wore a collar till I told my Dr. I wanted rid of that thing they did another cat scan and finally took it off. I was standing straight up and that small Oak was laying about 50 feet high lodged in another tree and fell out and hit me on top of my head it was about 75 feet tall or long. It broke both of my legs (The tree hit only my head) my right leg was broke (close to top of leg) in 3 places and my left leg in 2 places also my pelvis was broke in 2 places from top to bottom so now I have pins in both legs and from my hip on both sides pins to my pelvis that is why I am still in a ~~wheel~~ chair - The Dr's did not operate on my head the skull pushed its own self back in shape Sept. 05 they sent me over to Room C where about 40 or 50 all black is now as they got me in ~~the~~ private place attacked me and pushed me from my wheel chair

Edgar Ray Killen 112906

4. When you have time, let me look over your transcripts ^{OK} ^{has them}

5. Where did you preach at? What religion? Through the years I pastored over a dozen Churches including my Home Church and one for 23 years where some of my ancestors' graves are ^{buried}

6. Did you work for J. O. Eastland or friends. Did he know you was involved in Civil rights stuff, was you ever a suspect back then? I was never on Eastland's pay roll but yes I worked for him (more in a letter) yes I was a suspect and ~~was~~ all over

Miss - sponsored by Eastland's backing ^{more in letter this is 30 yrs of work}
I never publicly exposed Eastland to the news media ^{in letter}

7. Did your lawyer mention your injuries in trial? No

8. What did say to you. I saw her on T.V. saying the medical care here was good & she could take care of you.

b7C

That's a long story I have no respect for a liar.

9. Do you get your canteen? Just when they want to

10. Have guards treated you badly? Who? They cursed me with every oath you can be cursed a long, long story, call with letter

11. Can I start writing lawyers & media & see who I can get to help or publish your personal feelings or story? ^{yes} ^{please}

12. Do you get any type pain medicine, do you hurt? ^① No ^② yes part time

13. How is Jim Hood involved? Jim Hood is Attorney General of Miss He came in with prestige of his office and indicted me Jan-2005. He now is in a battle for his political life. Some of my neighbors are sending his opponent all they can get on how to use against him He used Miss Behning in his pleading to the jury a fictitious story as fact would like to send it to [redacted] so she can enjoy it & Paige can't get it. I left room for answers!

[redacted] I hope you like your picture, I did it yesterday & during the night. I feel a strong kinship to you which is unusual for me, I've become so cautious because of many bad experiences with others. I'm totally anti-MOOC, because of such reversed discrimination. They call me a racist, but not for actions/words against them but because I fight for my civil rights continuously & have no fear of them. They keep me locked down because of it.

① Please write & tell me what your wife said, also about "someone hung up?" when she called mom. Thanks! Questions: ② Do you have any lawyers, groups or individuals whom are helping you? Most people don't know what to do. 1. Call [redacted] is doing lots of legal work for me and I am afraid to file anything to trip him up, you know the system we are working on filing a post conviction with the State Supreme Court and then will with their decision go to the Federal District Court with a Habeas Corpus! I am asking 2 for a Public Defender - I have written [redacted] a letter to [redacted] (a public defender) and ask her for help she has a boss man that said they would decide after Khevis Corpus when did you get the charge put on you, & why, & who told on you & why? This is a long story; I was pastoring some of the largest Baptist Church in the area of Athens. The 1964 case happened and the FBI told me if any one could break the case for them I could so when I refused they offered $1 million (Ha Ha I ain't no fool) then they started hiring people to talk. They then, New Orleans, not even at my trial had any evidence just bought testimony.

Question Number 5 - about who helped developed or introduced your beliefs about Blacks. No one influenced my feelings toward Blacks - I have no hatred toward ~~any~~ race of people - The first census or framers of the Constitution counted the Blacks only $\frac{3}{5}$ three-fifths of a person not my words this is History and may have been part of what made America the world's leader. I am of German and Irish blood and all of my ancestors were Protestant not the Catholic faith - I was reared in a Christian home and taught the Golden Rule - In the State offices where people pay fees Birth certificates - eat the blacks are embezzling most all the cash and the State is ignoring all this stealing - Here where I am the Blacks have taken over the Clinic and very few Whites are treated as they need - I am in a dingy type cell & custody put here by Blacks who are very prejudice - Black officers tell the inmates they cannot talk to me when passing my door - I have quite a few real good friends among the inmates who are black but at least 9 out of 10 of the officers are very prejudice toward me and show it all the time I am held to last to go on yard call of which is not even 10% of the time given by a federal court order - I am last to receive a tray at meal time and only given $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of coffee or $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of drink when I see the officer gave 2 cups to blacks.
 I am last to get to shower sometimes at 11-p.m.
 I will write about the attack at R.C. where about 50 Black officers attacked me & took my wheel chair.

When I was growing up there were very few Jews in Phila my County Seat or Union my post office each had one Jew family who owned a clothing store in each town they went to Meridian for Church as Meridian was a ~~town~~ heavily populated city of Jews - These Jews were of the Jewish Faith and not Christians - As a whole they were interested in making money than other matters - I was the Chaplain of Hamasa Temple for probably 20 years many of the Jews belonged to Hamasa I have not said since or attended in 25 years - I had no problems with the Jews in the Shrines they came by the Scottish rite I went ~~on~~ the York Route Both believed in God. The Jews deny Christ that's why they are not Christians we had no Jews in our local Churches we had no blacks except some nannies attended ~~to~~ and tended to the ladies they were treated very politely and was appreciated for their service Back to the Jews my speeches were not to keep Jews but to pool the South's Gentile (white) money and buy 51% of the stock in the news media which was dominated by Communist thinking Jews and liberals who believed in ~~but~~ the Communist doctrine - most old people tell me now that heard me speak that they did not help because of their ignorance and are living with regrets.

The blacks had their own churches and schools in the communities where I lived and worked. The whites by a very large majority wanted segregation of the races. The liberal yankees hate the blacks as a race. A Rebel accepts the blacks on a ~~individual~~ ^{individual} basis and does not hate them as a race.

I spoke here in Rankin Co Court House in Brandon on the subject Wake Up America you are too young to die. One of the most dedicated Christians ever is a converted Jew who accepts Jesus Christ and washed in the blood - Baruch again. They are so proud that they found out that was Him: (The messiah.)

There has been a active Communist Party U.S.A. since at least the 30's our National politicians are afraid to fight or resist them look at Richard Milhouse Nixon's Record - They never forgave him - even after they forced him out of office.

Because you may did not like Nixon does not make you a Communist nor a Jew. Not all Communists are Jews. However you dislike did say you did not know what was going on. The Watergate Boys were hunting Communist money receipts at Watergate Democratic Hq. The Anti Defamation League (Jewish) is one of the most brutal groups in America made up of Jewish Comm. Hit Men and 100% Mafia. They are protected by the Federal Govt. and this of course consent of the Justice Dept. CIA. etc. FBI

Its folks like these who lied on Jesus and spat in his face and put the crown of thorns on his head.

There is about as many different groups of the KKK as there is Counties and States - I have heard from 165 different groups in ~~the~~ America some tell me who they are what they do and what they believe so I hear it all. When I came to prison I did not belong to any group but have groups all over the free world (so called free world) who use my trial as 41 years old war with the Govt. and they all claim me one of them wrote me recently that the local Sheriff (I forget the County in Florida) had a one and one half hour training for his deputies and spent over half that class discussing my trial they said they had not broke any laws but they still wanted to break them up. They showed his picture and then showed me and I together. I had an agreement with most people not to let their name get away from here from me but I can write and get permission from some I am sure. Lots of my letters come from people who are pillars in their community and some are just common laborers. I will try to list the States and Countries. I get more letters from Fla than any one state of course. Miss is close second. I hear from Miss, Ala, La, Ark, Tenn, Ga, New Jersey - New York, Ohio, Mich, Penn, Oregon, Washington - Calif, Nev, Nebraska, Minn

I get letters from Finland - Canada - Australia - Ireland - Scotland - Germany -

I never met Senator Eastland on any one occasion just grew up knowing him - He was raised in Scott Co. City of Forest where he is buried in the Forest City Cemetery - I became close friends to Leader Percy G. Galt. He was a Judge in La. He claim that Senator Eastland was the only one out of a hundred that you could trust. The different Gov's & Miss would get me to call Judge Percy they knew him but he did not know them. The City of Meridian got me to tell Senator Eastland they were desperate for a $25,000 Grant said the other Senator (Stennis) + Congress. So many Montgomery said it was approved from Telling them for 2 years it was ^{forth} coming - I told the Senator and 10 days later they had the grant. (A check or deposit.)

In my church work I pastored a number of churches and had a 45 minute Sun Am Radio program Church of the Air. Churches Remus Seale Co. New County Line Seale Neshoba Co. Pleasant Grove ^{10 yrs} Newton Co. Greenland ^{11 1/2 yrs} Newton Co. Pine Grove Neshoba Co. County Line Neshoba. Mt Carmel Neshoba Co. ~~Seale~~ ^{33 yrs} Salem Neshoba Co. Oak Grove Landerdale Co. Zion ^{43 yrs} Kemper Co. Centre Hill Neshoba Co. These were not full time - every other week in my convictions were It was Jesus Christ or it was in ~~in~~ VAIN.

At my 2005 trial some of the Com. Jews who helped get Richard Nixon out of office (They never forgave him for sending Com. Jew. Spies to Prison - they haven't forgiven me either for publicly exposing them) some of the Com. Jews testified at my trial not even knowing me nor anything about me. They were from NY Conn. & Boston Oregon. I am not writing about secret or other KKK meetings. I spoke to the Citizens of their area in their Court Houses public speaking. Wake up America
You are too young to die. I do not hate Jews
I just don't trust them unless they become Christians
I spoke once here in Rankin Co. in their Court House in the 60's. Not all Jews are Com. Not all Com are Jews
Com. began with a Russian Jew - Karl Marx.
The Orthodox Jews were the ones lying - spitting and whipping on Jesus and yelling Kell Him Kell Him. When He had come to live and die for them - Save them just for the asking, and they rejected Him and all He offered. So He came unto His own and they rejected Him at that time they were the Chosen Ones.
Now remember Jesus said the first shall be last and the last shall be first. That is why you me and ours are first we now stand as the Chosen.
I just talk to [redacted] she is having trouble getting the pictures we wanted - still trying.
I will do some writing about money maybe I could get some one to sell some books and send the money (just a thought) write me what you think and how much do you think the book will sell for.
I doubt we could write for more money after we tell them a price.

you ask me about if there was a KKK yes there is and its stronger in North. The best I can tell the largest group is in Ohio - Florida has more than Miss. I have heard from 165 groups in America
A Montgomery, Ala. Com. org. puts out literature giving them a bad name there is where I get lots of information
This Jewish Com. Law org. has over 65 million dollars in the bank money donated to them Morris Dees, started that group - Ser Justice Dept. lets Dees Communist front org. help prosecute lots of Federal cases
The Jews got the Federal Govt to forbid their employees saying Merry Christmas it insults their feelings to use Christ as in Christmas they say Happy Holidays
The same group sued I stopped prayer in some schools
They removed the 10 Commandments from public display
I have the 10 Commandments in my front yard and ones had to call the local Sheriff to keep the National news media from destroying it. They Kicked Judge Roy Moore off the bench as State Supreme Court Justice in Ala.
I saw a tape of his appeal to be reinstated, the Ala Attorney General questioned him - (I was expecting it to be will you reinstate the 10 Commandments if we let you return) No the question was will you continue to declare a faith in God - His answer was yes. 5 minutes later their answer was you are permanently deshowered from the Court.
I like the AB's They have supported me from all over the free world and even Finland. I believe the AB's are stronger than the Klan - world wide
The Germans where the AB's originated claim me one of them and say they look up to me like the Catholics look to the Pope and the Americans look up to the President. I love them

my 3 Hollywood Heroes Ronald Reagan - John Wayne Gummy Stewart I have only seen John Wayne in his Western movies. The Communist had taken over the Hollywood Screen actors Guild and were writing into the movies Communist doctrine
The above I tried to get the Justice Dept. to prosecute and remove the Communist out of Hollywood. The Govt. refused and they (these 3) spent their own money and cleaned up their (union) Screen writers Guild. - Reagan left the Roosevelt Democrat Party for that and other liberal reasons.
Hon. Richard Milhouse Nixon was elected to Congress from Calif. He really went after Communism in Govt. and finally Alger Hiss and Chambers were caught selling out Top Security Secrets to Russian Com. Spies - putting the Micro films inside a pumpkin patch in Calif. They finally went to prison Hiss and Chambers were members of the Communist Party U.S.A. - when Chambers or Hiss were in New York their wife were the Woodman and Sullivan Name all Communist Jews. Remember the 2 whites were trained in a Com Training school and came from there to Mass. I had not heard of them until after June 21, 64 and the circulars were posted hunting them I also got their Com. affiliation after their disappearance (take note of this) I got my information from records at the Justice Dept.
The C.I.A. was supposed to have Sullivan (check spelling) and Woodman under 24 hour surveillance for their
Com. affiliation at the time they were buried ???

I had a friend during 1964 (before/after) in the Justice Dept.
The CIA & FBI could never figure why I could know what they were saying & doing in mess & elsewhere if I heard they are still (unless they see this are) wondering why I knew I could break their Top Secret Code - My friend never violated any laws by giving secrets away - He told I gave copies of information to some one who legally could see and use them ^{my other friend} He gave them to me.
My friend never talked to me personally never on the phone ^{never by C.I.A. #2} never wrote me a letter never sent me a package so no way could he be violating the law.
yet I got any thing there I ask for. It was sent to a Govt office in D.C. the ~~person~~ individual would bring it to mess in his personal papers & then I saw it - Lyndon Baines Johnson (L.B.J.) called the directors of FBI & CIA in and told them, I heard a tape of this that ^{on tape} g.D. Vietnam War is ruining me in politics so you see South and start something the world news will get the public's mind off that war - They set up a Com Training ~~school~~ school on the West coast to train young blacks to rape a white woman once a week during the Hot Summer of 1969 - I received copies of their literature it was supposed to be kept secret - The Journal News Media by news paper Radio TV said it was training Civil rights workers - What a lie. They paid these black checks room food and new clothes. I saw some of the checks and new suits. Gov. George Wallace

Even after death the Jews lied on ~~the~~ ^{the} said his people stole him from the tomb - But He Conquered death and defeated that Tomb, and drove the devil back into Hell and the Fire of Hell.

The day I arrived here the auditors from parchman stayed over to see me they carried me to a private office (White Gentleman) and ask if they could meet me and tell me they were my friend the oldest man present ~~except~~ ^{no} started laughing he said 80 years old yet I saw you this morning ~~He~~ and knock a black reporter about 25 yet before he fell - you sure got him out of your face. That will not be held against you ^{here} you are no where in our power to help you - Had I not back handed him when I did he would have broke my glasses They had that on world court TV.

My bond was first a $500,000.00 bond signed by two Deshoba county men (property bond) approved by the Sheriff. My appeal bond was $600,000.00 - signed by the same two men beside others including myself. Did I write about the Judge cursing his Father at Cemetery when judges mother died if not write me & I will send you severe things about his life and our experiences -

My attorney would not kick him off my Case. Told the news media that was (he thought) why I fired them it was but too late I already got the 60 grand.

They sequestered the jury they reported to the judge let them go home over night the following morning they reported 12 - 0 guilty manslaughter - I believe got to the jury (Had it done that night and I believe it was illegal to have them locked up then let them go home.

Dear [redacted]

Here's hoping and praying that this letter finds you and yours well and happy. No one loves a complainer. However I have been for the last several weeks having lots of problems with my head injury from Mar. 10.05 which was date of my accident. I am of course still in a wheelchair and this is not of choice. b6 b7C

I really love that [redacted] I believe he know's the Lord who is my, yours, and [redacted] Savior - He "Jesus" is the best friend we or any person has ever known. [redacted] has told me of your prayers of which we, me, and my family are most grateful. That is what is holding us together with Hope not only here but through out Eternity. [redacted] has told me you are a wonderful Christian. I am very much in love with [redacted] she has meant so much to me - she is my prayer warrior -

Please tell [redacted] I am sorry to be so slow and so ~~slow~~ ^{slowly} with my writing but I am about thirty letters behind with my letter writing. I have only written [redacted] and you in several weeks due to my head problems. My Emotions were destroyed by that blow to my head. It never stopped my love for [redacted] and is some times now attempting to return of which is confusing to me. My Christian Love to all they did not even come back to visit for years

very ~~truthful~~ ^{truthful} & not well liked by none.
He was released soon after I was convicted. I never saw

The News media is owned and controlled by Communist Jews or sympathetic people who are socialist.
Not every Jew is a Communist and not every Communist is a Jew. I would like it stressed that I never advocated killing nor beating of Jews even though they have organized gangs for such. The Anti any of the Mafia or crime families of America.

I have no hatred for Jews. However they approved their life style when they followed Jesus to Pilate's judgement Hall and yelled give us a murderer and they killed Jesus. They not only falsely accused him but lied on him all the way to Calvary.
We today have Communist Jewish Organizing that help the Justice Dept prosecute the white race.
I had not heard of these three until the FBI put out their picture and was hunting them. The next day the FBI came into our area in numbers of hundreds. They drove the highways of Neshoba Co & streets of Phila at excessive rates of speed thinking it would prove their efficiency of which they had none. The people still had no fear of them, & no respect.

In the 60's about 65. I had left Greenland Baptist Church a couple of my members were Mr Benton and Mrs. Harry Gordon, the parents of three sons Ed Gordon Sr. [redacted] and Clay Gordon. Both of the parents were heart patients and Mrs. Gordon was in Linds Hospital, Union, Mo. and she died from this heart problem. The following was told me by Rex Gordon Jr. He had moved to the Miss Gulf Coast Jackson Co. and was a Chancery Judge. He left Newton Co to keep from having to kill [redacted] in Union, Newton Co. After Mrs. Gordons death the three brothers carried their father Benton Gordon out to Greenland Churchs Cemetery to select a grave site for Mr & Mrs Gordon. Rex told me they were very worried about his fathers heart condition and loosing his wife. Mr. Gordon Benton was standing on plot selected to dig grave, he started crying and said has any of you boys called Edgar Ray. He would be here if he knew Harry had died and I need him more than I ever have. [redacted] turned on [redacted] and cursed him and Edgar Ray said he did not want that SOB to even see [redacted] for Mr Gordon died with [redacted] not to do and he is wrong as I was their best friend - Mr Benton Gordon grabbed his chest and fell where we buried him 2 days later along beside his wife in double funeral. They rushed Mr. Gordon to Linds Hosp. The Dr. immediately told them I sorry He is gone.

taken [] got [] where he could speak he ask one of [] to call me and tell me they were dead. I went and conducted that funeral knowing how [] felt about me for no reason that I had caused him any problem. Judge Rex Gordon later told me that was the nicest, best Eulogy he ever heard.

I quoted Prov. 31:10 and rest of chapter, for Mr. Bell I told of his faith and our friendship.

Rex Sr. is deceased now but he told me he felt accurately killed [] knowing how bad his heart was and at that time throwing a cursing fit toward Benton. Clay is also deceased - He was Head Lab Technician at the University Hospital and was completely different from [] Both of those Brothers had Cancer & Died.

In early 70's Gordon was D.A. and a gangster told me he furnished Gordon with lots of hot merchandise New pickup Horse trailers - Cars - Colored TVs Motor Homes and any thing of value. He even furnished his favorite girl friend a mink coat. so I got a list and hired some one trust worthy to go on his property and get me all with or Serial Numbers of vehicle I carried to a FBI Agent (I was that dumb) He set a date to pick all this up including the D.A. so the morning before the pickup day my office phone rang and it was a Meridian Star Reporter named [] I knew [] because I often visited the Meridian Star offices. The owner and Editor were friends of mine. I still [] and his good Editors of those days - go to page ①

I denied to [] but she was persistent and named every thing I had named for. finally told me agent Rucker told her about all this and she needed to come along. My sixth sense told me something was wrong so I drove over to the Meridian Star office and went to the private offices of the Editor and City Editor and they invited me to sit down and ask if I brought my lawyer. They told me [] came in their office and said she had just got off the phone with [] she had told him every thing - she ask did I do anything wrong they told her to wait just a moment they gave her a check for 2 months salary to have money to hunt a job. [] has not been a journalist nor reporter since - The Star offered me a settlement for the amt of their insurance if I would settle with them - The FBI agent Shake Rucker was the Double Crosser all the way he broke every confidence any one could have. He sure turned me against any agent being honest. My friend The FBI has volumes of evidence against [] until they use him to get those they want.

Reputed Klan leader Edgar Ray Killen now believes in civil rights

On February 26, 2010, In Justice. By Jerry Mitchell

In 1967, reputed Klan leader Edgar Ray Killen went on trial for depriving three young men of their civil rights after Klansmen killed the trio and buried their bodies beneath an earthen dam.

Edgar Ray Killen

Now Killen — serving 60 years in prison for orchestrating the trio's killings — is seeking millions of dollars, claiming in a lawsuit that state and federal officials have violated his civil rights.

"There is a certain irony here," acknowledged Killen's lawyer, Rob Ratliff of Mobile. "The purpose is trying to get to the bottom of what happened in 1967."

That's when Killen and 17 other men went on trial. A federal jury convicted seven and came within one vote of convicting Killen, a part-time Baptist preacher.

The holdout told fellow jurors she could never "convict a preacher."

In 2005, a Neshoba County jury did convict Killen on manslaughter charges, and he is now serving his time in the Central Mississippi Correctional Facility.

The lawsuit trots out the claim that FBI paid mobster Gregory Scarpa Sr. $30,000 in reward money after he pistol-whipped a man to get him to cough up the location of the trio's bodies. (Check out my recent blog on this.)

The lawsuit also says defense lawyer Clayton Lewis was a paid informant for the FBI.

I haven't seen any evidence so far in the nearly 40,000 pages of FBI reports that Lewis was a paid FBI informant, but I reported back in 2007 that an FBI report showed Lewis had indeed passed on information to agents regarding defense strategy. (Lewis represented Herman Tucker, who was acquitted in the case.)

I mentioned in a recent blog that Lewis may well have been the one who told Mississippi highway patrolman Maynard King where the bodies were buried. (Check out my recent blog on this.)

44A-JN-30292-119

Ratliff wants to see all of the federal files in the case. "We've definitely been shown enough shady actions that it's reasonable to inquire," he said.

In his lawsuit, Killen claims officials conspired to suppress his rights to "defend his society and culture."

Imperial Wizard Sam
Bowers

Those words sound suspiciously like Imperial Wizard Sam Bowers, who ordered the trio's killings. (He died in 2006, spending his last years behind bars for ordering the Klan's 1966 killing of NAACP leader Vernon Dahmer in Hattiesburg, Miss.)

Bowers told an interviewer that "citizens not only have a right but a duty to preserve their culture."

"By taking someone's life, though?" the interviewer asked.

"If that person wants to put his life on the line in order to destroy that culture, yes," Bowers replied.

Former Klansman convicted in '64 slayings sues FBI

The Associated Press • February 25, 2010

A former Ku Klux Klansman convicted in the 1964 slayings of three civil rights workers is suing the FBI and Mississippi's attorney general.

Edgar Ray Killen claims they conspired to suppress his rights to "defend his society and culture." The former saw mill operator and one-time Baptist preacher is currently serving a 60-year sentence.

He was convicted in 2005 of manslaughter in the deaths of Michael Schwerner, James Chaney and Andrew Goodman.

The federal lawsuit filed Wednesday seeks millions in damages and a declaration that Killen's rights were violated when the FBI allegedly used a mafia gangster during its investigation.

An FBI spokeswoman had no immediate comment.

Killen seeks millions in suit against FBI

Holbrook Mohr • The Associated Press •
February 26, 2010

A former Ku Klux Klansman convicted in the 1964 slayings of three civil rights workers has sued the FBI, claiming the government used a mafia hit man to pistol-whip and intimidate witnesses for information in the case.

Edgar Ray Killen, an 85-year-old former saw mill operator and one-time Baptist preacher, was convicted in 2005 of manslaughter based in part on testimony from a mistrial 40 years ago in Mississippi.

The lawsuit filed Wednesday in federal court seeks millions of dollars in damages and a declaration that Killen's rights were violated when the FBI allegedly used a gangster known as "The Grim Reaper" during its investigation.

"Money is secondary. We really just want the truth out," said Robert A. Ratliff of Mobile, who represents Killen. "What we're looking for is the complete, unredacted FBI file. Stand up and tell us what happened."

Killen has maintained his innocence in the killings. He is serving a 60-year sentence at a prison in central Mississippi.

Ratliff said one of the defense lawyers, the late Clayton Lewis, who represented Killen and several others in a 1967 federal trial, was a paid FBI informant.

And, he said, known gangster and killer Gregory Scarpa Sr. was hired by the FBI allegedly for $30,000 to coerce witnesses to tell where the bodies were buried and who put them there.

The FBI has never acknowledged using Scarpa.

FBI spokeswoman Deborah Madden had not seen the lawsuit and had no immediate comment.

Killen walked out of federal court in 1967 because the jury couldn't reach a verdict.

Some of the information and testimony from that trial was later used to convict him, when many witnesses were dead and he no longer had the chance to question his accusers, Ratliff said. Some of that testimony was based on information gathered by Lewis and Scarpa, he said.

Stories about Scarpa, who died in 1994, has been the stuff of gangland lore. But in 2007, Scarpa's mistress testified in an unrelated case involving an FBI agent.

Linda Schiro said she came to Mississippi with Scarpa and he once shoved a gun into a Klansman's mouth to get information for the FBI.

Her entire testimony during that trial was later questioned, though, and an FBI agent accused of conspiring in a mob murder rampage was cleared.

Still, after that trial, New York Supreme Court Justice Gustin Reichbach said he was troubled by Schiro's testimony and referenced the Mississippi Klansman story.

"That a thug like Scarpa would be employed by the federal government to beat witnesses and threaten them at gunpoint to obtain information ... is a shocking demonstration of the government's unacceptable willingness to employ criminality to fight crime," the judge said.

clarionledger.com

The lawsuit also claims Mississippi Attorney General Jim Hood, who helped prosecute Killen in 2005, was complacent in a "conspiracy of silence" for knowing about the FBI's alleged improper conduct.

"I get sued everyday or criticized for playing by the rules and doing my job," Hood said. "I'm getting used to the job. We've got 3,000 suits out there and this is just another one."

In 1964, Michael Schwerner and Andrew Goodman, two white men from New York, came to Mississippi as part of Freedom Summer and teamed up with James Chaney, a young black Mississippian, to help register black voters.

They were ambushed by members of the Klan in June and killed before being buried in an earthen dam. Their bodies were found weeks later after an intense search.

The lawsuit claims the FBI brought in Scarpa, who found the burial site through "the use of intimidation of potential witnesses, pistol-whipping actual witnesses, and assaulting other local residents."

The lawsuit also names as a defendant John Doar, a federal prosecutor in 1967, and six unknown FBI agents. Doar is now in private practice and did not immediately respond to a message left at his New York office.

Killen claims in the lawsuit that Hood, Doar and the FBI conspired to "suppress, chill, and tortuously interfere with his constitutionally protected activities of free speech and freedom of association, all in defense of his society and culture, and otherwise injure him and abridge his civil rights."

Killen claims God is on his side

Lawsuit filed last week alleges civil rights violations

Jerry Mitchell jmitchell@clarionledger.com • and Ben Greenberg Clarion-Ledger Correspondent • March 1, 2010

Convicted Klan leader Edgar Ray Killen says there wasn't enough legal evidence to imprison him for the 1964 killings of three civil rights workers and that God is going to get whoever helped put him away.

Those written remarks are among the most recent public stirrings from Killen, who also filed a lawsuit Wednesday against the FBI alleging his civil rights were violated.

"Almighty God ... is listening and is recording your acts, thoughts and deeds. One by one you will give account to him," Killen wrote in a six-page letter obtained by The Clarion-Ledger from a Klansman. His lawyer confirmed the letter is indeed Killen's.

District Attorney Mark Duncan, who along with Attorney General Jim Hood prosecuted Killen, responded, "I don't have any trouble standing before God with my role in it."

In 2005, a Neshoba County jury convicted Killen, now 85, on three counts of manslaughter for his role in the Klan's June 21, 1964, killings of James Chaney, Andrew Goodman and Michael Schwerner, commonly known as the Mississippi Burning case.

The FBI is reexamining the killings. Four suspects in the case are still alive.

In his letter, Killen lambasted prosecutors and Circuit Judge Marcus Gordon, who sentenced Killen to the maximum 60 years in prison. Killen, a former Union sawmill operator and part-time preacher, is serving his time in the Central Mississippi Correctional Facility in Rankin County.

Killen blamed the media and the people of Neshoba County. "You had all the news media that helped indict me for murder on three counts, which you had no legal evidence," he wrote. "All your grand jury heard was slick tongue talk from a couple of politicians."

Sally Beam, one of those grand jurors, said that's simply not correct.

All the evidence led to Killen, she said. "We were not out to get him, but he was the one every order went out from."

"He's still trying to cover up what needs to be exposed. If I were Edgar Ray Killen, I'd be thinking about my maker and where I'm going to be when I die. He's a preacher. He knows about heaven and hell."

Killen says mobster Gregory Scarpa Sr. pistol whipped "testimony" from Clayton Lewis, the defense attorney in the 1967 federal conspiracy trial of suspects in the civil rights workers' slayings.

The nearly 40,000 pages of FBI files in the Mississippi Burning case obtained by The Clarion-Ledger do not appear to mention Scarpa or list his informant number. Some other FBI records refer to Scarpa being brought in to help crack the 1966 killing of Vernon Dahmer.

Killen said the FBI paid Scarpa $30,000 in reward money - an allegation FBI agents have disputed.

Retired FBI agent Jay Cochran said the reward money was delivered to Mississippi Highway Patrolman Maynard King, who told the FBI where the bodies were buried. Cochran said King was passing the $30,000 on to his informant.

Philip Dray, co-author of We Are Not Afraid: The Story of Goodman, Schwerner, and Chaney, and the Civil Rights Campaign for Mississippi, said he's not surprised Killen invoked God's name since the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in Mississippi often did that.

Dray noted Killen, in his letter, never actually said he was innocent. "Convicted Klansmen have a special problem with justice," he said. "Their 'crimes' were, in their minds, righteous."

In Killen's mind, he said, "it will always be 1865."

In the letter, Killen says he read many hidden Justice Department files. "I only read those of interest, as I was not hired and I was not a pimp, but I had security clearance, so I read and obtained straight evidence," he says. "I am not putting some names in this letter as some are still living and believe it or not I am not a betrayer of anyone, especially my friends."

Larry Ellis, a former inmate who has been interviewed by the FBI, said some of what the letter says mirrors what Killen told him behind bars.

Ellis told the FBI Killen said he had access to these files because of his relationship with then-U.S. Sen. Jim Eastland and "did jobs" for Eastland around the country.

The Clarion-Ledger obtained the letter from Cole Thornton, Imperial Wizard of the United Northern and Southern Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, who attended Killen's 2005 trial. Thornton, whose real name is Charles Denton, said Killen authorized him to release the letter, which expert Thomas Vastrick of Memphis identified as in Killen's handwriting.

Thornton said he wants to see "the scoundrels who railroaded this fine man pay up for their deceit."

In his lawsuit seeking millions of dollars, Killen is demanding all of the federal files in the case.

Hood said his office has given Killen's attorney "every document we have in our files. The federal prosecutors assured me that they gave us all of the documents in the possession of the federal government."

Killen remains filled with venom, Hood said. "Hate will eat up a person's soul. As with all criminals I have had to prosecute, I still hold out hope that their souls will be redeemed."

Ben Chaney, whose brother, James, was among the victims, said after reading Killen's letter, "I sort of feel bad for Mr. Killen because he's losing. The fact is he refuses to look at reality.

"God knows what he did, and he knows he did something contrary to what God wants. The truth will set him free."

Synopsis: To set lead.

Enclosure(s): Two copies of interviews of Earl B. Akin, dated 10/15/1964 and 10/26/1964.

Details: After the murder of captioned victims in 1964, numerous members of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in Mississippi were interviewed. These interviews included that of EARL B. AKIN, date of birth 10/19/1937, Social Security Account Number [REDACTED] who was thought to have been involved in the conspiracy to murder Michael Schwerner, Andrew Goodman and James Chaney. Akin's father, BERNARD AKIN, was originally charged as one of the conspirators. BERNARD AKIN at the time, owned AKIN MOBILE HOMES, which was discovered to be the location in where the conspirators met to plan the murders. BERNARD AKIN was indicted, but was acquitted during trial. EARL AKIN was never charged, since not enough evidence existed of his involvement.

being a Klan member and denied any participation in the conspiracy to murder the civil rights workers.

Due to renewed interest in the MIBURN investigation by the U.S. Department of Justice, it is requested that [REDACTED] B. AKIN be located and interviewed regarding information concerning captioned matter.

Information is being sought on original subjects which were thought to have been involved in the conspiracy, to include RICHARD ANDREW WILLIS, OLEN LOVELL BURRAGE and JAMES T. "Pete" HARRIS. In 1964, WILLIS was a Philadelphia Police Department Officer, who allegedly assisted CECIL RAY PRICE in arresting the civil rights workers. BURRAGE's property was used to bury the civil rights workers. HARRIS allegedly planned the kidnaping with EDGAR RAY KILLEN.

AKIN has shown reluctance to co-operate with law enforcement authorities in the past. AKIN also has a violent nature and has an extensive criminal history. Agents should exercise caution when approaching AKIN.

EARL B. AKIN, interviewed at the Akin Trailer Court on Tom Bailey Drive, Meridian, Mississippi, after being advised of the identities of the interviewing Agents, was advised by SA ARTHUR L. MURTAGH that he had a right to an attorney, that no threats, promises, or offers of reward were being made to induce him to make a statement, and that any statement he did make could be used against him in a court of law. AKIN advised that he would talk with the Agents but only to find out what the Agents wanted.

AKIN was advised that the Agents were interested in knowing whether or not he had been involved in any Klan type activity in the Meridian area. AKIN emphatically denied any knowledge of Klan activity. The interview with AKIN was continued and he stated that he is unalterably opposed to any form of integration, but that he is also opposed to the use of violence to prevent integration. AKIN said that he had no objection to talking with Agents and that it might be possible for him to be brought to a point where he would cooperate insofar as he could with the FBI in preventing violence. AKIN asked how he might cooperate and he was advised that he could start by giving the Agents any information he had about Klan activity. AKIN again insisted that he had no connection with the Klan and only knew of it through public sources, such as reading about it in the newspaper. AKIN admitted that he knew FRANK HERNDON.

The following description of AKIN was obtained by observation and interview:

Name	EARL B. AKIN
Home Address	5715 Arthur Street Meridian, Mississippi

Upon this reinterview, AKIN was again advised of the investigative responsibilities and jurisdiction of the FBI and particularly of the FBI's interest in stopping violence within its jurisdiction. He was advised that continuing investigation revealed that he and his father, BERNARD L. AKIN, are members of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Mississippi and that his father held the position of Klan Bureau Investigator in the state organization of the Klan. He emphatically denied membership in any klan-type organization on either his part or his father's and professed ignorance as to what the KBI (Klan Bureau Investigator) meant. Further insistence by the interviewing agents as to his Klan membership resulted only in his insistent denial of any such membership. He said he belonged to the local White Citizens Council in Meridian, that he will resist integration until he dies but that he does not condone violence to combat integration and knows of no one who would resort to violence. He said he has no objection to being interviewed in the future by any representatives of the FBI and that agents are welcome any time they wish to stop by.

PREDICATION

On June 21, 1964, three civil rights workers, Michael Schwerner, James Chaney and Andrew Goodman were murdered in Neshoba County, Mississippi. The United States charged a group of 18 men with conspiring in a Ku Klux Klan plot to murder the men. The trial, conducted in Meridian, Mississippi with U.S. District Court Judge W. Harold Cox presiding, resulted in convictions of 7 of the 18 defendants.

Guilty verdicts were returned against:

- CECIL PRICE, the chief deputy sheriff of Neshoba County.
- SAM H. BOWERS, JR., of Laurel, the Imperial Wizard of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.
- HORACE DOYLE BARNETTE, a one-time Meridian salesman.
- JIMMY ARLEDGE, a Meridian truck driver.
- BILLY WAYNE POSEY, a Williamsville service station operator.
- JIMMIE SNOWDEN, a Meridian laundry truck driver.
- ALTON W. ROBERTS, a Meridian salesman.

Not guilty verdicts were returned for:

- LAWRENCE A. RAINEY, the sheriff of Neshoba County.
- BERNARD L. AKIN, a Meridian house trailer dealer.
- TRAVIS M. BARNETTE, a Meridian mechanic and half-brother of Horace Doyle Barnette.
- JAMES T. HARRIS, a Meridian truck driver.

BT
6/8/10

- FRANK J. HERNDON, the operator of a Meridian drive-in restaurant.
- OLEN L. BURRAGE, the owner of the farm on which the bodies of Schwerner, Chaney, and Goodman were buried.
- HERMAN TUCKER, the builder of the dam in which the bodies were found.
- RICHARD A. WILLIS, a one-time Philadelphia policeman.

No verdict was reached for:

- EDGAR RAY KILLEN, a fundamentalist minister and sawmill operator, however on June 21, 2005 he was found guilty of 3 counts of manslaughter. Killen was sentenced to sixty (60) years for the murders and is currently serving that time at the Central Mississippi Department of Corrections (MDOC) facility in Pearl, Mississippi.
- ETHEL GLEN BARNETT, the Democratic nominee for Neshoba County sheriff.
- JERRY MCGREW SHARPE, a pulpwood hauler.

SUMMARY TO DATE

Because of the Department of Justice's initiative to re-open unsolved cold case murders from the Civil Rights Era, it was determined this investigation should be re-opened.

An investigation was conducted to determine which of the remaining original subjects were still living. Database searches concluded [REDACTED] and Olen Barrage were still living.

The original MIBURN, Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) investigative file was reviewed in order to determine if any new information could be obtained regarding subjects. Various witness interviews were also conducted and information gained did not produce any new evidence against Willis, Harris and Burrage.

On May 29, 2009, [REDACTED]

KILLEN told _____ there were several white supremacists incarcerated with them. One in particular whose nickname was _____ provided KILLEN with everything he needed, including getting KILLEN's mail out of the prison. _____ also assisted KILLEN on his appeal, since he was a _____ KILLEN also has access to a cell phone. KILLEN gets approximately twenty (20) to thirty (30) letters a day.

b7C

KILLEN shared with _____ information regarding his lifelong friendship with Mississippi Senator JAMES O. EASTLAND (deceased). EASTLAND told KILLEN and RAINEY about the three civil rights workers trip to Mississippi. KILLEN advised the civil rights workers had come down to Mississippi to visit a church in Neshoba County. They had also tried to get, "Blacks to vote and get Jews and Communists into office, so that they could change the south." Spotters were sent out all over Neshoba County to be on the look out for the civil rights workers. KILLEN then began to make preparations to deal with them. KILLEN used an attendance to a funeral as his alibi. KILLEN was in charge of the KKK in Neshoba County. RAINEY was a member of the KKK. Most of the KKK members at the time were leaders in their communities. KILLEN was a preacher and recruited other KKK members from his church. KILLEN advised of a black book where he kept information on members of his congregation who were also KKK members, but it would be difficult to discern who was a church member and a KKK member.

KILLEN admitted to _____ that someone had buried the weapon used to kill the civil rights workers on his property. No other specifics were provided. Also buried were bloody sheets. KILLEN was surprised no law enforcement agencies ever attempted to search his property, but knew his property would never be searched as long as EASTLAND was alive.

KILLEN advised _____ this book would be considered the "Aryan Bible" and that he (KILLEN) is the last "King of the Klan." KILLEN knows he will die someday and he considers the book to be his prophecy and instructions to his followers. The book is almost like a collection of sermons to KILLEN's parishioners and advice to white people. KILLEN does not consider himself a prejudice person. Martin Luther King and others in the black community are considered leaders and KILLEN believed he should be the leader of the white community. KILLEN has stood up for the Aryan/Christian community. KILLEN molds scripture to what he believes. [REDACTED] debated the bible and the constitution with KILLEN. KILLEN believes all men are created equal in mind and body, but there are differences between light and dark skinned people. The ground people walk on is dark. Anyone who is not a Christian is an enemy of the state.

KILLEN at one time accused [REDACTED] of being his enemy. [REDACTED] believes KILLEN has a split personality. [REDACTED] advised he at one time saw KILLEN leap from his wheelchair into the air and grab a guard by the neck and lift him up. [REDACTED] admitted to the interviewing Agents this information might ruin his credibility. KILLEN has hypnotic qualities and [REDACTED] has seen KILLEN's eyes turn orange and hypnotize people.

b7C

[REDACTED] has been in contact with [REDACTED] since he was released from custody. [REDACTED] sent [REDACTED] more questions for KILLEN to answer. [REDACTED] in KILLEN's property, located at [REDACTED] telephone number [REDACTED].

[REDACTED] believes evidence is buried in KILLEN's property. The last time [REDACTED] talked to KILLEN was three months ago. [REDACTED] wrote a letter to [REDACTED] about one and a half weeks ago.

b7C

[REDACTED] has currently finished a manuscript and provided a copy of this manuscript to the interviewing Agents. KILLEN also provided a copy of the questions he wrote for KILLEN and the answers KILLEN provided. An FD-597 (Receipt for Property Received) was provided to KILLEN. All of these items are being placed in the 1A section of the file.

BUFORD POSEY, white male, date of birth August 28, 1925, who resides at 4445 Old Highway 11, Purvis, Mississippi, telephone number (601)264-0899, was interviewed at his residence. After being advised of the identities of the interviewing Agents and the nature of the inquiry, POSEY voluntarily provided the following information:

POSEY was asked regarding any information he could provide on [REDACTED], RICHARD A. WILLIS and OLEN BURRAGE, who allegedly played a role in the murders of civil rights workers, JAMES CHANEY, MICHAEL SCHWERNER and ANDREW GOODMAN in 1964.

b7C

POSEY advised he had no knowledge of [REDACTED] or his involvement in the murders. RICHARD WILLIS was with CECIL PRICE the evening CHANEY, SCHWERNER and GOODMAN were picked up and taken to jail. WILLIS has never attempted to hide this fact. POSEY did not think WILLIS was actually involved in the murders. WILLIS at the time wanted to be popular and was looking for political traction in Neshoba County. This was the reason why WILLIS joined the "Klan".

POSEY believes BURRAGE "got by with something" and considers him directly guilty of the murders. BURRAGE in 1964 owned a trucking company called BURRAGE TRUCKING and had several trucks. BURRAGE sold this business approximately twenty (20) years ago. BURRAGE has the reputation of being a talker. CHANEY, SCHWERNER and GOODMAN's bodies were buried in BURRAGE's property. POSEY is convinced BURRAGE gave permission for the civil rights workers to be buried on his property and gave PRICE the key to enter the property. BURRAGE is an "ignorant country boy" and wanted to be recognized without getting himself into trouble. POSEY considers BURRAGE the kind of person who can have someone killed. POSEY advised [REDACTED]

Re: Killen v Jim Hood, 10-cv-122

Dear Mr. Nolin:

I have received your latest denial of [redacted] application to appear pro hac vice. It takes about one week to obtain a certificate of good standing from our state bar office in Montgomery, Alabama. Once we receive a new certificate we will refile.

In the interim, I want to bring to your attention some rather disturbing inconsistencies.

Our prior motion to appear pro hac vice was received by your office on May 6, 2010. On Tuesday, May 11, 2010 we received, at our office, a filed stamped copy of that motion. The exact copy that we received is attached hereto as Attachment A. You will note that the motion still contains the creases from the folding into the return envelope. It also bears the court's stamp dated May 6, 2010. Most important, it clearly contains the signature of local counsel [redacted] (my signature) both at the conclusion of the motion and on the certificate of service.

The motion to appear pro hac vice however was denied because it did not contain my signature. Something is amiss.

Upon receiving the Court's notice, we checked the electronic version of our motion available from the Court's ECF system. A printed copy of that motion is included as Attachment B. Much to our surprise, and contrary to the filed stamped copy we received from the Court, this motion does not contain my signature.

It does however contain two very interesting marks. Below my signature at the conclusion of the motion in the ECF version, attachment B, (just below the capital [redacted]) is a small mark. This mark, very neatly lines up with the tail of the capital [redacted] in my signature in the filed stamped copy we received, attachment A.

128

Similarly, on the certificate of service on the ECF version, Attachment B, another small mark, this appears to be two small side by side lines, appears below the capital letter [redacted]. When compared to the filed stamped copy, Attachment A, these small marks line up with the looping tail to my capital [redacted] in this signature. Additionally, there are two faint marks apparent in attachment B that also appear to line up with the top portion of the capital [redacted] in my signature.

The underlying case in this matter is certainly one with explosive allegations. I hope that whatever the source of these inconsistencies, it is not attributable to the issues in this case.

I would ask that your office preserve the original copy of this pleading for further examination and review. Additionally, the seriousness of this matter appears to warrant an immediate conference between your office, ourselves and the office of Chief Judge Wingate. By copy of this letter, I would also ask that the appropriate law enforcement organization consider whether further investigation is necessary at this time.

Case No. 4:08CV0077-HTW-LRA

PETITIONER'S MEMORANDUM IN OPPOSITION TO MOTION FOR AN EXTENSION OF TIME FILED BY THE UNITED STATES; COMPLIANCE WITH STATUTORY TIME FRAMES REQUESTED

____ NOW COMES the Petitioner, Edgar Ray Killen, by and through the undersigned counsel, who moves this Court for justice. As part of that request, Petitioner opposes the motion by the United States for an extension of time requested of this Court on July 8, 2010 (Document #62)

Introduction

Our nation has borrowed and incorporated many positive elements in our judiciary framework from the English. One judicial concept, aptly attributed to the British Prime Minister William Gladstone, is that "justice delayed is justice denied." It is because of that express recognition of the realities associated with judicial delay that our legislators have incorporated many time limits and time requirements for judicial proceedings, including the proceedings relative to applications for habeas corpus relief.

44A-JN-30292-130

The United States Government currently seeks to elevate itself to a third party litigant in the above-captioned matter. As an equal player, the United States seeks to do what it does best: delay. However, each day of delay prejudices the Petitioner. See, United States v. Lovasco, 431 U.S. 783, 795 (1977)(Governmental delay solely to gain tactical advantage violates due process.) For the reasons outlined below, this delay should not be countenanced by this Court.

Petitioner has sought permission of this Court for leave to commence and conduct discovery, as invited by this Court at a telephonic hearing with Magistrate Judge Linda Anderson on June 17, 2010. At that hearing, all parties agreed to a time frame for responding.

The basis for the discovery request, a request that has not materially changed over the past two years, is the egregious nature of the Constitutional violations attendant to the prosecution of the Petitioner. Specifically, and as outlined in the Petitioner's petition for relief under 28 U.S.C. §2254, particular and substantive violations of substantive and procedural due process, as guaranteed by the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution, have been outlined to this Court, together with substantive and prejudicial violations of his rights to the effective assistance of counsel, as guaranteed by the Sixth Amendment to the United States Constitution.

No Reason for an Extension

While all parties recognize that the authority to grant an extension to respond to a motion under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure lies within the discretion of this Court, see Versai Management Corporation v. Clarendon America Insurance, 2010 U.S. App. LEXIS 3479 (5th Cir. February 19, 2010), perspective and credulity must be considered factors in this discretion.

Petitioner has been waiting for two years to have a substantive hearing on his habeas claims. During that time, he has requested on multiple occasions the opportunity to engage in discovery to review the FBI unredacted file as well as the State of Mississippi Attorney General's investigative file. Both of these files appear to be in the possession of third parties (such as at least one media outlet), yet it is questionable if Petitioner's counsel has ever reviewed these materials. (As Petitioner's counsel is deceased, no supporting verification of this omission can be obtained.) Consequently, Petitioner has been seeking these files to corroborate what has been obtainable and what does currently support the habeas claims made.

In addition, Petitioner must raise the jurisdictional question to this Court of whether the United States has standing to seek an extension. The United States is not a party to this habeas application and is not the custodian of the prisoner.

Issues to be considered

_____ The Petitioner submits that this Application is based upon the following clear and convincing violations of the Constitution of the United States:

_____ (a) Due Process Abridgment: Petitioner's conviction was obtained notwithstanding a forty-one year preindictment delay, notwithstanding a substantial and prejudicial variance between the indictment and the jury verdict, notwithstanding a jury determination of a lesser-included charge objected to by the Petitioner, and notwithstanding a lesser-included charge based on a non-chargeable felony, all violating the Federal Fifth, Sixth and Fourteenth Amendments. _____

_____ (b) Right to Counsel Abridgment: Contravening the terms of the Federal Sixth Amendment, Petitioner's conviction and sentence were tainted as Petitioner did not receive effective assistance of counsel during the underlying criminal proceedings as Petitioner's counsel (a) failed to prepare for trial, arrange for witnesses, review and prepare evidence, (b) failed to explain the existence, details, and effect of all matters associated with the trial, (c) failed to seek a postponement of trial when it was clear that Petitioner could not fully and completely participate in his own defense, and failed to raise all assignments of error on appeal.

_____ (c) Fatal Breakdown in Adversarial Process:

(1) FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover improperly employed a mafia hit-man to investigate the murders of Schwerner, Goodman, and Cheney, to find their bodies, and to obtain evidence for the FBI's investigation. Though Petitioner is still awaiting the production of the complete investigative file, redacted memoranda that have been filed with this court reflect that the FBI, through the use of third party intimidation of potential witnesses, pistol-whipping actual witnesses, and assaulting other local residents, located the burial site of the murdered civil rights workers and obtained confessions for the prosecution, all in contravention of Petitioner's constitutional rights.

(2) One of the original defense attorneys, Clayton Lewis, was actually a paid informant for the FBI during the legal proceedings. He is also believed to be, when mayor of the City of Philadelphia, Mississippi, a victim himself of mafia/FBI intimidation, assault, and kidnaping. His conflict of interest tainted the original proceedings of the 1960s, fatally affecting the adversarial process. To the extent that the Government entered transcripts of testimony and evidence from that trial into the record of the 2005 proceedings, his conflict of interest tainted the 2005 proceedings against Mr. Killen.

(3) The Grand Jury, convened in 1964 to consider indictments for the three murders, was carefully monitored by the FBI. This infringement by an executive branch agency into the workings of an independent judiciary deserves further examination, evaluation, and remedy.

(d) Additional Due Process Violations: Contravening the Fifth Amendment and the Constitutional right to a fair and independent trial, the following prosecutorial and investigative acts of misconduct also tainted the proceedings:

(1) Statement from the President of the United States, Lyndon Johnson, interfering with the independence of the judiciary in prosecuting the original 1965 criminal proceedings involving the Petitioner.¹

(2) Testimony indicating that FBI Director Hoover first employed a different mafia hit-man to investigate matters in Mississippi. This first "emissary" from the ranks of one of the families of organized crime was not very successful. Apparently, the local residents were provided advance notice of this mob "investigator" from the then Chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, Mississippi Senator James Eastland. This mob investigator was persuaded by local residents to leave Mississippi.

¹ In speaking about "one of America's most determined segregationist judges" according to Douglas O. Linder of the University of Missouri, President Johnson opined to Senator Eastland, "If Judge Cox does not convict these guys, I am going to have him impeached!"

(e) Due process abridgements through Brady violations

(1) Based on documents from the secret Sovereignty Commission, it is apparent that there were several paid informants to the FBI immediately following the murders. It is believed that not all information on this has been disclosed to the defense.²

(2) In 1964, the Federal Bureau of Investigation launched a highly secretive and extralegal counterintelligence program, known as "COINTELPRO-WHITE HATE." This covert action program sought to "expose, disrupt and otherwise neutralize" Ku Klux Klan groups, whose violent vigilante activities had begun to alarm the nation, and with it, the national government.³ This program and its ongoing reports were never disclosed to the Petitioner, either during his trial in 1965 or his 2005 legal proceedings. Again, if these evidentiary matters had been disclosed, the results of both trials would have been different.

(3) Finally, Jim Hood, the Mississippi Attorney General, in his prosecution of Mr. Killen, uniquely relied on the files, notes, investigations, and conclusions of the FBI. Based on anecdotal evidence and newspaper reports, Petitioner has become aware that the entire case presented to the Grand Jury and that presented by the State in his 2005 jury trial was based upon the work of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. It was the FBI that investigated the murders in 1964 and thus it was the FBI that assisted Mississippi authorities in their prosecution of the Petitioner in 2005.⁴ The FBI apparently generated over 40,000 pages of notes, memos, and related evidence. Other than the statements of an incarcerated child rapist, no new evidence was presented despite a forty year hiatus. Consequently, constitutional deficiencies in the FBI investigation in the 1960s directly impact the veracity and propriety of Mr. Killen's 2005 proceedings.

²"The Final Curtain", by Judge W.O. Dillard, Outskirts Press, Denver, 2007

³Director to Atlanta et. al., 9/2/64, (Section 1), in Athan Theoharis ed., COINTELPRO: The Counterintelligence Program of the FBI (Wilmington DE, 1978) Microfilm.

(4) It is believed that Mr. Hood knowingly used and proffered information that was bought, information that was obtained unethically from defense counsel, and information that was the product of torture and intimidation. None of this information related to intimidation, torture, or the like was disclosed to Mr. Killen or his counsel in violation of Brady v. Maryland.

_____These claims are not new or surprising to the United States. In its pending motion, the Assistant United States Attorney suggests that the Petitioner "has dramatically expanded the categories and number of documents which he seeks to obtain" and that the filing earlier this year of a Bivens action "has further complicated the government's response to the present motion." (Motion to Extend Time, page 1)

⁴In October of 2006, the International Association of Chiefs of Police handed out its only individual award to retired FBI Special Agent Jim Ingram for assisting Mississippi authorities who successfully prosecuted Petitioner in 2005 for the 1964 killings of civil rights workers James Chaney, Andrew Goodman, and Michael Schwerner.

To these arguments, Petitioner respectfully objects. Petitioner has not expanded the requested material since his requests for discovery began two years ago. The allegations presented in the Bivens action mirror those in this proceeding. The filing of that action should not only not have complicated matters, it should have streamlined the preparation of the FBI for litigation.

Finally, Petitioner again states to this Court that no further discovery would be required if the United States would simply stipulate to the factual allegations outlined

Time Is A Factor

____ Since the Habeas Corpus Act was adopted by the English Parliament in 1679, the concept of immediacy underscores the right defined by the writ. Pedestrian judicial proceedings are judged against the 19th century adage of William Gladstone that "justice delayed is justice denied." However, the time sensitive nature of a writ of habeas corpus, or an order pursuant to either one of its federal statutory equivalents, is a paramount concern. Each day, each hour, that a wrongly incarcerated individual remains without liberty is an hour, or day, irreparably lost.

Petitioner remains incarcerated. Each day of lost liberty is a day that cannot be made up once this court recognizes and rules on the unconstitutional activities upon which his conviction has been based. This octogenarian currently sits in a maximum security medical facility of the Mississippi Department of Corrections. He has been verbally and mentally abused by some inmates and notably by correctional staff. The conditions that this man is enduring has been outlined to this Court in prior filings.

This is not the kind of environment that any inmate should endure. It definitely is not appropriate for a sickly, wheelchair bound, 84 year old clergy. And it should occur to a man who is in prison based on a variety of constitutional infringements.

Each day is irreparable. Despite his age, Petitioner values each day and challenges anyone to objectively show that he was either guilty of murder, intimidation, or kidnaping. He was not. But this Court is not being asked to review an actual innocence claim. The egregious nature of the constitutional violations must be remediable with the issuance of a writ of habeas corpus.

Statutory Time Constraints

_____ Federal law discusses the applications for habeas corpus relief in 28 U.S.C. 2241 et seq. These provisions discuss the generic habeas petition as well as petitions by those in federal custody (Section 2255) and those in state custody challenging violations of federal law (Section 2254)

An application for a writ of habeas corpus, in any of the specific categories or generally, may be filed with any federal court, justice or judge. Once filed, the court is required to either issue the writ or an order to the respondent to show cause why such a writ should not be forthcoming. Congress provided only three days for this process to occur. The respondent is then provided with a brief window to respond and for the court to fix an evidentiary hearing date. By statute, and unless good cause exists for an extension, this hearing is to occur within five days. The underlying public policy for this truncated schedule is to insure that individuals are not incarcerated contrary to the laws of the United States.

The time periods established in the statutes are not arbitrary. These time windows for mandatory action actually flow from the original British Habeas Corpus Act of 1679, probably the most famous statute in the annals of English Law. See, William F. Duker, A Constitutional History of Habeas Corpus 40, at 52 (1980) For purposes of this cause, only one historic reference might be required, and that is a citation to the original and official name to this Act: "An Act for the better securing and liberty of the subject, and for prevention of imprisonments beyond the seas." All Petitioner seeks is to secure his liberty.

Conclusion

The United States has requested an additional 31 days to respond to the Petitioner's motion. The bases for this request are listed to be complications in communicating with the FBI's general counsel's office concerning this case, a broader discovery scope than previously understood, and the concurrent pendency of a Bivens action in this matter. While Petitioner is not in an informed position to comment on the veracity of these claims, logic and common sense suffices as a proper barometer.

Petitioner simply wants to see the unredacted investigative file prepared by the FBI in the case for which Petitioner has been sent to prison for the remainder of his life. It is a file that others have had free access, and it is a file that includes one redacted memorandum explicitly stating that some of the facts of this case should be kept secret from the Attorney General. Petitioner has presented sufficient evidence to strongly suggest constitutional abridgements, administrative improprieties, as well as a cover-up as to these illegal matters commencing in the 1960s. Each day that the United States stonewalls the release of this investigative file represents an additional day to this cover-up and its underlying conspiracy.

Petitioner believed he had an understanding as to this motion and as to discovery. The filing of this motion for an extension represents either a misunderstanding or a breach of that consensus. Either way, it prejudices the Petitioner. Consequently, Petitioner urges this Court to comply with the time parameters of the habeas corpus statutes, set for immediate hearing a full presentation of Petitioner's claims, Respondents' answer, and all evidence in support thereof. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. 2243, such a hearing is required to be set no more than five days after Respondent's answer is filed, unless "good cause" exists for additional time. Respondents have had their five days. Respondents have filed their answer in August of 2008. Please allow the Petitioner his statutory rights to a hearing immediately.

evidence A true and undeniable message for my hometown, your Neshoba County and Philadelphia MS. Officials who are so politically correct. You had all the news media that helped indicted me for murder on three counts, which you had no legal ~~yankee~~ All your grand jury heard was slick tongue talk from a couple of political politicians. Who ordered a number of testimonies made by F.B.I. agents who in the presence of Gregory Scarpa Sr. pistol whipped this testimony from low moral people. That are now deceased. Mr. Scarpa Sr. was a known mafia who was paid by check thirty thousand dollars of your tax money. And for the next thirty years was allowed and protected by the F.B.I. to operate all across America. His business was murder for hire, drugs and any type of crime. He was so successful - even male and female prostitution- that his career ended as godfather of the Colombo crime family in New York City. Mr. Scarpa Sr. went on to be known in the underworld as the Grime Reaper. He was never tried and convicted, but the Grime Riper met the Greatest Judge of all "the Great God of Heaven". He died of hiv/aids.

I warn you MS. And Neshoba County officials God is still on his throne and he knows of my every deed, and every speech I ever made. I am not at peace with you people who promote this false lie toward me. But I am at peace with GOD. You people know who you are and you are responsible, who not only to the tax payers but to Almighty GOD. Who is listening and is every minute recording your acts, thoughts, and deeds. One by one you will give account to Him. You took my life from me and my family but God is our shield and body guard. He is my shield and I have lived to your joy in a very dangerous and hideous place. But Almighty God has kept me alive. I do not intend for this to be my farewell message to you. But only God knows I see my lives sun setting low as in a few weeks I will be 85 yr years old. As I stated you took my life from me and my family, and our hopes of retirement. You never took away our faith in Christ. Nor our love for one another.

Now those who are our friends, GOD bless my friends. Your supervisors voted to fund my trial and that depleted the county treasury. Some of you supervisors told the tax payers that you could not keep your word- Edgar Ray Killen's trial took all the money. Those that told that was defeated and others did not run. I am not trying nor intend to burn any bridges, but I have walked the streets of most major cities in America. I bragged on MS., Phil. MS., and Neshoba County. However I want out of here and retrace my trips, to make apologies to those Americans that I bragged too. Your [redacted] made welcome six yankee communist members to Phil. Is [redacted] your cities greatest? I have no promises to make if I leave here alive and with my mind. I will tell you the complete story, all the above is only an introduction to this part of history. I would like to tell you the real story of how our government played during this time. I never told Neshoba County folks but for some 30 yrs. I had access to the justice dept. files of which there are millions and millions which are hidden, I only read those of interest. I was not hired and not a pimp but I had security clearance so I read and obtained straight evidence. I am not putting names in this newsletter as some are still living and believe it or not I am not a betrayer of no person especially my friends. The justice dept. hid the files on Scarpa the mafia chief but they and Hood are fighting the courts not to give those files to my attorney. For your information I had no real attorney until I left MS. I wrote an attorney in Ohio who practiced law nation wide. He moved to a neighboring state so he can drive to see me. My reading of evidence was not in the justice building, the files were copied and brought to me. These records the F.B.I. has tried for 40 yrs. To find who leaked these records. Your officials kept screaming JUSTICE we demand JUSTICE. I can tell you if you are serious about justice call your state representatives, your state senators, your U.S. congressman, your U.S.

b6
b7c

Senators, and your governor and ask for justice. Have them make the files public or give them to courts and then demand justice. You need not call Hood -your friend- he has the files and you will never see them. The (FBI) justice dept. ^{not} Hood did not deny Scarpa's pistol whipping. They say they can not release the files because of National Security reasons. Ask the D.A. whom you elected why he did not tell you tax payers about the pistol whipped readings in my trial, and the federal trial in 1967. Ask the D.A. to look you in the eye if he even answers you. Ask for the truth, not Edgar Ray Killen's word. Above I wrote that the FBI and Hood says I cannot have those records pertaining to my case because of National Security. That is true because if lawyers outside of MS. got hold of them they would have a National field day. With the way Lyndon Johnson and the justice dept.- a few hand picked men- tore the U.S.
Constitution to shreds.

In 1776 the founders of the United States of America sent a Declaration of Independence to the king of England. In that declaration Thomas Jefferson wrote, that when any form of government becomes destructive it has the right of the people to alter or abolish it and to institute new government. We are invoking this right to rise up and alter the course of our government, you have had your chance to correct America's course and you have failed.

To the gentlemen on the board of supervisors lets tell the public what the salary of your industrial giant is. It is $60,000 Or $80,000 a year plus expenses. [redacted] could not stay off the TV for telling the world he could not get industry into Philadelphia untill I was convicted. Gentlemen where are the industrial smoke stacks??? Tell me where is the Emerson motor plant, US motors, where is the glove factory, where is the two pants factories, where is the pallet factory, the greeting card factory. Where is La Pacific Lumber Co.??? How many thousands in Neshoba County is out of jobs today? 1,400 were fired from the casino in the last year. When I was home the last figures in Neshoba County of employed people were the lowest in the state, always number 1 or number 2 in employed people in the state. Well you locked me up, so please tell me now what the rate is. Your chamber of commerce has cried their eyes out, of course [] is the cheering sector for them. Oh we are tired of being last, we are rated last if only we can convict Edgar Ray Killen then we can be number 1. Well let me explain "Baby you are getting there" you have me locked up illegally for almost 5 years and now as of latest figure you are close to number 1 in the state on unemployment.

Hood said at my trial that my illegal actives caused the civil rights law to be passed, what he did not tell was in 1964 before and after a few years MS. Had the very lowest or second lowest crime rate in the Nation, there you are Baby you were last or next to last. How about today this year we will come in second or third place. So stop crying you are headed for the first place in everything number 2 or number 3 in crime. Highest rate of unemployment don't cry yet it will go higher. Number 1 in lost factories, keep crying you will be number 1 in all these. If you are reading all this will you not please state that at 85 I have lost my marbles or I am making excuses. You will boil my Irish German ~~and~~ blood of which I am overly proud of my blood line. Please get off your duster and have someone get you these records and then if its not too late you might join the fight to clean up our government and the Judicial system. Have you never read where a great statesman (early American) said all it takes for this Country to fail is for good men to do nothing.

I realize that this letter I am writing is placing my life in danger but this 85 year old man thinks no fear and knows no fear. I have walked with death breathing down my back here for over four years not the inmates as a whole they are far better moral people than most of the officers. Don't look at me, I have already told them to their face. I will name one who was pistol whipped- (my attorney said this fed record you can get it. It my do you like me and take all your money, is your freedom not worth it?) Clayton Taylor Lewis was pistol whipped, kidnapped by Scarpa until he went to work with the FBI. A paid informer also a defense attorney for some or all in the 1967 federal trial. Attorneys where are your code of ethics, where is your oath as an officer of the court. If any defense attorney is reading this, you know why John Dear and others knew all, and every defense move that you were going to make in the next days court.

the judge Mitch Moran was a man with a conscious after I lost my legal constitutional bond, I fired Mitch and after a few months Mitch needed to talk with me. He came here (CMCF) and we talked for a period of time. Mitch looked like death he really broke down and confessed all. I felt great sorrow for Mitch he was too sensible a man to have gotten in the bind he was in. Mitch gave me all the money I paid him. As a bribe Mitch told me that he had great regrets that he was unable to defend me as he could and especially that he could not keep my perfectly legal constitutional bond. Mitch did not tell me he was expecting to be murdered, he did have great fear of the illegal actives of two of your elected officials. I never told of Mitch's visit, some how some official here has a tape of our conversation and before too much could be told, said or done Mitch was facing death. Is it to late to carry Mitch's remains outside MS. and find the cause of death? Don't let [redacted] while looking down tell you, look who's telling this. Yes I'm reminding you of an organization in MS. named Hood, [redacted] [redacted] and [redacted] (one or two I can't remember) [redacted] [redacted] One million dollars- call your governor -please call your Rep., Senator, U. S. Congressman and tell them to make [redacted] Hood and the FBI to show the records. And have the judges rule on showing records of the FBI crimes. I fear that you decent people who read this may think that I am asking you only to help me, NO, NO, NO. I am asking you to WAKE UP if your Federal Government can pay and protect a mafia godfather to kidnap some low grade person and pistol whip him until he signs the statement the FBI presents him. What keeps you from being the next one tried and put away as I was? What about your family, are they safe in a state that is the top ridden crime state of the 50 states. Please for your children's sake call your elected law makers and ask them to help release those federal criminal records. I am not perfect, but I am right! Ask Hood and [redacted] where the twisted child rapist was at the time (I understand he was in N.J. during the years in MS. that he claimed he heard me tell I did it). He is not registered SEX OFFENDER! What is the law Hood and [redacted]? Why was his sentence cut and he was SET FREE? He is a liar so is Hood.

v.

CHRISTOPHER EPPS

PETITIONER'S REPLY TO MOTION TO QUASH SUBPOENA
AND
TO FBI'S OPPOSITION TO MOTION TO COMPEL

Petitioner Edgar Ray Killen, by and through his undersigned counsel, hereby replies to the Government's Motion to Quash Subpoena and, as the arguments are parallel, to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Response in Opposition to Petitioner's Motion to Compel. Petitioner urges this Court not to quash the subpoena duces tecum served on the Federal Bureau of Investigation on July 23, 2008. The reasons for this position are as follows:

1. This Court has supported the cautious commencement of discovery, and the facts and circumstances of this habeas petition fully support discovery;
2. Under the APA, the subpoena is an administrative request for the production of documents;
3. The denial of the request by the FBI was contrary to law and to the proper application of the FBI's Touhy regulations;
4. Any claim of privilege in and to the requested documents is incorrectly asserted;
5. The request is hardly burdensome in light of the facts and circumstances of this petition.

For these reasons and those more fully outlined in the Memorandum of Law filed in support hereof, Petitioner urges this Court not to quash the subject subpoena, to affirm Petitioner's Motion to Compel, and to allow discovery, in its fullest and requested sense, to commence and continue.

v.

CHRISTOPHER EPPS

MEMORANDUM OF LAW IN SUPPORT OF PETITIONER'S REPLY TO MOTION TO QUASH SUBPOENA
AND

I. PROCEDURAL CONTEXT

On July 23, 2008, the undersigned forwarded a subpoena (hereinafter, the "Subpoena") to the Jackson, Mississippi office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (the "FBI") seeking relevant and material information associated with the pending Federal habeas petition filed by Mr. Killen in this United States District Court. The FBI has, over the past ten months, refused to comply with this Subpoena, prompting Mr. Killen to seek judicial intervention through a motion to compel.

On March 1, 2010, Mr. Killen filed such a motion at the urging of this Court. See, Order and discussion by this Court with both Mr. Ratliff and the Government, September 11, 2009. This Motion to Compel seeks to compel the FBI to comply with the Subpoena but also with the letter and spirit of the judicial policy of this nation: failure to disclose evidence favorable to an accused violates the Federal Constitution. See, Brady v. United States, 373 U.S. 83 (1963); Giglio v. United States, 405 U.S. 150 (1972); and Kyles v. Whitley, 514 U.S. 419 (1995) ("the Court [has] disavowed any difference between exculpatory and impeachment evidence for Brady

The Government, on behalf of itself and the FBI, now seeks the judicial imprimatur to the stonewalling and coverup commenced when, in 1967 the FBI failed “to disclose evidence favorable to the accused” that deprived him of a fair trial. United States v. Bagley, 473 U.S. 667, 675 (1985) It is a continuation of the stonewalling and coverup commenced when, prior to that trial but after the killings of Goodman, Schwerner, and Chaney, FBI Assistant Director Belmont, Domestic Intelligence Division, revealed in a [currently redacted] memorandum that “. . .in a case such as this involving the Bureau’s prestige, under no circumstances should there be any indication in subsequent press comment that would disclose our modus operandi [hiring a mafia hit man to obtain information] and put someone in a position to either presume or assumewho assisted us in the recovery of the victims. “ (7/31/64 memo to Belmont) An additional memorandum further reflected this conspiracy between Belmont, Rosen, Nicholas Katzenbach (who later became Attorney General himself) and others to hide certain matters from not only the public, but also the Department of Justice. (“under no circumstances should we disclose information to....[Burke] Marshall or the Attorney General [Robert Kennedy]”) See, Docket #30 and 34, of this matter. And it is a continuation of the stonewalling and coverup that permits the highest law enforcement agents of this nation to ignore their principles and stated transparencies and refuse to produce the original, unredacted FBI filed for even an in camera review for exculpatory evidence. See, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Cold Case Initiative, www.fbi.gov/page2/nov09/coldcases_111809.html

For the reasons outlined herein, the documents requested should be produced and the Government’s opposition should not be sustained.

II. SUBPOENA NOT AUTHORIZED

The FBI maintains that the subpoena was not authorized and thus should not be enforced. The basis for this position is that Rule 6 of the Federal Rules Governing 2254 Cases states that leave of court is required before any discovery ensues. A strict, parochial reading of this rule, absent a recognition of the facts of this case, may bring one to such a conclusion. But the facts of this case indicate two important factors which mitigate against the position taken by the FBI.

Uncontroverted Brady Violation

First, Attorney General Jim Hood has admitted to this court that there was a Brady violation in Mr. Killen's trial in 2005. Attorney General Hood adamantly stated to this Court that his office "was never in possession of an unredacted FBI file." (Response in Opposition to Amended Discovery Request, Docket # 48, 11/10/2009) As the FBI file was the primary investigative source material used to indict and try Mr. Killen in 2005, this statement admits the constitutional violation articulated in Brady. Kyles v. Whitley, 514 U.S. 419, 131 L.Ed.2d 490, 115 S.Ct. 1555 (1995)(State prosecutor was required to conduct a Brady review of the FBI's files in order to locate and produce any exculpatory evidence that might exist within them.)¹

Court Granted Leave

Second, this Court did grant leave to file the motion to compel and proceed with the vehicles for discovery. See, Order of September 11, 2009, and Order of February 17, 2010 ("Counsel for plaintiff directed to file appropriate motions pertaining to requested discovery on or before 3/01/2010") Though apparently the FBI desires to parse the language of this Court's prior orders, the larger picture is that discovery is, and ought to be, available in this habeas proceeding.

¹In Kyles, the Supreme Court held that, because materiality for Brady purposes is measure in terms of the cumulative effect of suppressed evidence, the prosecutor is "assigned the consequent responsibility to gauge the likely net effect of all such evidence and make disclosure when the point of "reasonable probability" is reached. Kyles, 514 U.S. at 437. This, the Court held, "means that the individual prosecutor has a duty to learn of any favorable evidence known to the others acting on the government's behalf in the case, including the police." Id.

The United States Supreme Court has held that such cause exists when a habeas petitioner "establishes a prima facie case for relief." Harris v. Nelson, 394 U.S. 286, 290, 89 S.Ct. 1082, 22 L.Ed.2d 281 (1969), reh'g denied May 5, 1969. As the Government has previously noted to this Court, the Harris Court stated that when "specific allegations before the court show reason to believe that the petitioner may, if the facts are fully developed, be able to demonstrate that he is confined illegally and is therefore entitled to relief, it is the duty of the court to provide the necessary facilities and procedures for an adequate inquiry." Id. at 300. (Emphasis added)

In addition to the uncontroverted Brady violation, a violation of material and substantive scope, Petitioner has also presented to this Court specific allegations of Sixth Amendment infringements associated with the co-opting of Clayton Lewis, one of the defense attorneys, as a paid informant for the FBI during the original Federal proceedings, and far too many other constitutional abridgements which have been fully outlined in prior pleadings.

The subpoena issued may have been technically flawed, but the propriety of its issuance, against the facts of this case, is fully supported.

III. ENTITLEMENT TO OBTAIN DOCUMENTS FROM THE FBI

The FBI maintains that since the FBI is not a party to this litigation, Mr. Killen cannot compel the FBI to provide documents in this case. Such a position (1) ignores the FBI's role in the case, (2) elevates the FBI Touhy's regulations to substantive limitations that ignore the facts of this case, and (3) is contrary to the public policy of both the FBI and the Department of Justice.

The FBI's Role

The FBI states in its filing that it is not a party to Mr. Killen's habeas petition. Though not a named party, the Federal Bureau of Investigation was the primary investigative body underlying the evidence and proceedings leading to Mr. Killen's conviction and incarceration. It was, in many respects, a state actor and should not now seek to distance itself from that role. It was the FBI that investigated the crime in the 1960s. It was the FBI that developed all leads, interviewed witnesses, and provided the manpower behind the initial Federal indictments. And, it was the FBI file, code named "Mississippi Burning," that the State of Mississippi relied upon in its prosecution of Mr. Killen in 2005. See, Killen v. State, 958 So2d 172, 182-183 (Miss. 2007). Given its position in this case, the FBI served as an arm of the State of Mississippi in its prosecution of the Petitioner.²

Touhy Regulations

Of the totality of the FBI and the Government's arguments against producing a file that is over forty years old, the parameters of the regulations established for such a request is perhaps the only one supported by law and policy. A request for documents by a mere citizen must be viewed under the regulations long established by the FBI. When such a review is concluded, this Court can see that Mr. Killen has complied with the administrative regulations of the FBI and is also "entitled" (to use the Government's term) to review the requested FBI file.

²Chief Division Counsel Comeaux confirmed this role when he stated in his correspondence of August 11, 2009, attached to the Government's recent filing, that the requested materials were not being produced, inter alia, because they were "investigatory records compiled for law enforcement records."

The FBI declined the request for production citing (1) the request seeks information compiled for law enforcement records, (2) the requested information is protected by privileges, (3) statutory restrictions bar disclosure, and (4) the request is unduly burdensome.

Under the APA, the subpoena forwarded to the FBI was "in effect a request for information from an executive department" and should be treated as an administrative demand. Edwards v. U.S. Department of Justice, 43 F.3d 312, 316 (7th Cir. 1994) Also, see, Houston Bus. Journal, Inc. v. Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, 318 U.S. App. D.C. 214, 86 F.3d 1208 (D.C.Cir. 1996)(If an agency refuses to produce requested documents, remedy is under the APA.)

Having received this request, the FBI, through its Chief Division Counsel Norman Comeaux, sent a response to the Petitioner declining to produce the requested documents. This refusal must be reviewed by this Court to determine if it was an abuse of discretion or "otherwise not in accordance with law." 5 U.S.C. §706(2)(a) In evaluating the FBI's decision, this Court is required to take into account both that agency's internal regulations governing the release of material and the substantive law involved. Commonwealth of Puerto Rico v. United States, 490 F.3d 50 (1st Cir. 2007) In that evaluation, courts are urged to remember that the Touhy regulations are only procedural, and do not create a substantive entitlement to withhold information. Id. Consequently, the FBI's compliance with the regulations cannot be a sufficient justification for withholding requested materials.

While Petitioner does not disagree with the potential applicability of the Touhy regulations (as found in 28 C.F.R. 16.22(a)), Petitioner applies the facts and circumstances of this matter differently than the FBI and the Government do in their recent filings

The first reason cited for withholding the requested documents is that they represent investigatory records compiled for law enforcement purposes (even though the investigation occurred over forty years ago). The information sought is simply the exact information the FBI has already released to other parties, specifically including the Office of the Attorney General of the State of Mississippi, albeit in redacted form, and to a judge in the State of New York. Though Petitioner fully recognizes the importance of maintaining the sanctity of records compiled for law enforcement purposes, these records were placed into the realm of Brady materials when all 40,000+ pages with redactions, were originally released to the state's attorney general office. Whatever privilege these materials might have been cloaked with as "investigatory records" was waived when this transfer occurred.

Secondly, the FBI supported its decision on the basis that the "administration of justice" does not require disclosure. In that argument, the FBI references the subject case as a "defense of a private lawsuit." A closer examination of this matter will reflect that such is not the matter at hand. Killen v. Epps, Case Number 1:08-cv-253 (renumbered by the United States District Court as Case No. 4:08-CV-0077-HTW-LRA) is a collateral, post conviction proceeding, seeking habeas corpus relief under 28 U.S.C. §2254. Mr. Killen is the petitioner, and thus he is not defending any action, and it is a collateral proceeding arising from his 2005 state criminal conviction, and thus it is not a private lawsuit.

Similarly, the FBI's determination that "the administration of justice would be impaired by disclosure of law enforcement records," reflects a misunderstanding of the claims raised in this case. It is Mr. Killen's position that his conviction should be reversed because of the involvement in his case of a mafia assassin, witness torture, improper cooperating defense attorneys, and a state attorney general who saw (and continues to see) nothing improper with due process abridgments, Fifth Amendment lapses, and Sixth Amendment violations. At the very least, the involvement of Gregory Scarpa, Sr., a well known assassin for organized crime, in the investigation of the killings of Michael Schwerner, Andrew Goodman, and James Chaney, impairs the due administration of justice in this case. Further, and as compelling, the reliance by the Government on local attorney Clayton Lewis, one of the defense attorneys for Mr. Killen, as a paid informant during the criminal proceedings against Mr. Killen, impairs the proper adversarial nature of our criminal system. These acts were performed by a previous FBI director and supported by long-since deceased or retired agents. However, hiding behind the Touhy regulations, even if done with the best of intentions, serves (a) to create a new impairment to justice, (b) to reaffirm the conspiracy of civil rights violations occurring in the 1960s, and (c) to blind the public from the transparency of truth in this matter. These regulations were meant to protect records, techniques, and procedures vital to law enforcement purposes.

Finally, the FBI declines production on the basis of several privileges and statutory bars. These privileges include the law enforcement privilege, attorney-client privilege, work product privilege, and Privacy Act privileges.

As to the statutory restrictions associated with privacy act matters, under the statute, such privileges terminate on the death of the individual. Most of the individuals involved with this investigation are now deceased. The withholding of these requested documents under the claim of other regulations, promulgated under the Housekeeping Act of 5 U.S.C. 301, is, by definition, capricious and contrary to what these regulations provide. Contrary to the argument of the Government, these internal administrative regulations, "provide guidance for the internal operations of the [agency]," but do not create a substantive defense to disclosure. Mak v. FBI, 252 F.3d 1089 (9th Cir. 2001) In other words, "the regulations do not 'create an independent privilege' authorizing the Department of Justice to withhold information." Id. Rather, they "simply set forth administrative procedures to be followed when demands for information are received." Id.

For example, the Supreme Court first recognized a qualified privilege for certain information related to law enforcement activities in Roviaro v. United States, 353 U.S. 53 (1957).

There, the Court explained that the government has a qualified privilege to withhold the identities of confidential informants. Id. at 59. Such a privilege "further[s] and protect[s] [] the public interest in effective law enforcement," encouraging citizens to communicate their knowledge of crimes by preserving their anonymity. Id. The Court also noted that "[t]he scope of the privilege is limited by its underlying purpose. Thus, where the disclosure of the contents of a communication will not tend to reveal the identity of an informer, the contents are not privileged." Id. at 60.

Since Roviaro, we have recognized a privilege for law enforcement materials in other circumstances. In United States v. Cintolo, 818 F.2d 980, 983-84 (1st Cir. 1987), the FBI with judicial authorization, had monitored conversations between the defendant and various confederates via hidden microphones placed within an apartment. The district court refused to allow the defense to question witnesses "concerning the precise location of the electronic surveillance devices" on the ground that such questioning would "jeopardize future criminal investigations." Id. at 1002. However, this qualified privilege can be overcome by a sufficient showing of need, and thus concluded that courts must determine on a case-by-case basis whether a party has "demonstrated an authentic 'necessity,' given the circumstances, to overbear the qualified privilege." Id.

The requested documents meet none of the concerns for this privilege. The file is over forty years old. The investigative techniques, contacts, informants, and processes are of a different era.

The law enforcement exemption to FOIA shields from disclosure documents whose production would, inter alia, "interfere with enforcement proceedings" or "endanger the life or physical safety of any individual." Id.; see also Ctr. for Nat'l Sec. Studies v. U.S. Dep't. of Justice, 331 F.3d 918, 925-26, 356 U.S. App. D.C. 333 (D.C. Cir. 2003) (explaining that, in enacting 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(7)(A) "Congress recognized that law enforcement agencies had legitimate needs to keep certain records confidential, lest the agencies be hindered in their investigations" (quoting NLRB v. Robbins Tire & Rubber Co., 437 U.S. 214, 232, 98 S. Ct. 2311, 57 L. Ed. 2d 159 (1978))). As none of these concerns come into play regarding this forty year old case, the application of this privilege is capricious and contrary to the law.

A similar analysis exists for each of the proffered "privileges" as each cannot stand scrutiny with the facts and circumstances of a case investigated in the 1960s is analyzed.

The last reason given for denial is that the request is unduly burdensome. This position has long been rejected. See, Cheney v. U.S.D.C., 542 U.S. 367, 124 S. Ct. 2576, 159 L. Ed. 2d 459 (2004)(Comprehensive discovery requests do not create an "unconstitutional burden" on the Executive Branch.) The work of "locating and reviewing potentially responsive documents" was accomplished in 2005 when the FBI forwarded its file to the State of Mississippi. As the D.C. Court of Appeals made clear in Nixon v. Sirica, 159 U.S. App. D.C. 58, 487 F.2d 700, (D.C. Cir. 1973), executive branch agencies must comply with the law as established by Congress, and if there is a question of what is exempt or nonexempt from discovery requests, it is the judiciary that must make such a determination.

Finally, courts have provided an additional standard of review when determining if an agency appropriately withheld matters for production. This standard is based upon a nonstatutory review of the issue, if an agency appears to be exercising powers beyond its authority or if a constitutionally protected interest is being adversely affected. Hostetter v. United States, 739 F.2d 983 (4th Cir. 1984); Jaffee v. United States, 592 F.2d 712, 719 (3rd Cir. 1979); Board of Governors of Federal Reserve System v. McCorp. Financial, 502 U.S. 32 (1991).

Based on the FBI's own regulations, the requested documents should have been produced.

Public Policy

It is important to reiterate the public policy associated with the production of these documents. While there exists no basis for the extension of privilege to protect the documents, as outlined above, there does exist an established and stated policy to bring this file to light. The Federal Bureau of Investigation is currently funding and pursuing a Civil Rights-Era Cold Case initiative. See, www.fbi.gov/page2/mar10/coldcase_030210.html. The stated purpose of this initiative, which is now in its fifth year under Director Robert Mueller, is "to do everything we can to close those cases and to close this dark chapter in our nation's history." Id. This policy is coupled with the FBI's Core Values, recited on the agency's webpage, which include both "respect for the dignity of all those we protect" and "accountability by accepting responsibility for our actions and decisions and the consequences of our actions and decisions." Neither the sought after respect nor accountability can occur without transparency.

It should be noted in light of these stated goals, the sole source of documentation in this case regarding the corruption of defense counsel, Clayton Lewis, comes from a local newspaper reporter. How he obtained sealed FBI documents remains a mystery. If, as stated, the Attorney General does not have these documents, then one is left to assume that the reporter's source of information can only be from within a leak at the FBI. That alone should warrant full disclosure now, to put an end to the slow leak of information and litigation that will otherwise occur over the years.

Conclusion

Though Petitioner maintains that the subpoena is valid and should be enforced, the more substantive issue is whether the FBI can continue to hide behind the application of capricious regulations in not disclosing a file long-since closed. Those regulations, in fact, permit disclosure as does the public policy of accountability. Most importantly, the Government violated the Constitutional principles iterated in Brady when it failed to produce and disclose the FBI's comprehensive file on this matter. That violation can now be mitigated.
